

JALBERT AGAIN

KILLED HIMSELF

VIGOROUS PROTEST

FULL REVOLUTION

He is Charged With Larceny of a Watch

Napoleon Jalbert, a Moody street jeweler and watch repairer, was arrested last night by Patrolman Samuel Bigelow on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a watch, the property of Vernon A. French, the claim being that the watch was taken to Jalbert's to be repaired and later sold by Mr. Jalbert.

The arrest of Jalbert recalls an incident which occurred a couple of months ago when upon complaint of Jalbert, Mayor Brown started an investigation of the police department for the purpose of showing up alleged lax methods in the detection of crime, but the investigation proved to be a very short one for it came to an abrupt ending when the mayor learned that the police were attending strictly to duty.

A woman brought a watch to Jalbert's store to be repaired and later when she called for it found that the watch had either been sold or given by mistake to a person other than its owner. Jalbert reported the matter to the police and claimed that a young

Man Was to Be Tried for Larceny

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 12.—On the eve of his present trial on the charge of stealing from county funds which was scheduled to open in Cooperstown today and as a tragic climax of the investigation of the county affairs in Broom county which began in 1907, Arthur Back, former clerk of the Broom county board of supervisors, former custodian of county buildings and former chairman of the Broom county republican committee, committed suicide early today by shooting himself through the head.

The suicide occurred shortly after seven thirty o'clock this morning, but the body was not found until two hours later, when a clerk in Mr. Back's office found the dead man sitting at a table clutching a revolver. Two shots were fired, one through a pane of glass, presumably to see if the revolver was in working condition and the second through the back of the head.

While the shots were heard in the building they attracted no attention, and Mr. Back was supposed to be on his way to Cooperstown, having announced last night that he would leave at 4 a. m. today.

The suicide closes a long series of official investigations of Broom county good roads affairs by state and county officials which until lately resulted in the returning of twenty-one indictments, the resignation of Mr. Back from his office of clerk of the board of supervisors, custodian of county buildings and chairman of the Broom county republican committee, the resignation of County Treasurer King and the resignation of Jasper Smith as county commissioner of poor.

Only one of the series of cases has been tried and the second was scheduled to begin in Cooperstown today. The first trial on a charge of misappropriation of $55 of county funds took place in January and February, 1908, and resulted in the conviction of the defendant.

Mr. Back was sentenced to Auburn prison for a term of not more than one year, but for less than one year. The granting of a certificate of reasonable doubt by Justice Clark served as a stay of sentence and the appeal is still pending before the appellate division.

Mr. Back had announced that he would conduct his own defense at the second trial.

Against Granting a Liquor License at Davis Square

The board of police this morning gave a hearing to property owners and residents of Davis square and vicinity who remonstrated against the granting of a first and fourth class liquor license to Frederick W. and William H. Barrows, of the firm of F. W. Barrows & Co., at 1042 Central and 612 and 614 Gorham streets.

The principal remonstrants were ex-Mayor George H. Runnels and his son, Charles Runnels, while on the other hand a number of property owners and business men in the square appeared in favor of granting the license.

Mr. Barrows has a saloon located at the corner of Chambers and Gorham streets at the present time, but owing to the fact that this place is in an unsuitable condition and is only leased by him and that the building where he has applied for license this year is a new and up-to-date building and owned by him, he desires to locate his business in his own building.

The hearing was opened at 10.30 o'clock and the first remonstrant called upon was Hon. George H. Runnels who in opening stated that he had nothing against the parties applying for it, but felt that the location of a liquor saloon in the square would be a detriment to property and the tenants and that it would result in a poorer class of tenants locating there. Continuing he said: "I have paid out a good deal of money in any way or another in order to improve the square and keep it from becoming a disreputable place. A saloon is always a disadvantage and causes a deterioration in the character of the tenants. I do not think that a saloon in that vicinity is a necessity."

On cross-examination Mr. Runnels acknowledged that the building in question, which was recently erected, is an improvement on the building which formerly occupied that site. He said that his principal reason for objecting to the granting of a license to Mr. Barrows was that it would injure him financially. He felt that a law should be passed whereby no licenses be granted at all.

Charles Wheeler, granite and marble dealer, with a place of business in the square, said that the location of a saloon in the square would be an injury to the locality and would reduce the value of property.

"You do not believe in licensed places in back streets and back ways," asked Commissioner Hanson.

"Yes, if they have to be granted," answered Mr. Wheeler.

Miss Mary J. Brown, who resides in the vicinity, stated that she had lived in the square all of her life, and objected to the granting of a license in the square on general principles. She said she had no objection to Mr. Barrows, adding that he was all right. In answer to a question she admitted that a saloon in the square would be an injury to the locality, she felt it was her duty to protest against the granting of a liquor license in that locality.

Charles Runnels said that his father had explained the objection in a general way, stating that there is no personal animus in the objections. A license in that square, said, would be objectionable in many ways, one of them being that a license cannot control his customers just on or after leaving a saloon, and that that meant the lounging around of drunken persons, whose presence in that vicinity would be objectionable to men and especially women and children. He said that a saloon in the square would be an injury to the locality, and that the commissioners should protect the rights of the property owners and residents of that locality.

Mr. Runnels admitted that by objecting he sought to prevent an injury to his property. He said that he was opposed to the granting of it because he never voted in favor of license.

Speaking of the improvement of the Barrows property he said that it is a detriment to make any business, which is as deteriorating as the liquor business, attractive. He also said that he would shoulder the responsibility of having circulated the petition.

Answered for Mr. Barrows brought out the fact that the numerous business men in Davis square who had seen the petition but few had signed it. At this point the hearing on the part of the remonstrants was declared closed.

Mr. Frederick W. Barrows, one of the applicants for the license in Davis square, said: "While I am a total abstemious, I believe in granting liquor licenses to a community. As to the neighborhood in question I might state that I was born and brought up in the vicinity of Davis square and there are very few people in that locality whom I do not know. When I heard that there was a remonstrance against the granting of this license, and that a number of the business men and residents in the vicinity of Davis square and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that it would be a great help in securing the square, I have a great deal of money invested in the building which I wish to locate and my present location is very poor, the building is in poor repair and a person entering the place is just as liable as not to be pressed through the door into the ceiling. If I am granted a license where I now applied the place will be more pure, more sanitary and better from every standpoint."

Answered for Mr. Barrows read a letter from Frank Blanchard, a restaurant owner in the square and a tenant of Mrs. Freeman, who appeared as a remonstrant. Mr. Blanchard was in favor of the granting of the license. A letter from John J. Flynn, favoring the granting of the application was also read. A letter from Marion and George McDevitt, property owners in the vicinity.

John P. Brady, a property owner, said that he did not think the saloon

Stores Closed and Wild Panic Prevails — Government Troops Called Out to Cope With the Insurgents — A Committee of Union and Progress Attempts to Assume Absolute Power

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—Serious disturbances of a revolutionary character have broken out here. The situation is grave. The mutinous troops are demonstrating against the building of parliament.

Panic has seized the people of Constantinople and all through the city shops are being hurriedly closed.

The present grand vizier of Turkey is Hilmi Pasha. He was appointed to this office, Feb. 14, in succession to Kaimil Pasha. Hilmi Pasha was formerly minister of the interior and before holding this office he served as inspector general of Macedonia. All Kaimil Pasha is Hilmi's minister of war. He holds also the marine portfolio and is grand master of artillery. These and the other changes in the cabinet took place in February, 1908, when the absolute control of the political situation by the Young Turks party of committee of union and progress which virtually imposed on the sultan a ministry of its own nominees.

The committee on Feb. 14 publicly repudiated any intention to overthrow the sultan or install a military dictatorship but the crisis and its outcome was then regarded as not promising well for the stability of the throne or the success of the parliamentary government. It has been a question how the moderate elements of the empire would regard this assumption of absolute power by an irresponsible committee.

The committee of union and progress consistently opposed Kaimil Pasha, Hilmi Pasha's predecessor. It suspected him of being too conservative of palace influences and it complained of his slowness in conducting the negotiations with Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria. On April 5 Kaimil Pasha issued a statement in which he denounced the committee on union and progress to whose machinations he attributed the vote of censure in the Turkish parliament and the consequent downfall of his cabinet. The irrepressible interference of this committee, Kaimil Pasha declared, had neutralized the efforts of the government and if permitted to continue would seriously endanger the future of the country.

Violent demonstrations followed the killing of the editor. The grand vizier and the president of the chamber were obliged to bar the crowds outside and assure them that justice would be done. The chamber accepted an interpellation denouncing the crime as a political murder and calling upon the government to take the necessary steps to apprehend the assassins.

GREAT EXCITEMENT.

VIENNA, April 13.—Startling rumors are current here to the effect that Constantinople today is in the throes of a grave revolutionary movement. The information thus far received is meagre but it is reported that several thousand mutinous troops have surrounded the building of parliament and that the whole capital is in a state of dangerous excitement.

LARCENY CHARGED

Young Man Was Arraigned in Police Court Today

Jesse Perry, a young man residing in Ayer City, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a row boat, pair of oars and three bird cages, the property of Charles P. Kappler. He entered a plea of not guilty, but was found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $40.

Mr. Kappler formerly resided at 31 Fruit street, and some few months ago when he moved to East Chelmsford he left a row boat and several bird cages in the cellar of the building in Fruit street. A few days ago Mr. Kappler had occasion to go to the house in Fruit street and finding that the building had been broken into and the boat and cages taken, reported the matter to the police.

Inspector Martin Maher was detailed on the case and after a careful investigation arrested Perry.

Perry was assisted in removing the boat by a young man named Fratus, Perry informing Fratus that the owner of the boat had given it to him when he closed the house.

Tony Fratus, the well known former ball player and brother of the young man who assisted Perry in removing the boat, testified that he saw the boat in Perry's yard and traded a galvanized boat with Perry for it. The first intimation that he had that anything was wrong was when the police inspector stated that the boat belonged to Mr. Kappler.

Perry admitted breaking into the house and said that two of the bird cages were being used by Tommy Little, the expression, while the other one was sold to Richard Maher for 35 cents.

After the testimony had been submitted Judge Hadley stated that "he did not like to send the prisoner to the reformatory, neither did he want to send him to jail and felt that by imposing a heavy fine some of the friends of the prisoner might come to his rescue and at the same time the aim of justice might be attained. He therefore imposed a fine of $40."

Obstructing the Street

Thomas Fitzgerald and Rodrick Turgeon were arrested last night by Patrolman Samuel Bigelow for obstructing the street. It is alleged that a number of young men have been in the habit of "hanging around" the corner of Suffolk and Merrimack streets, and that they have been obstructing the street. Fitzgerald and Turgeon are not members of the gang who have been loitering about the corner but met there by appointment last night, preparatory to attending a theatre. The cases against them were dismissed.

Neglect of Child

The case of William F. Heald of Carlisle, charged with failing to provide for his minor child, was dismissed.

Drunken Offenders

John H. Dunaway, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

Thomas McGovern, a second offender, was fined $5.

FUNERALS

MILLER.—The funeral of Henry Miller took place yesterday morning from the home of his son, Walter S. Miller, 5 James court. The services were conducted by Rev. Eugene de V. Heald, pastor of the House of Prayer, and a delegation was present from Pilgrim Commandery, 3, Knights Templar. The body was sent to Lacombe, N. H., for burial by George W. Healey.

PINGREE.—Mrs. Viola J. Pingree died yesterday afternoon at her late residence, 198 School street, at the age of 54 years. She had been a patient sufferer for the past 10 weeks and bore her illness with great fortitude. She was a member of Mount Vernon Free Baptist church. She leaves besides her husband, Herbert W. Pingree, one son, Carl, three daughters, Lena and Ethel and Mrs. John Slater, all of this city; her mother, five sisters and one brother.

REARDON.—The funeral of Miss Ellen Reardon took place this morning from the home of Miss Mary A. Creighton, 435 Broadway, and was largely attended by friends and relatives. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Patrick's church. Rev. Fr. Callahan officiated and the choir under the direction of Mr. Michael Johnson sang the Gregorian mass. As the body was being borne from the church the choir sang "De Profundis." The bearers were James Sullivan, Daniel Regan, James Whelan, Cornelius Coughlin, Thomas Osborn and Henry Loughlin. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Callahan read the communal prayers. Undertaker Peter H. Savage in charge.

DEATHS

ROGERS.—The many friends of Mrs. Bridget Rogers, aged 42 years, wife of Michael Rogers, will be pained to hear of her death, which occurred at her home, 22 Fay street, last night, after an illness of one week. She leaves to mourn her loss, besides her husband, five sons, Frank, Edward, George, William and Thomas; one daughter, Louise; one brother, James Gaffney; two uncles, Michael and Thomas Rowe, of this city.

POLICE BOARD

Another Session of Dry Reading

The seventh session of the police board hearing opened at 10.10 this forenoon in the council chamber at city hall. The respondents were not present. No spectators.

Council for prosecution proceeded to read reports of observations of officers at hotels in January 1909. It was noted that to the Sunday menu, of which the sandwich was the place de resistance, there was added on the opening month of the current year, in at least one hotel, a new morsel—shrimp salad. While it is barely possible that counsel for the prosecution will finish with the reading of the "observations of officers" today, there will still remain an avalanche of reports—card reports, reports of superior officers, reports of hotel hearings and the report of the Hersey case, so that if the prosecution continues to read, without variation, the "dry bones" process will occupy the greater part of the week.

A slight departure from the usual routine which counsel for the prosecution asked Clerk Flaherty to read the report of a meeting of the police board on Jan. 5, or that portion of the report having to do with a discussion relative to what was said in Mayor Brown's inaugural pertaining to the police department.

At the report said was that what the mayor had said had been discussed and that the matter had been postponed for further consideration. The records, however, did not show that the matter had been taken up again.

After a recess of ten minutes one of the reports that had been read was taken up, and the following comment on the face of the report said to have been written by the chairman of the board was read: "A satisfactory improvement."

Mr. Bent objected to the comment being admitted, contending that it was no part of the record or report but a minute made by the chairman.

Counsel for prosecution said he wanted it admitted because that fact he would argue that the comment of "satisfactory improvement" showed that when the chairman noted an improvement it necessarily meant that conditions had been bad.

The comment was admitted. Mr. Bent saving exception and having noted in the records that the words "satisfactory improvement" were written in lead pencil.

The notice of the police board to the hotel keepers instructing them to serve drink with food on Sundays only in regular dining rooms and to such persons as any reasonable person would be satisfied to receive there for food. The date of the communication was Jan. 11, 1909.

The reports of the officers' observations after this order had been issued and put into effect showed that the hotels were practically down and out. Almost every report read "dining room vacant."

Two reports had to do with investigation of the Hersey case.

Attend Meeting of Commercial Organizations

President Smith, Chairman James O'Sullivan of the committee on transportation and Sec. McKenna, of the board of trade, went to Boston today to attend a meeting of representatives of all the commercial organizations of New England, at the chamber of commerce, to protest against the abandoning the differentials by the trunk lines and for the purpose of discussing means of improving transportation in New England.

FUNERAL NOTICES

LAVERIE.—The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary J. Laverie will take place tomorrow morning at 8.30 from her home, 238 Pine street, and at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem will be held at St. Peter's church. Undertakers J. E. O'Donnell & Sons.

CONTROL TRANSFERRED

ST. LOUIS, April 12.—Control of St. Louis university, which for ninety years has resided in the Jesuit order, was transferred last night to an advisory board of laymen, many of whom are not Catholics. This change in the policy of the university, which has 1909 students, is the first move of its nature in the history of Jesuit educational institutions in the United States.

GOV. LILLEY GAINING

HARTFORD, April 12.—Gov. Lilley continues to gain in strength and the family are greatly encouraged. Executive Secretary Gov. Lilley issued this morning bulletin at 11 o'clock and it was to the effect that the governor had passed a splendid night. He is stronger than at any time since last Thursday.

CHILD STEALING

CHARGED AGAINST MR. AND MRS. BOYLE

CLEVELAND, O., April 13.—An additional indictment charging child-stealing was reported today against J. P. Boyle and Mrs. Boyle, who are under arrest at Mercer, Pa., on the charge of kidnapping Willie Whittle of Sharon.

Miss Ida Mongrain, organist at St. Louis' church; Joseph A. Bernard, organist at St. Joseph's; Arthur J. Martel, organist at St. Jean Baptiste's; and Albert Luchman, who plays the organ at the Amesbury church, will attend the fourth semi-annual convention of the French-American organists' association at Holyoke, next Thursday.

NEARLY PERISHED

SCOWMAN HUNG IN A BOTTOM LESS HULL

NEW YORK, April 13.—Capt. Nelson of the harbor inspector's tug Cerberus while coming in from sea late on Sunday night overhauled a string of self-dumping scows bound in, flying light, with their bottoms open getting a cleaving from the sea water through which they were being towed by the tug Eugene Moran. When abreast of the last scow of the three in the tow he heard a man yelling from the inside of the scow.

Some of the Cerberus' crew went aboard the scow after the tug had made fast alongside and found the scowman, Angelo Romarti, an Italian who speaks little English, clinging to a chain in the water beside the slippery bottoms. He could not climb up the steep incline to which he was nearest because it was too slippery, and so he just yelled. He had been yelling half an hour before he was heard. A loop of rope was lowered to him and he put it around his body and was hoisted up and taken aboard the Cerberus, too exhausted to stand.

He said he had been hit by a scow that touched the scow and knocked into the bottomless hull. He grabbed a chain and could not get a footing and so began to yell. The other scowman on the boats ahead were too far away to hear him. He was taken to the Smith infirmary at Staten Island. He will be well enough to go home today.

MRS. CLAUDIA HAINS EASTER MONDAY BALL

Has Agreed to Testify Against Her Husband

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mrs. Claudia Hains will be a witness against her husband, Captain Peter C. Hains, when he is placed on trial in the case of William E. Annis at the Bay-side Yacht club, Her mother, Mrs. Charles Libby, of Boston, will also be a witness.

District Attorney Frederick G. De Witt, who will prosecute the young army officer, announced this yesterday upon his return from Boston, where he interviewed Mrs. Hains and her mother.

"I talked to the women for two hours in the presence of their attorneys, and they consented, but to come down here next week ready to take the witness stand whenever I chose to call them," Mr. De Witt said. "I cannot say what they will be called upon to testify."

Mr. De Witt admitted that Mrs. Hains said she was eager to secure her divorce from the captain, and therefore declined to come here until she was assured that she would not be asked anything which might jeopardize her chances of getting the divorce.

The defense undoubtedly will endeavor to show Mrs. Hains' relations with Annis, the victim, but, of course, it will not be allowed to inquire into any subjects which are not laid open in the state's direct examination.

Mrs. Hains will not be allowed by the law, however, to testify anything that might put her husband's life in jeopardy. A wife may not do that. There are many interesting things she might tell as to the alleged confession she made about her marriage relations with Annis, but it is not believed likely that she will voluntarily go into that.

Mr. De Witt, as a matter of fact, does not know what he will ask her, he said yesterday. His trip to Boston chiefly was for the purpose of finding out if he could get her here in case he needed her.

The young woman appeared most eager to recover custody of her children, the district attorney said. They are at present in charge of General and Mrs. Hains, Captain Hains' parents.

Mr. De Witt was very busy yesterday preparing for the case. He consulted with great number of witnesses among them nearly all of those who were called in the trial which resulted in Thornton Jenkins Hains, the captain's brother, being found not guilty of complicity in the killing of Annis.

The county officials were busy too. A special panel of 150 jessmen was drawn. In addition to the usual 48. Curiously, one of the names drawn was that of Thomas Walsh, of Astoria, who was juror No. 3 in the Thornton Jenkins Hains' trial. He probably will be excused from duty. Also, two brothers-in-law of Alexander Jarline, the Indian, who was juror No. 7 in the previous trial, were drawn. They are Frank and Otto Gropper.

Mr. De Witt will be aided in his prosecution by Assistant District Attorney John Hetherington and by a special attorney to be engaged by the county. Despite the failure to convict Thornton Hains, every effort will be made to send the captain to the chair.

Annual Affair Conducted by the Mathews a Grand Success

The Easter Monday concert and ball, which annually marks the opening of the post-Lenten social season and is one of the successes of the year, was held last night in Associate hall under the auspices of the Mathews Temperance Institute. The hall was a bower of greenery and artistic decorations, the music was of the general high order and the attendance very large.

The ball is in many respects a grand reunion, for once a person attends one of the affairs conducted by the Mathews he is sure to attend each succeeding one.

The committee in charge of the general arrangements spared neither money nor pains in an attempt to make last night's party the stellar event of the social circle of Lowell.

The interior of the hall was very artistically and attractively decorated, the predominant colors being green and white, while every corner added to the general beauty of the surroundings.

The stage presented a very pretty spectacle. The background was of white with the sides, bottom and top of the front were hidden from view by graceful folds of green and white bunting. The orchestra occupied a position behind a bank of greenery, while about the windows were lace curtains caught up in waving folds.

The front of the gallery and stairs leading from the floor to the gallery were dressed in soft colored bunting, while streamers of alternate colors caught in a graceful cluster over the chandelier in the center of the hall were strung to all parts of the gallery.

During the early part of the evening an excellently rendered concert program was given out by Kittredge's orchestra, Stephen Perry leader. The first number on the program was "Ideal," by D. W. Reeves, which was followed by a serenade duet for violin and flute by A. E. Hill, after which the following numbers were heard:

Irish Overture—"Sons of Erin," F. Beyer.
Piccolo Solo—Selected.
Overture—"Easter Morn."
Finale—"The Aviator," Paul A. Sullivan.

The feature of the evening, however, was the grand march led by Timothy J. Sullivan, floor director, and Miss Catherine Corey. Miss Corey was attractively attired in white silk with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of red roses. They were followed by McGuire, the latter wearing black and carrying lilacs.

Among the others who participated in the march were: Mayor George H. Brown and Mrs. Helen Holden; Mr. and Mrs. James J. Gallagher; George R. O'Neill and Miss Anna M. O'Neill; William J. Gargan and Miss Alice Bowman; Dennis J. Sullivan and Miss Gertrude Donoghue; M. J. Boyle and Miss Eva Landry; Dr. Napoleon Provencher and Miss Catherine Rowe; Joseph A. Cassidy and Miss Catherine V. Usher; W. C. MacBrayne and Miss Catherine Donoghue; Frank J. Collins.

With warmer weather comes the awakening of bugs that have lain dormant during the winter. This never happens where Howard's Dead Easy is in use. When housecleaning sprays it in corners, about edges of carpets, in closets or chests where you store woollen or furs, in fact on anything susceptible to moths or other insects, and your goods are safe. Will not stain or injure any fabric. Leaves no unpleasant odor. In sprinker-top bottles, 25c. At drug stores or of the maker, Howard, the druggist, 137 Central St.

and Miss Elizabeth Donoghue; Joseph McVey and Miss Millie E. McMahon; Patrick J. Fitzgerald and Miss Helena A. Cullen; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Emley; Thomas F. Glynn and Miss Pearl M. Brady; James M. Fagan and Miss Alice M. Dillon; George Brigham and Miss Alice Cox; James P. Riley and Miss Katherine P. Smith; John L. McDonough and Miss Mary Hammersley; and many others.

At the conclusion of the march general dancing was commenced and continued till midnight with an intermission for supper which was served at the Merrimack hotel.

The success of the affair was due to the zealous and untiring work of the following efficient officers:

Sketch of Society
Beautiful souvenirs containing the photographs of the officers of the party as well as a short history of the institute, were distributed during the evening. The sketch of the institute was as follows:

During the past 25 or 30 years a large number of societies (fraternal, benevolent, temperance, literary and social) have been organized in the city of Lowell. Some have flourished for a time, others have died, but the Mathews Temperance Institute, in the face of many discouragements, attained success beyond the fondest hopes of its projectors.

Among the societies which may be classed under the latter head may be mentioned the subject of this sketch, the Mathews Temperance Institute.

In the fall of 1881 a number of young men, most of whom were engaged in the various mills of the city, observing with dismay the prevalence and growth of drinking habits among the people, and recognizing the imperative need of a temperance society which should be conducted upon somewhat different plans than were the societies at the time existing, determined to found a society which should be attractive to the young. Accordingly a few of the young men principally interested in the matter, most prominent among whom were Florence J. O'Donoghue and P. F. Sullivan, extended invitations to have in the hall to meet at the hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic union, in Urban block, on the first Sunday in January, 1882.

In response to those invitations about forty young men assembled and then they organized the Mathews Temperance Institute.

The first officers elected were: President, Florence J. O'Donoghue; vice president, Patrick H. Ryan; recording secretary, Patrick H. Gray; financial secretary, Cornelius F. Hart; treasurer, Martin J. Courtney.

The society engaged a small room in Urban hall, which was used at first only as a reading and recreation room, their business meetings being held in the hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic union. In the spring of 1884, the society had grown to such an extent that larger rooms were imperatively needed, and a hall was secured in Wyman's block, to which the society removed. Their good fortune followed them to their new quarters, and in the fall of 1884 they required a still larger hall to accommodate their largely increased membership. The firm of Cook & Taylor had just erected an elegant block on Central street, and the society was fortunate enough to secure the upper floor, consisting of two anterooms and a large hall for their purposes, and thence they removed January 1, 1885. Here the society had room to expand and develop, and before the close of 1885 they numbered over 400 members in good standing.

The detail of the work performed by the society during its existence would be impossible within the limited space herein afforded. Suffice it to say that no public demonstration is considered complete without the presence of the Mathews Temperance Institute. While laboring earnestly for the objects for which they were organized, they have taken a lively interest in everything which was proposed for the benefit of the Catholic people of the city. Nor have their efforts even in temperance work been confined selfishly to themselves. In the Arch-Diocese of Boston their influence has been felt, their advice asked, their assistance welcomed, and their example followed. At home and in the immediate vicinity they have assisted in organizing various temperance societies, two of which own their own halls and are a credit to themselves and a source of pride to their fellow-citizens. In addition to the temperance work carried on by all temperance societies, the Mathews Temperance Institute has laid special stress upon the literary improvement of its members.

The presidents of the society since its organization have been: Florence J. O'Donoghue, 1882 (deceased); James H. Morison, 1882; P. F. Sullivan, 1882; Michael J. Dowd, 1884-85; Lawrence Cummings, 1885; Cornelius F. Callahan, 1886; Edward F. Slattery, 1887; John J. Lomenago, 1888; James J. Quinn, 1888 (deceased); Michael J. Dowd, 1889; Michael J. Lynch, 1890; John J. Fallon, 1891; John H. McAlloon, 1891-92; James J. Quinn, 1892; Michael J. Manning, 1892; Walter V. Hickey, 1894; Daniel F. Reilly, 1895; William F. Thornton, 1896; J. F. Burns, 1896; John J. Gallagher, 1897-98; John A. McKenna, 1899; John J. Lyons, 1900-1901; John J. Murphy, 1901-2; Thomas H. Gallagher, 1902; Humphrey F. Sullivan, 1903; George L. Hunt, 1904; John V. Donoghue, 1905-6; Michael P. Lawn, 1906-7; John J. Coyne, 1908; James J. Gallagher, present president.

The first spiritual director of the society was Rev. Thomas F. McManus, who was succeeded by Rev. W. George Mullin, the present spiritual director, and very much of the progress of the organization can be traced to their paternal advice and kindly interest in its affairs.

In the year 1888 the idea of a building fund was broached and favorably received, and in the fall of that year the first bazaar was held for that purpose, and in 1891 another grand bazaar was held to help out the building fund.

In the summer of 1905 ground was broken in preparation for their new and magnificent building which stands on Dutton street at a cost of nearly $20,000.

The grand opening of the new building took place on January 1, 1905, by the arrival of seasons, to help defray the expenses of the erection of the society's building. The erection of its large hall and beautiful reception rooms, has been the scene of many delightful social functions. The hall is now used as a moving picture house, which is conducted by the society.

NOTES OF THE BALL
Quite a few former presidents of the society enjoyed the pleasures of the evening.

Work Weakens the Kidneys
Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Lowell.

Most Lowell people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching, stooping, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in back bones. Lowell cures prove it.

Peter Carpenter, living at 7 Rockdale avenue, Lowell, Mass., says: "My work necessitates a great deal of heavy lifting and this, together with a fall I received a short time ago, affected my kidneys. My back became very lame and ached for days at a time. I used everything I thought might bring me relief but to no avail. As my kidneys were not doing their work in a proper manner I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box from Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. They soon banished the back-ache and I have had no trouble from that source since. My kidneys have also been kept in good condition and feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

STOMACH TROUBLE NEARLY KILLED A MICHIGAN WOMAN

Mrs. John Lease, a Highly Respected Woman of Eaton Rapids Tells of Terrible Suffering. She says:

"To say that my life was saved after I had used Mi-o-na is not putting the matter too strongly, as the doctors pronounced my case cancer of the stomach and when I commenced using Mi-o-na I was bad off and too weak to last long."

Stomach complaint bothered me for over seven years, the cramps and pains were terrible, and were more acute in the forenoon, my digestive organs did not properly digest my food, and I received 1 pound weak, languid and very nervous, and used to tremble and shake like an aspen leaf. This nervousness ran me down speedily. At times the gas would make a pressure on my heart and I would think my hours were numbered. The doctors tried for very best physicians but there seemed to be no help for me and they thought that I had a cancer of the stomach, and that it was only a matter of short duration before I would be no more."

Stomach distress, belching, wind on stomach, sour stomach, coated tongue and biliousness are quickly banished with Mi-o-na is used.

I used about three boxes of Mi-o-na and there was scarcely any of the trouble left.

It is nearly two years, and there has not been any return of the disease, worth notice, and for this reason I give this statement and say that Mi-o-na is a reliable cure for stomach trouble, and also cancer of the stomach if I had cancer as the doctors said I had. October 27, 1908.

CAPTAIN COOK

Wants to Discover Trail of Mackerel

GLOUCESTER, April 13.—Captain Jerry Cook as government expert has sailed from here aboard the United States fish commission schooner Grampus, Captain Hanson, on a voyage of exploration. The vessel will be gone eight months and Captain Cook hopes to discover the trail of mackerel from the time they strike in on the southern grounds off Cape Hatteras to the time they disappear somewhere after passing up the gulf of St. Lawrence in the early fall, and to keep track of them for the entire season.

Captain Cook who is an experienced mackerel fisher, has had much correspondence with the bureau of fisheries at Washington relative to his undertaking, and he has also conferred with all the big mackerel catchers here to get their views on the work.

The department is desirous of having anyone interested in the work receive by telegram such information of value as Captain Cook may have when ever the Grampus makes a port.

Carter & Sherburne Successful.
After a great deal of effort and correspondence Carter & Sherburne, the popular druggists, have succeeded in getting the Dr. Howard Co. to make a special half-price introductory offer on the regular fifty cent size of their celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia.

Dr. Howard's specific has been so remarkably successful in curing constipation, dyspepsia and all liver troubles, that Carter & Sherburne are willing to return the price paid in every case where it does not give relief.

Headaches, coated tongue, dizziness, gas on stomach, spots before the eyes, constipation, and all forms of liver and stomach trouble are soon cured by this scientific medicine.

So great is the demand for this specific that Carter & Sherburne have been able to secure only a limited supply, and every one who is troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or liver trouble should call upon them at once, or send 25 cents, and get sixty doses of the best medicine ever made, on this special half price offer with their personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

LAWYER MISSING POLICE SHOT BOY

Was Executor of Estate Who Ran From Supposed Murder

PORT JERVIS, April 12.—William A. Parsell, one of the leaders of the bar, political life and society in Orange county, is missing from his home in this city. He has been away since last Tuesday, and fear is felt for his welfare.

Yesterday he was to have appeared before Surrogate Swenize in Goshen, the county seat, to give an accounting of a $30,000 estate, which was in his hands for settlement. But he did not go to the surrogate's court and it was learned from his family that his whereabouts were not known.

The Counting estate is the one in question. There was an action by various heirs over a bequest of several thousand dollars to a Miss Elliott of Rutherford, N. J. Besides this, Parsell is executor for other estates, among them those of the late Gordon Adams and the late Hill Coyle of this city, both of whom left comfortable fortunes.

All sorts of wild rumors, most of which were found to be untrue, followed the news of the attorney's absence yesterday. One was that he had committed suicide in the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York.

The members of his family are shocked by his vanishment and the absence of news from him. His wife is a daughter of Louis Senger, former mayor of this city.

INJURED HIS BACK
Joseph Corfa sustained an injury to his back yesterday afternoon while at work at the Appleton mill. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

The police have been notified that sneak thieves are trying to operate in this city and housekeepers had better be careful to have the doors of their houses locked during the day.

That some of the thieves have designs on the residence of Alfred D. Ware at 37 Fort Hill avenue is apparent for when Mr. Ware went home yesterday he found indications that led him to believe that a wax or soap impression had been taken of the lock on his front door.

He immediately notified the police and the patrolmen have been notified to be on the alert and keep their eyes on strangers.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun, Mr. Ware stated that several suspicious characters have been seen about the vicinity of Fort Hill avenue during the past few days.

Heavy Stone Fell on Rolla Carlin

Rolla Carlin, a well known resident of Tyngsboro, met with a bad accident while at work loading stone for his brother, Percy Carlin, at the railroad stone landing near Malloney's quarry, yesterday.

One of James Wotton's horses was being used and as it was being driven away the axle of the wagon struck a larger edgestone, causing it to topple over, pinning down Mr. Carlin, who was standing beside the wagon, by the lower limbs.

The stone was removed and Mr. Carlin was removed to his home and Dr. Lambert of Tyngsboro was summoned. It was found that one leg was broken and the other badly crushed.

Scenes Where Roosevelt Will Hunt

LONDON, April 12.—The sporting goods house in London that furnished the camp equipment for Theodore Roosevelt's hunting trip in Africa has received a cable from Mombasa saying that the outfit arrived there safely. Colonel Roosevelt and his party are scheduled to reach Mombasa on April 21. R. J. Cunningham, the expert hunter, who is making the arrangements for the hunt, has engaged porters and has everything in readiness for the arrival of the party. Colonel Roosevelt will go at once to Nairobi, 327 miles up the Uganda railroad from Mombasa. Nairobi will be the base of supplies for the hunt. In that part of Africa there are two rainy seasons, one in the early spring and the other in the late fall. It is the intention of the Roosevelt party to hunt during the dry season of the summer and fall, proceeding to Port Florence in October. These pictures show the station at Nairobi, where the hunters will enter the jungle; a scene in Mombasa, and an American built bridge on the Uganda railroad.

BOSTON COLLEGE SENATE REPORT

To be Made a Great University

BOSTON, April 12.—At Boston college yesterday the board of trustees have been considering the plans submitted for designs of the new group of buildings to be erected on the new Boston college grounds in Newton, announced the winners.

There were 12 plans entered, and three prizes were awarded as follows: First prize of $1000, awarded to Maginnis & Walsh of Boston for the best general plan of the group of buildings and arrangement of the land. Second prize of $500 for the second best plan of general group, awarded to Edward T. P. Graham of Cambridge. Third prize, awarded to Maginnis & Walsh for the best design of the teaching building, the first that will be erected. For this design the winning firm will be allowed to erect the building.

The judges were Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Gasson, S. J., president of the college; Rev. David W. Hean, S. J., the presiding officer; Joseph T. Keating, S. J., Treasurer; Rev. J. Havens Richard, S. J., Arthur A. Shurtleff, landscape architect; Charles W. Louze builder and William D. Austin, architect.

Work on the first building will be started this summer. A great graduation party similar to that held last summer will probably mark the beginning of the work of excavation.

The first building is expected to be finished by September, 1910, and the freshman class of that year will enter there.

The plan is to make of Boston college a great Catholic university, and the plans call for a group of 15 buildings, arranged to make one of the most perfect and classic groups of college buildings in America.

LAWRENCE MAYOR

Again Tried to Remove Inspector

LAWRENCE, April 12.—Mayor White vetoed the order to pave Essex street with wooden blocks last night and was sustained unanimously by the aldermen, who then passed an order to pave the street with granite blocks laid in cement. The order will go to the common council for concurring action.

The mayor appointed Charles S. Hall chief enforcer of the fire department to succeed Charles A. Butler, but the aldermen failed to confirm the appointment.

Three more attempts were made to oust Building Inspector L. J. Carey. Mayor White appointed George A. Olin and the aldermen confirmed the appointment. The common council, however, failed to confirm. The mayor appointed Michael S. O'Brien. He was confirmed by the aldermen, but rejected in the common council. The mayor then appointed Jeremiah T. Harrigan, who was also confirmed by the aldermen, but was not confirmed in the lower chamber.

BOTH RESCUED

BLIND MAN AND AGED WOMAN WERE IN DANGER

BOSTON, April 12.—The lives of more than a dozen persons were endangered by a fire in the dwelling, 102 1/2 West 12th street, shortly before 12 o'clock yesterday morning and a goodly rescue party was made by John Donnelly, aged 17, who, after assisting his blind father to safety, returned and aided the remainder of the family to escape, and by James Wilder, who with much difficulty got his aged mother to the street.

The fire started from some unknown cause in a restaurant on the ground floor and ate its way through the ceiling to the Donnelly tenement on the floor above. The damage is estimated at between $500 and $1000. The restaurant is owned by Peter Nikasian.

Misery From Upset Stomach and Dyspepsia Will Vanish

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and Stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pape's Diapieslin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from Stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these 50 cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangle after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a hearty, healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and liver are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Bilioussness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapieslin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranks about the splendid stomach prescription, too, if you ever have Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapieslin.

FRAUD CHARGED

John J. Purtell Placed Under Arrest

BOSTON, April 13.—John J. Purtell of J. J. Purtell & Co., customhouse brokers, at 131 State st., was yesterday arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hayes on the charge of defrauding the government out of several thousand dollars in import duties. He pleaded not guilty and a hearing was fixed for April 26. Bail was fixed at $2000, and being unable to secure it he was committed to the Charles street jail.

Purtell's operations are alleged to cover a period of two or three years, during which it is claimed that while collecting the full amounts of duty upon the true value of shipments from the consignees he presented bogus papers of the entries at the customhouse, misrepresenting the quantity of the invoices as well as falsely stating the points of shipment or export from the shore side.

Collector Lyman had been suspicious for some time and after an investigation brought the matter to the attention of U. S. Dist. Atty. French, who deputed Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Garland on the case. The latter secured a judgment for $520.97 through the U. S. circuit court and afterward procured a warrant from Commissioner Hayes for the arrest of Purtell. Deputy U. S. Marshall James Ruhl was unable to find Purtell yesterday. Purtell is about 35 years old and lives at 10 Oak View terrace, Jamaica Plain.

The silk and cotton schedules are said to be satisfactory on the whole to New England concerns engaged in making those products. The provision for free trade in Philippine tobacco is meeting with considerable criticism among congressmen from southern New England.

"Doctor's Daughter"

Talk on the Stomach

The stomach and digestive organs are many times the cause of some disease which might have been prevented if these organs had performed their natural functions, and the great variety of symptoms which arise from a disordered condition of the stomach and liver, cause many people to think that they have some awful disease, the consequence of which is, that they do nothing for their stomach, but doctor for some other trouble. A poor acting stomach and liver will cause headache, backache, nervous troubles, distress after eating, bloating, sour stomach, heart pressure, insomnia, loss of flesh, constipation and many other disagreeable feelings. If you are suffering of any trouble and your stomach or liver is out of order correct these troubles first, get the benefit of the food you eat, and your other troubles will many times correct themselves. Stomach-Rite, the combined stomach and liver remedy has an unequalled record of many remarkable cures to its credit, and when you need a stomach remedy, when you need a remedy that gives results, not promises, that's Stomach-Rite. One 50 cent box will quickly convince you the true worth of this medicine. There is nothing just as good, insist on Stomach-Rite.

Very truly yours,
DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

New England Full of Rheumatism

We find that New England is full of rheumatism. While most the people in different parts of the country, who call on our representative, have stomach and liver troubles, yet in New England we find that many who call on him, have rheumatism.

Various things cause rheumatism in various people. Here are some of the causes—failure to digest food in the stomach and intestines. The undigested food ferments and putrefies, generating poisons which get into the blood and are deposited at the joints and in the muscles, thus causing the pain which is known as rheumatism. Failure of the liver to secrete enough bile to counteract the effect of indigestion and other disorders. There must be enough bile to keep the system regular, else waste products will accumulate and become poison. Rheumatism is a matter of poison in the system. Failure of the kidneys to act properly. When the kidneys are healthy they remove this poison from the system. There are always a certain number of poisons being created in the system every day and they must be removed every day. The system must be cleansed internally every day just as the body is washed every day or it will become so dirty that disease will arrive. It is the work of the kidneys to so cleanse the system internally. Whenever for any reason or from any cause these poisons are generated in the body and are not removed by the kidneys, rheumatism follows. Rheumatism is first merely twinges of pain, dull aches and rather sharp, piercing pains and stiffness of the joints. As rheumatism advances it is accompanied often by neuralgia, severe backache, dropsy and lameness, muddy complexion, sores that will not heal, sick headaches, extreme nervousness, and other symptoms of a system crying out against the poisons which are hurting it.

Kickapoo Sagwa does three things at a time in connection with rheumatism. It gradually expels the poisons which are causing the rheumatic pains, it cures the indigestion and torpidity of the liver which are causing the poisons to be generated. Thirdly, it builds up and strengthens the digestive organs and the liver, and acts as such a tonic and corrective upon the kidneys, that these three organs are restored to health and activity.

"I have great faith," writes Mrs. Charles A. Golding of 17 Cleveland Ave., Everett, Mass., "in Kickapoo medicine as also did my father. He was in such a position that he could not walk without crutches on account of rheumatism. He took twelve bottles of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and once more felt and was able to act like a young man. In my home I use Kickapoo Oil. It acts quickly and consequently, I always depend upon it. I suffer a great deal with neuralgia and headache, and always find a sure relief in using Kickapoo Oil. My daughter has always suffered from pains in the ankles and elbows to such an extent that she could not sleep at night. Her ankles were swelled to twice their natural size. We had doctors but without relief. Finally, thought of Kickapoo Oil and was surprised to find how soon my child went to sleep. After using two bottles of Kickapoo Oil she was well enough to go skating. I shall always praise Kickapoo Oil and Kickapoo Sagwa, and shall never think of keeping house without it."

Kickapoo Remedies are for sale at all druggists. If you wish to test Sagwa before purchasing, we will gladly send you a free trial bottle by mail.

Opening of Post-Lenten Nuptial Season

Double Wedding in Woodbury St. Last Evening—Many Happy Nuptial Events

Following closely after the triumphant music of the Easter festival, the strains of the nuptial march are heard for the post-Lenten nuptial season opened most auspiciously in Lowell last evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Brodley, 10 Woodbury street, last evening when her two daughters, the Misses Mary E. and Annie V., were united in marriage to Messrs. J. Edward Mullin and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. McElhugh at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church. Both brides were beautifully gowned. Miss Mary wore gray with veiling over tulle and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. Miss Annie wore a gown of champagne colored messaline silk trimmed with folds of silk and lace and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Mullin, and Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Carville. The brides were accompanied by their fathers, Messrs. J. Edward Mullin and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony

KENNEY-CARTER

Mr. Edward Oakes Kenney of Reading and Miss Ruth Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Carter, were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride, 655 Westford street. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. Charles T. Billings of the Unitarian church. Hymns were sung by the choir of the church, and the bride and groom were accompanied by their fathers, Messrs. Edward Oakes Kenney and Charles E. Carter. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Mullin, and Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Carville. The brides were accompanied by their fathers, Messrs. J. Edward Mullin and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride. The guests were seated at tables in the parlor and dining room. The bride and groom were seated at the head of the table. The bridesmaids were seated next to the bride and groom. The brides were accompanied by their fathers, Messrs. J. Edward Mullin and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney are to live in Reading, where a residence has just been built for them.

LORRAIN-VERRIER

The wedding of Mr. George Lorrain and Miss Leola Verrier took place yesterday in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory. Rev. Fr. Amoy, O. M. I., officiated. Mr. Wilfred Lorrain, the bridegroom's father, and Mr. Joseph Verrier, the bride's father, attended the young couple. Mr. John A. Lorrain, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Miss Emma Leonard served as bridesmaid. The bride wore a becoming gown of white tulle with veil and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Mullin, and Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Carville. The brides were accompanied by their fathers, Messrs. J. Edward Mullin and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Verrier will leave today on a wedding trip to New York and Connecticut. They will live at 45 New Fletcher street upon their return.

LAVOIE-COSSETTE

GUILBEAULT-SANTIER

Mr. Medard Guilbeault and Miss Alina Santier were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. Fr. Amoy, O. M. I. Messrs. Alfred and Arthur Guilbeault served as witnesses.

VIDITO-CARVER

Chiefdom M. Vidito, of Natick Falls, Nova Scotia, and Miss Winifred G. Carver of this city were united in marriage Monday at the residence of Rev. A. R. Toothace, 405 Westford street. The bride was Miss Ruby G. Smith of this city and the best man John W. Foster of Lynn, Mass. The young couple received many gifts both beautiful and useful. After a reception at the bride's home, 12 Wachusett street, they left for an extended tour to Maine and Nova Scotia.

LEITH-POTTER

Mr. J. Edward Leith, proprietor of the Crown studio and organist of the Gorham Street Methodist church, was united in marriage with Miss Margaret J. Potter at the Gorham Street Methodist church yesterday afternoon. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Potter, who was attired in pale blue China silk, trimmed with Irish point lace and fashioned in the latest directoire style, and carried pink roses. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. John Potter, who gave her in marriage. She was prettily gowned in a dress of white tulle with veil and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Mullin, and Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Carville. The brides were accompanied by their fathers, Messrs. J. Edward Mullin and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony

The bridegroom's party was led down the opposite aisle by the Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the church, who performed the ceremony, followed by Mr. David R. Caddell and Mr. J. Edgar Colby, brothers-in-law of the bridegroom, as ushers. Mr. J. William Harrison, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and accompanied the bridegroom to the altar, where they met the bride. The single ring ceremony was used.

Mrs. Helen C. Taylor presided at the organ during the ceremony. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Potter, 91 Wood street, where a reception to friends and relatives was held. The ushers at the house and church were Messrs. Fred, Richard W. and Joseph E. Potter, brothers of the bride, and Mr. J. Edgar Colby and Mr. David R. Caddell. A wedding supper was served after the reception. Messrs. Grace Harding, Amy Howard, Miss Phillips, Alice Whelan, Zaidie Mills, Sarah Rowth, Ada Ogley, and Mrs. John S. Newdham, friends of the bride, served.

The matrons were Mrs. James Hawthorn, Mrs. Thomas Gardner, Mrs. Thomas Higginson, Miss Susan Stancombe and Miss Ella Higgins. Numerous guests were present from Waltham, Somerville, Roxbury, East Walpole and East Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Leith were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents, among which was a dining room set from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson and family. The bride and groom were given a pair of gold cuff links.

The couple left on the 9:35 train for a shower of rice and confetti, and a short honeymoon after which they will be at home to friends at their new home, 1939 Central street, Duxbury.

THE POLICE BILL

Meeting Strong Opposition in the House

A bill that is causing much discussion throughout the state and which has a member of the Lowell delegation, Rep. Barlow, as one of its principal opponents, is Senate bill 133 as follows:

An act to extend the jurisdiction of police, district and municipal courts in criminal cases.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives in general court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Section 1.—Police, district and municipal courts, including the municipal court of the city of Boston, shall have original jurisdiction, concurrent with the superior court, of felonies punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, and also of the crimes mentioned in sections 18 and 19 of chapter 203 of the Revised Laws, and they may impose the same penalties as the superior court in like cases, except imprisonment in the state prison.

Section 2.—This act shall take effect on the first day of July in the year nineteen hundred and nine.

This bill was drafted by Warren Spaulding, secretary of the Massachusetts Prison association, an organization for the purpose of assisting released prisoners. It is not an organization of authority, but merely a charitable organization. The bill proposes to give the police jurisdiction over 50 additional offenses that at present are disposed of by the superior court only.

The judges and clerks of the superior court and the probation officers, including Probation Officer James P. Ramsey of this city, are opposed to the bill and it was through Mr. Ramsey that the Boston Record has been informed. It is believed that such a bill would interfere with the present probation system, which in this state and particularly in Middlesex county has been developed to an extent that is attracting the attention and favorable comment of the entire country. In the time between the arrest of a prisoner and the hearing of his case in superior court the probation officer has an opportunity to look into the record and antecedents of the accused with the result that many are taken on probation while others are given a more severe sentence than would be imposed were they sentenced directly in the police court. District Judge John J. Higgins is strongly opposed to the bill.

The bill was reported by the committee on judiciary and passed the senate, and is now before the house. While it has passed the senate there are men who voted for it, not knowing fully its import. Senator Ross, the well known labor leader, voted for the bill, but was not aware of what it meant until informed by Rep. Barlow. Rep. Robert Walker, chairman of the East Cambridge jail, is an opponent of the bill.

ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 13.—The directors of the Florida East Coast railway in annual meeting yesterday elected J. B. Parrott, president, to succeed H. M. He will continue as general manager.

Mr. Parrott was promoted to first vice president, made vacant by the promotion of Mr. Parrott.

J. E. Ingram was promoted to have charge of lands and industries.

ESQUIMAUX BOY

WRITES HE IS ON HIS WAY HOME

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mene, the Esquimaux boy brought here in 1938 from the region of the Humboldt glacier in Greenland, by Commander Peary, who recently disappeared from this city, has written to Chester Bercroft announcing his intention to return to his people.

"When this reaches you," the letter reads, "I will be well on my way as it will not be mailed for three days. Never mind where I am, I am just working north. I am homesick and disgusted and when Commander Peary told me he had no room for me on his ship I lost hope. Then, when Professor Bumpus of the Museum of Natural History refused to give me my father's body so that I could bury it, or give me my sled and gun, I gave up believing that your Christian belief, which you taught me, was meant for a poor Esquimaux boy. After all my own people are more human and kind and I am going home. Your civilization has done nothing but harm for me and my people. Good bye."

100 PASSENGERS THE AERIAL FLIGHTS

Held up as Black Hand Suspects

BOSTON, April 13.—An unusually rigid inspection was made of the second cabin and stowage passengers of the steamer "Comanie," when she made Boston yesterday from Naples, Italy, what the police here are interested in.

Officials detained four stowaways and over 100 passengers, who will be examined as black hand suspects. The officials are not sure that any of those detained are of the criminal class, but all will be closely questioned as to their former lives and their intentions in this country.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—With the open season for aerial flight rapidly approaching, activities will soon begin at Fort Myer. The signal corps of the army which conducted the tests here last year when Lieut. Thomas E. Selfridge was killed in the wreck of the Wright aeroplane, in which Orville Wright was himself seriously injured, is already making preliminary arrangements for the continuation of these tests.

The balloon squad will be transferred from Fort Wood to Fort Myer next week and immediately will overhaul the free and captive balloons belonging to the corps as well as the Baldwin dirigible which was purchased last year.

There are at present three officers of the aeronautical division of the signal corps on the grounds making preparations for the conduct of the trials. The contracts for the delivery of heavier than air machines held by the Wright brothers of Dayton, O., who are now in Rome, and by A. M. Herring of New York have not been fulfilled in every detail. Orville Wright, previous to the accident to his machine, made numerous flights, some of which fulfilled certain of the conditions specified in his contract, but none of them was official.

Lieut. Frank P. Lahm and Lieut. Benjamin D. Paulois, the most experienced aeronauts in the signal corps will conduct the trials at Fort Myer this season. Major Squier, assistant chief signal officer and an authority on aerostatics, probably will take a prominent part. Lieut. Winter is the other officer who is now stationed in Washington with the aeronautical division.

SPEAKER CANNON

Is Taken to Task by Women

CHICAGO, April 13.—Several senators and congressmen are going to receive letters of commendation for the consideration with which they treated the Chicago delegation of women who have just returned from bearing the tariff protest to Washington, and several are going to receive missives of an entirely different character.

Four displeased women are disseminating word throughout the city today that congress in general is not conversant with the book of Washington etiquette pertaining to the rules of "How to treat a woman when she comes to present a petition."

"They ducked when they saw us coming—that describes their official movements," they "ducked." So Mrs. E. H. Henderson describes the deportment of the members when the women wandered through the capital in search of some one whom they might address. She went on to say:

"Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee gave orders: 'When these women come here from Chicago tell them I am out.' That is the way we were to be received by him. But it happened when we were going past the door of the committee room Congressman Payne himself came running out on his way to the elevator."

"He saw us coming with Congressman Foss and he tried to take to the tail timbers but it was too late. Mr. Foss called to him that there were some women whom he would be delighted to meet and he had to stand still."

Speaker Cannon when we saw him, said something about the price of the hats we had on being about $50 and so why not make stockings six cents a pair higher than the twenty-five cent way for stockings now. How can you argue things like that?"

THE BLACK HAND SOCIETY

A member of the Black Hand society was neatly taken into custody the other day in New York as a result of having sent several threatening letters to parties demanding the payment of a large sum of money under penalty of death. If found guilty the prisoner should be either punished severely or deported to the country from which he came. The Spanish scoundrel might be broken up in the same way.

THE GENIUS OF POLAND.

In the death of Madame Modjeska, an old stage favorite in this city has passed away. She was familiar to the older generation and admired not only for her great roles but also for the purifying influence she exercised on the stage. Modjeska was most celebrated in the roles of Lady Macbeth, Viola and Rosalind, while her versatility was shown in her stately Mary Stuart, her Ophelia and her Camille.

The passing of Modjeska recalls the fact of her Polish origin, and mention of Poland in this connection brings up the names of those other artists—Sienkiewicz, Chopin, Wieniawski, Paderewski and the De Reszke brothers—an array of genius that should bring to down-trodden Poland the deep sympathy and the lasting gratitude of the world.

SCHOOL VANDALISM CENSURED

A young man, member of a high school party who went to Washington, was arrested for scratching his name on the Washington monument. Boys show a strange ambition in matters of this kind. The boy who tried to engrave his name upon the Washington monument had apparently a higher opinion of himself than some who see fit to engrave their names in some of the most obscure places, but, nevertheless, he was guilty of vandalism which is a punishable offence.

The youth of today seems to have very vague ideas in regard to the rights of others and especially the protection of public property. It is a common thing for school boys to destroy street signs, street lamps and windows in schoolhouses and other city buildings. There seems to be but slight effort on the part of the principals to correct them in such matters.

The school authorities are in part responsible for such conditions and it is a fact that the property in the vicinity of some of our public schools is seriously injured on account of the petty vandalism and depredations committed by the pupils.

THE SIMPLIFIED SPELLING FIASCO

The Carnegie commission on simplified spelling is going ahead with the work of issuing lists of words spelled according to the phonetic method. Nobody, however, seems to take much notice of these lists of words sent out by the commission. The question is now being discussed as to how the commission will enforce the new spelling, and it is even proposed that the simplified method should be made compulsory by an act of congress. Such talk is sheer nonsense. Congress has no authority to compel anybody to spell the words of the English language in any particular way. The constitution protects the individual citizen in his right to spell as he pleases.

To adopt the new fangled spelling would produce a literary discord that would prove a serious loss to many publishers and a great inconvenience to the reading public. Carnegie should expend his money for some purpose in which he can make better progress than he has made in reforming the spelling of the English language. He is putting $15,000 a year on this new spelling fad and making no impression.

THE SUNDAY LAW

If women could vote we surmise that the Sunday laws would soon be changed so that a few other things would be sold as freely as tobacco and cigars. Wherever a man may go on Sunday in this state he can enter a drug store or any of the stores kept open ostensibly for the sale of papers and buy a plug of tobacco or a cigar. But if a woman forgets to lay in bread enough for her family over Sunday she is forbidden to buy a loaf of bread except within certain specified hours and then only in regular bakeries. Is not bread as much of a necessity as tobacco? Would it not be as easy for the smokers to look ahead and lay in the tobacco they need over Sunday as it is for the housekeeper to lay in a store of provisions? But suppose there is a poor family that cannot purchase in advance, who live from hand to mouth, just as they get it, why should there be any law to prevent them purchasing a loaf of bread in stores that have bread for sale but are kept open for the sale of tobacco and newspapers?

There is another thing that may be mentioned in this connection and it was illustrated very forcibly on Easter Sunday when people make it a custom to carry flowers to the graves of relatives. No florist is allowed to sell flowers for any purpose on Sunday being privileged only to deliver the orders taken on Saturday. The women very naturally inquire how it comes that there is a law against the sale of flowers under such circumstances and that there is no law against the sale of tobacco. It would seem that the law makers of this state consider tobacco one of the foremost essentials of our existence. Hundreds of people left their homes Sunday expecting to be able to purchase flowers at the local stores to be taken to the cemeteries but they found that the law prohibiting the sale of flowers is strictly enforced. None of the florists would venture to sell flowers to anybody on Sunday.

It seems that there is good ground for a change in the law in this respect. Is it not more in line with the spirit of the Sabbath to permit the sale of bread and flowers on Sunday than to prohibit the sale of both and allow the unlimited sale of tobacco?

SEEN AND HEARD

"Tell me what you eat, and I will tell you what you are," boasted an amateur sage.

"Well, I ate a Welsh rabbit and a lemon pie last night."

"You're a fool!"

His funeral is tomorrow.

"I saw a new dinner table staid in New York a few days ago," said a Lowell man. "I was dining at one of the many places where a dinner with wine is served for 60 cents. A well dressed couple came in and took the next table. As soon as their two small bottles of claret had been brought the man pulled a lemon out of his pocket and the girl produced a range from her muff. After dividing these they squeezed and sliced and sugared and tasted the big ice-filled glasses full of claret to their hearts' content and finally settled back in their chairs absolutely content with their improvised claret punch. The waiter didn't seem in the least surprised and the couple themselves were evidently so accustomed to the little game that they didn't mind being looked at by the people at adjoining tables. Their punch looked so good that I decided on the spot that I'd provide myself with an orange and a lemon the next time I came."

"The only concern I know of that don't have to watch their employees to keep them from using office stationery for private correspondence are charity organizations," said the gray haired man. "Envelopes and letter paper may be piled high in front of every clerk in those bureaus and no one will make use of them because of the inscription. Possibly the clerks themselves wouldn't mind the charity headlines, but their friends object to receiving letters which give the impression that they are corresponding with some society that has for its purpose the relief of the down and out."

A devoted mother was hearing her four-year-old son in his evening prayer when he suddenly stopped in the middle of it and said: "I don't want to go to heaven." "Why not?" said the mother. "Why I would rather go with father."

"We're getting to be a city of inveterate telephonicists," observed an old resident, "and I've come to the conclusion after a good deal of observation that the constant use of the telephone tends to petty deception and unnecessary falsehoods. Men and women who are naturally truthful and honest to look one another in the face and tell even the whitest sort of a lie will at the opposite ends of a telephone wire rattle off small and unnecessary falsehoods as glibly as the most accomplished liars. The busy man thinks nothing of assuring a man on the telephone that he's just going to luncheon and won't be back for an hour when in reality he's just come in from luncheon. His wife puts off inquiring friends on the plea that she's just going to the dressmaker and his daughter in the most sincere tone tells a young man over the telephone that she's got a headache and can't see him when as a matter of fact some special beau is calling upon her and she does not want to be disturbed. It seems to me that the telephone habit is responsible for a lot of this long distance fibbing."

PEOPLE OF NOTE

It is said that Miss Julia Marlowe finds diversion in bookbinding and vacation in doing very clever and not amateurish work.

Mark Twain asks, "Is Shakespeare Dead?" His question having been put in book form, a lively little volume is promised the public by the publishers, the Messrs. Harper, for this month.

Whatever the place which posterity will ultimately award to Richard Mansfield as an actor, there can be no question of the high value of his services to the theatre in America and of his example to its traditions. The stage in this country has known no more magnetic actor and no one who had more truly at heart its best interests. It is, therefore, eminently fitting that a worthy memorial to him should be established in some form. Says Harper's Weekly: "Such a memorial is projected by a committee of New York citizens who are hoping to place a bronze bust of the late actor in the foyer of the New Theatre. This committee, which comprises among its members Paul D. Cravath, David Bispham, John Drew, Booth Tarkington, Percy Mackaye, Spencer Trask, Rutger B. Jewett, Elton J. Jordan, E. A. Dithmar and George C. Butler, is prepared to receive subscriptions to the necessary fund for this purpose. Mr. Cravath is treasurer, and contributions may be sent to him at 32 William street, New York."

Judge Mayer Sulzberger of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia, who has declined the ambassadorship to Turkey, proffered by President Taft, was elected in 1894. Previous to that time he had gained wide prominence as a lawyer, and has added to his reputation since then by his work as a scholar and jurist. He is an able lawyer, and has a wide knowledge of Greek and Latin history and customs. His private library is one of the largest in Philadelphia, and contains many rare works in the Semitic languages, as well as a choice collection of English literature.

It is definitely announced in London that Lewis Waller, the actor of romantic heroes, has long been expected to appear in a few large cities. In London, since he left Mr. Tree's company and became an actor manager, he has been best liked in parts like Baccarat, d'Artagnan, Henry V. and one or another of the all-conquering heroes of recent romantic plays. Mr. Waller is credited with having voice, presence, force, and swag.

ONLY TWENTY-FIVE CENTS

Buy a Bottle of Insurance from All Aches and Pains.

The prudent father and the model homemaker prepare for an emergency. And there is no reason why every home should not be supplied with an emergency outfit, when a quarter of a dollar will buy a bottle of NEURALGIC ANODYNE, any store.

And what will NEURALGIC ANODYNE do? Those who have never used it will ask.

Those who have used it for years will answer sincerely that it will cure neuralgia of any part of the body; that it will cure nervous headache, rheumatism, cold on the chest, lame back, toothache, bruises, sprains, stomach cramps and bowel disorder.

Isn't it worth 25 cents to have a remedy in the house that will do all these things and do them quickly, almost magically. Made by The Twitchell, Champlin Co. Portland, Me.

GENERAL BOOTH

Issues Message to the American People

NEW YORK, April 13.—A message from Gen. William Booth, founder and commander of the Salvation Army, was read last night at a remarkable session in Carnegie hall in honor of his 80th birthday anniversary. Miss Eva Booth, the general's daughter and commander of the Salvation Army in America, read the message to the packed hall. It was as follows:

"London, April, 1909.

"To the American People.

"O America! how vast is your opportunity for making a lasting mark for good on the entire human race. Endowed with measureless material resources, enjoying the unbounded confidence of your own people, favored with the concentrated light of earth and heaven, possessed of an influence covering, like a shadow, all the world beside, what a power you must be destined to become!

"What will you do with this mighty, magic force? If you are permitted to realize your ambition to lead the world, whither will you lead it? To utter abandonment of faith in the eternal and the neglect of every duty flowing out of it, to senseless worship of mammon, to useless frivolities? No. I am sure you won't, and I blush at the very thought of such things and denounce them with all my soul.

"Where else do you lead this poor, blind, stumbling world of ours but the mighty, just, holy God, and obedience to His command: 'To the practice of righteousness, purity, honor, kindness and simplicity, to self sacrifice service of mankind?'

"O America! I invite you to the actual realization of the Christian principle you possess and the practical imitation of Jesus Christ, who came out of His heaven to seek and to save.

"Come along, then. Let us gird up our loins and go out of our heaven and put our arms around perishing multitudes and bring them to Christ, purity, peace and paradise.

"I invite you to make our common Christianity an unguishable reality and thus wipe the reproach fast gathering over us, that it is nothing more than an exploded tradition, a fashionable association, or a lifeless ceremony. Then, when the wondering world asks, 'in what country can I find the thing described by the letter of the bible and set forth in the life of Jesus Christ?' The answer shall be 'America.'

(Signed)

"General William Booth."

Messages cabled by various governors and mayors in this country to Gen. Booth in England, congratulating him on his birthday anniversary and paying tribute to his work, were read from the stage.

LICENSE GRANT

Six Haverhill Dealers Dropped

HAVERHILL, April 13.—The license commissioners announced their grant of liquor licenses last evening. There was much surprise expressed, as six firms that were engaged in the business for ten years previous to the return to no-license last May were not included.

They were Thomas H. McDonald, Edward H. Barry, Michael O'Leary & Co., Emilio Senno, Thomas Coyne and D. L. McCarthy. The commission received 89 applications for the 37 licenses.

Those granted were: Innholders' licenses, Pratt & Allen of New Phoenix, Bartholomew Cronin of Hotel Lennox, John H. Nolan of Hotel Savoy, Dorsey & Barry of Central house, A. O. Gordon & Co. of New Gordon, W. W. Heath of Eagle house, J. M. Sweet of Hotel Thorndike, and Ryan & Co. of Arlington hotel; first and fourth class, Robert Snaw of 18 Essex street, P. J. Dillon of 124 Washington street, J. N. Willett & Son of 12-14 Main street, F. J. Conney & Son of Water street, Henri I. Beaumont & Co. of 27 Lafayette street, Daniel F. Cleary & Co. of 55 Winter street, R. A. Spaine & Co. of Fleet street, Thomas F. Carroll of Wingate street, M. H. McCarthy & Co.

ROAN KILLED

PHILADELPHIA MAN MANGLED BY FEARFUL FALL

PHILADELPHIA, April 13.—Striking girder after girder of a big department store in course of construction in the central part of the city, William Roan, a structural iron worker, met his death yesterday in sight of hundreds of horror-stricken shoppers and business men.

Roan, who was 28 years of age, had worked at his trade in all parts of the country. His home was in Springfield, Mass. He came to this city about three weeks ago.

He was about to swing the last beam into place on the third floor of the new building, when he missed his footing and fell to the sub-basement six floors below. His body was much mangled.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The sporting public will have an opportunity to size up Al Kaufman of California as a heavyweight championship contender when the western pugilist meets Tony Cross, a Pittsburgh heavyweight, in a 10-round bout here tonight at the Fairmont club. Kaufman has been known to Johnson's trainers and recognizes that if he can win only before the limit he will have to be given consideration by Johnson. Tony has the build of Jeff and has put up sleep such heavies as Marvin Hart and Jim Barry. Kaufman has planned to travel to England this summer and the trainers say he may see him in a struggle there with the champion at Longford. The California is in the top shape, having been in training on Catalina Island for some time.

NIGHT EDITION

COAL OPERATORS

of 1906

NEW YORK, April 12.—The anthracite coal operators who held a conference in this city yesterday to determine a policy toward the miners, made public a statement today declaring that there was absolutely no friction between them in reaching a decision to appoint a committee to report on April 22. The operators' statement continued:

The operators are still willing to renew the agreement entered into in 1906. The operators were not willing to make a contract with an organization controlled by men engaged in bituminous mining, a competitive industry.

It should not be understood that the operators oppose organization among their employees. The attitude of the operators toward this question is the same as that in which they were upheld by the strike commission of 1902.

A STRONG PROTEST

Made Against the Abolition of Railroad Differentials

BOSTON, April 12.—An earnest protest against the abolition of railroad differentials was made and the New England board of transportation was established at a meeting of representatives of boards of trade and other organizations from nearly every large city in New England at the chamber of commerce today.

In addition to the local organization, delegations were present from Brockton, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell, New Bedford, Springfield, New Haven, New London and Bangor. The situation regarding the differentials and the efforts of the trunk line association in New York to abolish them was discussed. The fact that an important case bearing on freight rates to the west is pending in the United States court was brought out and the evidence was

THE WHEAT MARKET

High Prices Were Again the Rule in Chicago Today

CHICAGO, April 12.—Wheat for delivery in May, July and September established new high record marks at the opening of the board of trade today. May wheat opened at from 1.27 to 1.28. July rose early to 1.17½ an advance over yesterday of 1½ cents. September touched 1.03½, a gain of ½ cent over night.

The Liverpool market furnished the bulk of the news of the hour and other European markets advanced sympathetically.

The real influence, however, was a general belief that there is a world wide shortage of wheat. Reports of favorable weather for the growing crop in the winter wheat belt were ignored. The opening flurry in May was due to the expectation of the closing out of May contracts of Bulls & Stopped, the brokers against whom an involuntary position in bankruptcy was filed in New York today. The amount involved here is said not to have been large.

DIV. 8, A. O. H. IS NOT INSANE

Wants State Parade in Lowell Doctors Refuse to Commit Woman

The great state parade of the A. O. H. may be held in Lowell next year. Division 8, A. O. H., took the initiative at its meeting last evening when it voted unanimously to join forces with the other divisions of the order in this city, in an effort to have the great demonstration held in this city.

The parade will be a grand feature of the convention week and there will be at least 15,000 men in line. The meeting last evening was attended by a great number of members and twenty-five propositions for membership were received. It is proposed to have a class institution on April 26 when the degree work will be performed by the team from Wattham which has made such a favorable impression throughout the country.

A report of the meeting of the county board held in Stoneham, April 4, was submitted by the president, John C. Bourke, and a report was also received from the dance committee which had in charge the social on Feb. 22.

Remarks for the good and welfare of the order were made by J. Mahoney, John Barrett, Daniel P. Kelly, Michael Rogers and President John C. Bourke.

Lila E. Barry, aged 58 years, of Salem, who came to this city recently for the purpose of escaping the possibility of being adjudged insane and committed to an asylum, was arrested Saturday night at a lodging house in this city by Constable Bernard F. Gately, who was armed with a process issued by the local court.

After being examined as to her sanity by Drs. Burnham, H. Remer and Leonard W. Hennessey, the doctors refused to sign certificates to the effect that she was insane and she was released.

John H. Barry, a brother of the woman, came to Lowell last week, and stated that while doctors were making an examination of the woman in Salem she made her escape and came to this city and he thought she was employed in one of the local mills.

As is customary in such cases where a complaint is made a process against the alleged insane person is issued. A search of the mills failed to locate the woman, but she was finally located in the which had in charge the social on Feb. 22.

Remarks for the good and welfare of the order were made by J. Mahoney, John Barrett, Daniel P. Kelly, Michael Rogers and President John C. Bourke.

Heavy Loss Caused by Fires in Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 12.—At 1:20 this afternoon fires are raging in two sections of Rochester apparently uncontrollable and unless the gale which is now blowing at thirty or more miles an hour subsides, the damage will be incalculable. Every piece of fire apparatus is on the scene and appeals have been sent to Syracuse and Buffalo for assistance. Both cities have replied that they are sending aid on fast trains.

At this time it is estimated that the loss is easily $1,000,000.

The fire broke out in the Seiden building at the corner of Gibbs and Main streets. That building is in ruins. The flames leaped to St. Peter's church in Grove street and then to the Jewish synagogue, the Berith Kodesh temple. St. Peter's was saved but the temple is gutted. Apartment houses on Grove street valued at $100,000 were next swept away and then the flames attacked a score or more of residences on that and adjoining streets and is now spreading to others. Fully 150 families have moved out from the path of the flames. Numerous houses are burning without a single stream of water to check the progress of the fire.

About the same time fire broke out in the First Reformed church in another section of the city and about one mile removed. Only one fire company could be spared for this fire and the church soon fell a prey to the flames which spread to residences and are now sweeping the streets, the residents moving out as fast as the flames approach.

The militia has been ordered out by Mayor Edgerton to police the burning district.

FOUND MURDERED SENT TO PRISON

Man Guilty of Smuggling Chinese

BOSTON, April 12.—That the schooner Bonita landed 23 Chinamen from Nova Scotia at Marblehead so quietly one summer evening three years ago that the inhabitants of the old fishing town thought the visitors had been on a picnic, was admitted by Goodman Phillips of this city in court today when he pleaded guilty to the charge of smuggling and was sentenced to one year in prison.

A LIVELY BLAZE

In the Estate of Late Dr. Burnham in Tyler Street

A lively blaze was discovered in a house belonging to the estate of the late Dr. Burnham, in Tyler street, this afternoon shortly before one o'clock, and the rest of the building was seriously damaged before the fire was extinguished.

The cause of the fire is not known, but Chief Resmer is of the opinion that it had its inception on the flat roof of the all of the building and worked its way in through the partitions before being discovered.

When the department arrived on the scene a sheet of flame was shooting through the rear of the main building. A couple of times of hose were laid and after about twenty minutes time the blaze was under control.

A grass fire broke out on the land in the rear of the Textile school about 1:20 o'clock this afternoon and burned over a large area before placed under control.

When the fire was discovered word was telephoned to the Pawtucketville engine company and the members of that company went to the scene, but owing to the fact that the fire was being fanned by a strong wind and was getting beyond their control an alarm was sent in from box 175 at the corner of Riverside and New York streets, summoning several other pieces of apparatus to the scene.

When the reinforcements arrived the fire was burning fiercely and it was only after a vigorous battle with the hose that it was extinguished.

Another Grass Fire

A telephone alarm at ten o'clock this morning summoned a portion of the department to a grass fire on land at the foot of Andover street belonging to John Robertson.

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 12.—Unlucky E. H. Harriman's yacht Sultana put into some port as a harbor of refuge the prominent railroad official's party spent an uncomfortable night and are encountering rough seas in the Gulf. The vessel bound from Tampa was due in Pensacola last night.

JALBERT AGAIN

He is Charged With Larceny of a Watch

Napoleon Jalbert, a Mendy street jeweler and watch repairer, was arrested last night by Patrolman Samuel Bigelow on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a clock, the property of Vernon A. French, the claim being that the clock was taken to Jalbert's to be repaired and later sold by Mr. Jalbert.

The arrest of Jalbert recalls an incident which occurred a couple of months ago when upon complaint of Jalbert, Mayor Brown started an investigation of the police department for the purpose of showing up alleged lax methods in the detection of crime, but the investigation proved to be a very short one for it came to an abrupt ending when the mayor learned that the police were attending strictly to duty.

A woman brought a watch to Jalbert's store to be repaired and later when she called for it found that the watch had either been sold or given by mistake to a person other than its owner. Jalbert reported the matter to the police and claimed that a young man, whose name was also given to the police, had the watch and refused to give it up. The police visited the home of the young man, whom it was alleged had the watch, and learned that he knew nothing of it. This did not satisfy Jalbert and he attempted to get a warrant for the arrest of the young man. Being unable to get the warrant he reported the matter to Mayor Brown and the latter summoned Inspector Charles Laframme and Deputy Supt. Welch to appear before him. The latter explained the case to the mayor.

Later the woman who owned the watch had Jalbert arrested for larceny and when the case was heard in police court the young man, whom Jalbert claimed stole the watch, was one of the witnesses and was thoroughly exonerated by the court. Judge Hadley went so far as to state that a gross injustice had been done by even intimating that the young man in question had anything to do with the disappearance of the watch.

The case was called in police court this morning and continued till April 17.

POLICE BOARD HOME RUN BAT

Another Session of Dry
Reading First Base Ball Fan Heard From

The seventh session of the police board hearing opened at 10:10 this forenoon in the council chamber at city hall. The respondents were not present. No spectators.

Council for prosecution proceeded to read reports of observations of officers at hotels in January 1909. It was noted that to the Sunday menu, of which the sandwich was the piece de resistance, there was added on the opening month of the current year, in at least one hotel, a new morsel—shrimp salad.

While it is barely possible that counsel for the prosecution will finish with the reading of the "observations of officers" today, there will still remain an avalanche of reports—card reports, reports of superior officers, reports of hotel hearings and the report of the Hersey case, so that if the prosecution continues to read, without variation, the "gray bones" process will occupy the greater part of the week.

A slight departure was made this forenoon when counsel for the prosecution asked Clerk Flaherty to read the report of a meeting of the police board on Jan. 5, or that portion of the report having to do with a discussion relative to what was said in Mayor Brown's inaugural pertaining to the police department.

All the report said was that what the mayor had said had been discussed and that the matter had been postponed for further consideration. The records, however, did not show that the matter had been taken up again.

After a recess of ten minutes one of the reports that had been read was taken up, and the following comment on the face of the report said to have been written by the chairman of the board was read: "A satisfactory improvement."

Mr. Bent objected to the comment being admitted, contending that it was no part of the record of report but a minute made by the chairman.

Counsel for prosecution said he wanted it admitted because that later he would argue that the comment "a satisfactory improvement" showed that when the chairman noted an improvement, necessarily meant that conditions had been bad.

The comment was admitted, Mr. Bent saying exception and having noted in the records that the words "a satisfactory improvement" were written in lead pencil.

The notice of the police board to the hotel keepers instructing them to serve drink with food on Sundays only in regular dining rooms, and to such persons as any reasonable person would be satisfied resorted there for food. The date of the communication was Jan. 14, 1909.

The reports of the officers' observations after this order had been issued and put into effect showed that the hotels were practically down and out. Almost every report read "dining room vacant."

Two reports had to do with investigations relative to complaints of sales of liquor in drug stores, gaming and sale of liquor by men who carried it in bottles in their pockets.

At 11:45 counsel for the prosecution struck a snag in the sandwich line, and it appeared that Major Bent an opportunity to qualify as an expert on sweaters.

6 O'CLOCK FULL REVOLUTION

Broke Out in Constantinople This Morning

Stores Closed and Wild Panic Prevails — Government Troops Called Out to Cope With the Insurgents — A Committee of Union and Progress Attempts to Assume Absolute Power

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 13.—Serious disturbances of a revolutionary character have broken out here. The situation is grave. The mutinous troops are demonstrating against the building of parliament. Panic has seized the people of Constantinople and all through the city shops are being hurriedly closed.

The present grand vizier of Turkey is Hilmi Pasha. He was appointed to this office, Feb. 14, in succession to Kiamil Pasha. Hilmi Pasha was formerly minister of the interior and before holding this office he served as inspector general of Macedonia. All Pasha Pasha is Hilmi's minister of war. He holds also the marine portfolio and is grand master of artillery. These and the other changes in the cabinet that took place in February showed the absolute control of the political situation by the Young Turk party or committee of union and progress which virtually imposed on the sultan a minority of its own nominees.

The committee on Feb. 14 publicly repudiated any intention to overthrow the sultan or install a military dictatorship but the crisis and its outcome was then regarded as not promising well for the stability of the throne or the success of the parliamentary government. It has been a question how the moderate elements of the empire would regard this assumption of absolute power by an irresponsible committee.

The committee of union and progress consistently opposed Kaimil Pasha, Hilmi Pasha's predecessor. It suspected him of being too conservative or palace influences and it complained of his slowness in conducting the negotiations with Austria-Hungary and Bulgaria. On April 3 Kaimil Pasha issued a statement in which he denounced the committee on union and progress to whose machinations he attributed the vote of censure in the Turkish parliament and the consequent downfall of his cabinet. The irrepressible interference of this committee, Kaimil Pasha declared, had neutralized the efforts of the government and it permitted to continue would seriously endanger the future of the country.

Young Man Was Arraigned in Police Court Today

Jesse Perry, a young man residing in Ayer City, was arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning on a complaint charging him with the larceny of a row boat, pair of oars and three bird cages, the property of Charles F. Kappler. He entered a plea of not guilty, but was "found guilty and sentenced to pay a fine of $40."

Mr. Kappler formerly resided at 21 Fruit street, and some few months ago when he moved to East Chelmsford he left a row boat and several bird cages in the cellar of the building in Fruit street and advised that the building had been broken into and the boat and cages taken, reported the matter to the police.

Inspector Martin Maher was detailed on the case and after a careful investigation arrested Perry.

Perry was assisted in removing the boat by a young man named Hyattus. Perry informing Maher that the owner of the boat had given it to him when he closed the house.

Tony Frates, the well known former ball player and brother of the young man who assisted Perry in removing the boat, testified that he saw the boat in Perry's yard and traded a valuable Perry informing Frates that the owner of the boat had given it to him when he closed the house.

Perry admitted breaking into the house and said that two of the bird cages were being used by Tommy Lit-

WOMAN A SUICIDE

She Jumped From Ninth Floor

NEW YORK, April 13.—Several members of the New York Athletic club saw a woman kill herself yesterday afternoon by jumping from the ninth floor of the Cornet apartments at 57 West 43rd street to a cement court in the rear of the club building.

The woman was Mrs. Anita D. Hamilton, whose husband's name is Wm. H. Hamilton. According to information given to Coroner Harburger, Mrs. Hamilton had been ill for the last two years with a nervous disorder and her husband and Anna Driscoll, a nurse, had attended her constantly. She was supposed to be recovering and a month ago her husband left the city for a rest. A week after he went away Mrs. Hamilton also left the apartment. She returned on Sunday night.

Yesterday Miss Driscoll and Mrs. Elton M. von Richter of 312 West 103rd street, who is said to be a sister of Mrs. Hamilton, went to the Cornet apartments to take Mrs. Hamilton for a drive in Central Park. The three women were making preparations for the drive when Mrs. Hamilton went to the rear of the apartments to a bathroom.

Mrs. Hamilton climbed on a steam radiator and opened a window in the room. Then she climbed on the window sill and plunged out. The apartment is on the ninth floor, on a level with the windows of the club gymnasium and several men in the gymnasium saw Mrs. Hamilton leap. She shot downward head first, turning once in the air and landing on the cement court on her back.

Charles Holliback and George Walsh, engineers employed in the apartment building, heard the sound as the body struck and ran to the woman. They found that all life had been crushed out by the fall.

Coroner Harburger was unable to get much information about the Hamiltons. Apparently they were little known in the apartment house. Miss von Richter said that she did not know where Mr. Hamilton was at present, but assumed the coroner that he would be in the city today.

Miss Driscoll said that several months ago a waiter in the New York Athletic club had fallen from a window in the clubhouse and been killed.

"Mrs. Hamilton was standing at a window at that time and saw the man fall," said Miss Driscoll. "She spoke of the accident from time to time and could not seem to get it off her mind."

Coroner Harburger said last night that he thought that perhaps Mrs. Hamilton's mind had been affected by the sight of the waiter's death.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of E. V. R. Wintham at 629 Sixth avenue to await instructions from Mr. Hamilton.

A SUICIDE

VETERAN OF SPANISH AMERICAN WAR KILLED HIMSELF

NEW YORK, April 13.—Jacob Oldenwelder, a veteran of the Spanish-American war and a member of Company L, Fourth Regiment, N. G. S. J., committed suicide yesterday at his home, 15 West Twenty-third street, Bayonne, by shooting himself. He had been melancholy for some time and on several occasions had threatened to kill himself. He was 49 years old and a painter by trade.

After he had breakfast yesterday Oldenwelder went about the neighborhood and bid many of his friends good-bye. He said he was going to leave his home and never return.

He then went to a hardware store, where he bought a revolver. Upon his return to his home he told his wife that he had made up his mind to end it all. She became alarmed when she saw the revolver and hurried to police headquarters, (three blocks away) and asked that a policeman be sent to her home to arrest her husband so that he could not harm himself. It was the woman's intention to have her husband's sanity inquired into.

Mrs. Oldenwelder had not reached headquarters before her husband killed himself. He got two large American flags, one of which bore the inscription "Spanish-American War" and going into the parlor he looked the door and shoulders, any on the door and sent two bullets into his head and one into his breast. He was dead when his son, attracted by his shots, broke into the room. The son started for police headquarters to tell of the shooting and on the way met his mother.

MAN STABBED
DURING A FIGHT ON A STREET CAR

UTICA, April 13.—Because an intoxicated man insisted on receiving more change from a street car conductor than was his due a row occurred on a local trolley car last night, ending in the probable fatal stabbing of James O'Hara, 33 years of age, a passenger on the car. Peter Grimaldi was arrested for the crime and is held in jail on a charge of assault in the first degree. O'Hara is at the General hospital with a deep knife wound in his left side extending into the lung. He was conscious and was resting comfortably today, but the attending physician says that he has only a slight chance for recovery.

The man who stabbed O'Hara gave the conductor a dime for his fare. The conductor returned a nickel in change, but the passenger refused to accept it. He insisted that he had given the conductor a quarter and demanded 20 cents change. The conductor went on the rear platform of the car to avoid any trouble, but the passenger followed him and attempted to draw some kind of a weapon from his pocket as he approached. The conductor did not wait for developments but promptly knocked the troublemaker down and three men of the car. The man attempted to climb aboard the car but the conductor pushed him back and gave the signal for the car to go ahead.

O'Hara was standing on the rear end of the car during the trouble and just as the car started the ejected passenger sprang on the steps of the car and plunged a knife into O'Hara's side. The victim had no part whatever in the fracas. The man in custody has been identified as the person who did the stabbing.

Miss Illington Seeking Divorce Breaks Down

CHICAGO, April 13.—Margaret Illington, returning to San Francisco from New York, where she went to make arrangements for a divorce from Daniel Frohman, broke down yesterday in Chicago as a result of the publicity that has attended her determination to leave the stage for a life of domesticity.

"I had hoped to withdraw quietly and without fuss," said the actress. "This publicity is awful. Why can't I live like other women? Must my life be always a public event?"

Miss Illington broke down and wept as she denied that she had said that she wanted eleven babies a year. "It's all wretchedly untrue," she said. "And I never said anything of the sort. It is true that I want the happy life that any woman desires," continued Mrs. Frohman.

"I do not want a home of my own, and I want children and I am perfectly willing to give up everything else in order to have them. What woman is not, if she could be perfectly honest with herself? But I have not made any of these absurd, overdrawn statements."

"It would not be right for me to make any statement concerning my divorce arrangements. After all, to give up a public career, I have already stated that when I have obtained my divorce from Mr. Frohman I shall marry Mr. Howes, who desires me to lead the only kind of life that appeals to me."

"I have not been sorry to give up the stage at all, but I am sorry that I've been pursued with all this notoriety about my leaving public life."

Mrs. Frohman tried to fasten a face veil and to dry her tears at the same time and succeeded better than a woman usually does when she attempts to do two things at once, the reporter noted.

"I've been credited with so many amazing ideas that I begin to admire the inventive ingenuity of mankind," she added, with a flash of humor. "I could philosophize long enough to fill a volume on the question of careers for women," she went on, "but it is not for me to generalize about women. They always do the unexpected. The only one I can speak for is myself, and I don't seem to be allowed to do that."

"I think that my whole story is covered in the statement that I have left the stage because I know I shall be happier in domestic life. Doesn't that cover it all?"

Mrs. Frohman denied herself to callers yesterday, declaring herself too busy to be detained. In the morning she left the hotel on a mysterious business errand, carrying a gold trimmed red leather despatch box that she seemed to guard jealously.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The Brick Presbyterian church, which was 100 years old yesterday, and a occasion was observed last evening with special services at the church. Brief congratulatory addresses were made by a number of ministers of the city, all of whom praised the work the church had done in the hundred years that have passed since the city was first laid out on the site of the city and its land on which to build the first office at Bowknock street and Park row.

One of those who were present to offer congratulations was Dr. Wm. T. Manning, pastor of Trinity church, who commented on the fact that for a number of years the brick church had been unable to do better owing to the reluctance of the vestry of Trinity church to share with others its special privileges. How much conditions had changed. Dr. Manning said, was shown by the fact that yesterday the Trinity vestry changed its weekly meeting from evening to afternoon in order that its members might be present at last night's service.

VIGOROUS PROTEST

Against Granting a Liquor License at Davis Square

The board of police this morning gave a hearing to property owners and residents of Davis square and vicinity who remonstrated against the granting of a first and fourth class liquor license to Frederick W. and William H. Barrows, of the firm of F. W. Barrows & Co., at 1042 Central and 612 and 614 Bowknock streets.

The principal remonstrants were ex-Mayor George H. Runnels and his son, Charles Runnels, while on the other hand a number of property owners and business men in the square appeared in favor of granting the license.

Mr. Barrows has a saloon located at the corner of Chambers and Bowknock streets at the present time, but owing to the fact that this place is in an unstable condition and is only leased by him and that the building there he has applied for license this year as a new and up-to-date building and owned by him, he desires to locate his business in his own building.

The hearing was opened at 10:30 o'clock and the first remonstrant called upon was Hon. George H. Runnels, who in opening stated that he had nothing against the parties applying for license, but felt that the location of a liquor saloon in the square would be a detriment to property and the tenants and that it would result in a poorer class of tenants locating there. Continuing he said: "I have paid out a good deal of money in one way or another in order to improve the square and keep it from becoming a disreputable place. A saloon is always a disadvantage and causes a deterioration in the character of the tenants. I do not think that a saloon in that vicinity is a necessity."

On cross-examination Mr. Runnels acknowledged that the building in question, which was recently erected, is an improvement on the building which formerly occupied the site. He said that his principal reason for objecting to the granting of a license to Mr. Barrows was that it would injure him financially. He felt that a law should be passed whereby no license be granted at all.

Charles Runnels, granite and marble dealer with a place of business in Davis square, said that the location of a license in the square would be an injury to the locality and would reduce the value of property.

"You do not believe in licensed places in back streets and back ways?" asked Commissioner Hanson.

"Yes, if the license be granted," answered Mr. Wheeler.

Miss May J. Preston, who resides in the vicinity, stated that she had lived in the square all of her life, and objected to the granting of a license in the square on general principles. She said that she objected to Mr. Barrows, adding that he was all right in answer to a question she admitted that as she was a woman she felt it was her duty to protest against the granting of a liquor license in that locality.

Charles Runnels said that his father had explained the objection in a general way, stating that there is no personal animus in the objections. A license in that square, he said, would be objectionable in many ways, one of them being that a licensed saloon would control his customers just on or after the rights of the property owners and residents of that locality.

Mr. Runnels admitted that by objecting he sought to prevent an injury to his property. He said that he was opposed to the granting of licenses and never voted in favor of them.

Speaking of the improvement of the Barrows property he said that it is a detriment to make any business, which is as demoralizing as the liquor business, attractive. He also said that he would shoulder the responsibility of having circulated the petition.

Counsel for Mr. Barrows brought out the fact that of the numerous business men in Davis square who had seen the petition but few had signed it. At this point the hearing on the part of the remonstrants was declared closed.

Mr. Frederick W. Barrows, one of the applicants for the license in Davis square, said: "While I am a total abstainer myself, I believe in granting liquor licenses in a community. As to the neighborhood in question I might state that I was born and brought up in the vicinity of Davis square and there are very few people in that locality whom I do not know. When I heard that there was a remonstrance against the granting of this license I sent out a number of the business men and residents in the vicinity of Davis square and the consensus of opinion seemed to be that it would be a great help if I succeeded in securing the privilege of carrying on a liquor business in the square. I have a good many more invested in the building where I wish to locate and my present location is very poor, the building is in poor repair and a person entering the place is just as liable as not to be precipitated through the floor into the cellar. If I am granted a license where I have more invested in the place, will be more able to carry on a better and more public house, sanitary and better from every standpoint."

Counsel for Mr. Barrows read a letter from Frank Blanchard, a restaurant keeper in the square and a tenant of Miss Preston, who appeared as a remonstrant. Mr. Blanchard was in a letter from John H. Evans favoring the granting of the application was also read as was a letter from Martha and Elizabeth McDermott, property owners in the vicinity.

Patrick F. Brady, a property owner, said that he did not think the saloon would be an injury to either the square or the public generally.

Louis Fielding, pork and provision dealer, stated that as long as the people of Lowell voted for license he felt that Mr. Barrows should be granted one. In fact he believed that any man in the city of Lowell who desired a license should be granted one, irrespective of the condition of individuals.

John P. Quinn, dealer in wood and coal, said that if Lowell is to have liquor saloons he believed they should be on the principal streets and within view of the public. He was opposed to the saloons in back streets where a disreputable business can be conducted and also where women can enter without fear of being seen. He said: "We are trying to make a business thoroughfare out of Bowknock street. I know that there are a lot of dead ones in that vicinity, but I think that the district between Davis square will be more of a business centre than private residential district."

Among the others who appeared in favor of the granting of a license in Davis square were: John Drinn, John A. Pinnegar, Andrew Haley, William Holahan, Frank Fagan, Byron Johnson, E. H. Mooney and others.

After counsel for Mr. Barrows had made a brief argument, the matter was taken under advisement by the board.

Man Was to Be Tried for Larceny

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., April 13.—On the eve of his present trial on the charge of stealing Broom county funds which was scheduled to open in Cooperstown today and as a tragic climax of the investigation of the county affairs in Broom county which began in 1907, Arthur Back, former clerk of the Broom county board of supervisors, former custodian of county buildings and former chairman of the Broom county republican committee, committed suicide early today by shooting himself through the head.

The suicide occurred shortly after seven thirty o'clock this morning, but the body was not found until two hours later, when a clerk in Mr. Back's office found the dead man sitting at a table clutching a revolver. Two shots were fired, one through a pane of glass, presumably to see if the revolver was in working condition and the second through the back of the head.

While the shots were heard in the building they attracted no attention, and Mr. Back was supposed to be on his way to Cooperstown, having announced last night that he would leave at 4 a. m. today.

The suicide closes a long series of official investigations of Broom county good roads affairs by state and county officials which until lately resulted in the returning of twenty-one indictments, the resignation of Mr. Back from his office of clerk of the board of supervisors, custodian of county buildings and chairman of the Broom county republican committee, the resignation of County Treasurer Joseph King and the resignation of County Commissioner as county commissioner of poor.

Only one of the series of cases has been tried and the second was scheduled to begin in Cooperstown today. The first trial on a charge of misappropriation of $65 of county funds took place in January and February, 1908, and resulted in the conviction of the defendant.

Mr. Back was sentenced to Auburn prison for a term of not more than three and one half nor less than one year. The granting of a certificate of reasonable doubt by Justice Clark in January and February, 1908, and the appeal is still pending before the appellate division.

Mr. Back had announced that he would conduct his own defense at the second trial.

SCOWMAN HUNG IN A BOTTOM LESS HULL

NEW YORK, April 13.—Capt. Nelson of the harbor inspector's tug Cerberus while coming in from sea late on Sunday night overhauled a string of self-dumping scows bound in, flying light, with their bottoms open getting a clausophobe from the sea water through which they were being towed by the tug Eugene Moran. When abreast of the first scow of the three in the tow he heard a man yelling from the inside of the scow.

Some of the Cerberus' crew went aboard the scow after the tug had made fast alongside and found the scowman, Angelo Bonardi, an Italian who speaks little English, clinging to a chain in the water beside the slippery bottoms. He could not climb up the steep incline to which he was nearest because it was too slippery, and so he hung there. He had been yelling half an hour before he was heard, and a rope was lowered to him and he put it around his body and was hauled up and taken aboard the Cerberus, too exhausted to stand.

He said he had been hit by a sea that boarded the scow and knocked into him, then a heavy swell. He grabbed a chain and could not get a footing and so began to yell. The other scowmen on the boats ahead were too far away to hear him. He was taken to the Smith infirmary at Staten Island. He will be well enough to go home today.

Miss Ha Mongrain, organist at St. Louis church in Joseph A. Bernard, laid out at St. Joseph's, Arthur J. Martell, organist at St. John Baptists, and Albert Ducharme, who plays the organ at the French-American church, will attend the fourth semi-annual convention of the French-American Organists' association at Holyoke, next Thursday.

MRS. CLAUDIA HAINS

Has Agreed to Testify Against Her Husband

NEW YORK, April 12.—Mrs. Claudia Libby Hains will be a witness against her husband, Captain Peter C. Hains, when he is placed on trial in the murder of William E. Annis at the Bay-side Yacht club. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Libby, of Boston, will also be a witness.

District Attorney Frederick G. De Witt, who will prosecute the young army officer, announced this yesterday upon his return from Boston, where he interviewed Mrs. Hains and her mother.

"I talked to the women for two hours in the presence of their attorneys, and they consented to come down here next week ready to take the witness stand whenever I chose to call them," Mr. De Witt said. "I cannot say what they will be called upon to testify."

Mr. De Witt admitted that Mrs. Hains said she was eager to secure her divorce from the captain, and therefore declined to come here until she was assured that she would not be asked anything which might jeopardize her chances of getting the divorce.

The defense undoubtedly will endeavor to show Mrs. Hains' relations with Annis, the victim, but, of course, it will not be allowed to inquire into any subjects which are not laid open in the state's direct examination.

Mrs. Hains will not be allowed by the law, however, to testify anything that might put her husband's life in jeopardy. A wife may not do that. There are many interesting things she might tell as to the alleged confession she made about her marriage relations with Annis, but it is not believed likely that she will voluntarily go into that.

Mr. De Witt, as a matter of fact, does not know what he will ask her, he said yesterday. His trip to Boston chiefly was for the purpose of finding out if he could get her here in case he needed her.

The young woman appeared most eager to recover custody of her children, the district attorney said. They are at present in charge of General and Mrs. Hains, Captain Hains' parents.

Mr. De Witt was very busy yesterday preparing for the case. He consulted with a great number of witnesses, among them nearly all of those who were called in the trial which resulted in Thornton Jenkins Hains, the captain's brother, being found not guilty of complicity in the killing of Annis.

The county officials were busy too. A special panel of 150 taxmen was drawn, in addition to the usual 45. Curiously, one of the names drawn was that of Thomas Walsh, of Astoria, who was juror No. 3 in the Thornton Jenkins Hains trial. He probably will be excused from duty. Also two brothers-in-law of Alexander Jardine, the Indian, who was juror No. 7, in the previous trial, were drawn. They are Frank and Otto Gropper.

Mr. De Witt will be aided in his prosecution by Assistant District Attorney John Hetherington and by a special attorney to be engaged by the county. Despite the failure to convict Thornton Hains, every effort will be made to send the captain to the chair.

EASTER MONDAY BALL

Annual Affair Conducted by the Mathews a Grand Success

The Easter Monday concert and ball, which annually marks the opening of the post-Lenten social season and is one of the successes of the year, was held last night in Associated hall under the auspices of the Mathew Temperance Institute. The hall was a bower of greenery and artistic decorations, the music was of the general high order and the attendance very large.

The ball in many respects a grand reunion, for once a person attends one of the affairs conducted by the Mathews he is sure to attend each succeeding one.

The committee in charge of the general arrangements spared neither money nor pains in an attempt to make last night's party the stellar event of the social circle of Lowell.

The interior of the hall was very artistically and attractively decorated, the predominant colors being green and white, while greenery added to the general beauty of the surroundings.

The stage presented a very pretty spectacle. The background was of white while the sides, bottom and top of the front were hidden from view by graceful folds of green and white bunting.

The orchestra occupied a position behind a bank of greenery, while about the windows were lace curtains caught up in waving folds.

The front of the gallery and stairs leading from the floor to the gallery were dressed in soft colored bunting, while steamers of alternate colors caught in a graceful cluster over the chandelier in the center of the hall were strung to all parts of the gallery.

During the early part of the evening an excellently rendered concert program was given out by Kittredge's orchestra, Stephen Perry leader.

The first number on the program was march "Ideal," by D. W. Reeves, which was followed by a serenade duet for violin and flute by A. E. Tull, after which the following numbers were heard:

Irish Overture—"Sons of Erin," F. Beyer.
Nicolo Solo—Selected, Z. I. Bissonette.
Overture—"Easter Morn," Paul A. Sullivan.
Finale—"The Aviator," James M. Fulton.

The feature of the evening, however, was the grand march led by Timothy J. Sullivan, floor director, and Miss Catherine Corey. Miss Corey was attractively attired in white silk with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of red roses. They were followed by Dr. T. J. Cullinane and Miss Jennie McGuire, the latter wearing black and carrying lilies.

Among the others who participated in the march were: Mayor George H. Brown and Mrs. Helen Holden; Mr. and Mrs. James J. Gallagher; George R. O'Neill and Miss Anna M. O'Neill; William J. Gargan and Miss Alice Bowman; Dennis J. Sullivan and Miss Gertrude Donoghue; M. J. Boyle and Miss Eva Landry; Dr. Napoleon Provencher and Miss Catherine Rowe; Joseph Cassidy and Miss Catherine V. Usher; W. C. MacBryne and Miss Catherine Donoghue; Frank J. Collins.

SPRING ARRIVALS
With warmer weather comes the awakening of bugs that have lain dormant during the winter. This never happens where Howard's Dead Easy is used. When housecleaning sprinkle it in corners, about edges of carpets, in closets or chests where you store woolens or furs, in fact on anything susceptible to moths or other insects, and your goods are safe. Will not stain or injure any fabric. Leaves no unpleasant odor. In sprinker-top bottles. At drug stores or of the maker, Howard, the druggist, 197 Central St. and Miss Elizabeth Donoghue; Joseph McVey and Miss Milla E. McMahon; Patrick J. Fitzgerald and Miss Helen A. Cullen; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Emstey; Thomas F. Glynn and Miss Pearl M. Brady; James M. Fagan and Miss Alice M. Dillon; George Brigham and Miss Alice Cox; James F. Riley and Miss Katherine F. Smith; John L. McDonough and Miss Mary Hammett; and many others.

At the conclusion of the march general dancing was commenced and continued till midnight with an intermission for supper which was served at the Merrimack hotel.

The success of the affair was due to the zealous and untiring work of the following efficient officers:

General manager, James J. Gallagher; assistant general manager, James E. Riley; floor marshal, Timothy J. Sullivan; assistants, Dr. T. J. Cullinane, George R. O'Neill, chief aids, William J. Gargan, marshal of the society, Dennis J. Sullivan; adds, James Quirk, J. J. Dwyer, James Gallagher, Dennis Halliday, Michael J. Boyle, Walter T. Powers, John Keator, P. J. Begley, John L. Sketch of Society
Beautiful souvenirs containing the photographs of the officers of the party as well as a short history of the institute, were distributed during the evening. The sketch of the institute was as follows:

During the past 25 or 30 years a large number of societies (fraternal, beneficial, temperance, literary and social) have been organized in the city of Lowell. Some of these societies for the purpose of the Mathew Temperance Institute.

Among the societies which may be classed under the latter head may be mentioned the subject of this sketch, the Mathew Temperance Institute.

In the fall of 1881 a number of young men, most of whom were engaged in the various mills of the city, observing with dismay the prevalence and growth of drinking habits among the people, and recognizing the imperative need of a temperance society which should be conducted upon somewhat different plans than were the societies at that time existing, determined to found a society which should be attractive to the young.

Accordingly a few of the young men principally interested in the matter, most prominent among whom were Florence J. O'Donoghue and P. J. Sullivan, extended invitations to many of the young men of St. Patrick's parish to meet at the hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic union, in Urban block, on the first Sunday in January, 1882.

In response to these invitations about forty young men assembled and then and there organized the Mathew Temperance Institute.

The first officers elected were: President, Florence J. O'Donoghue; vice president, Patrick H. Ryan; recording secretary, Cornelius H. Gray; financial secretary, Cornelius H. Hart; treasurer, Martin J. Courtney.

The society engaged a small room in Urban hall, which was used at first only as a reading and recreation room, their business meetings being held in the hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic union. In the spring of 1884, the society had grown to such an extent that larger rooms were imperatively needed, and a hall was secured in Wyman's Exchange, to which the society removed. Their good fortune followed them to their new quarters, and in the fall of 1884 they required a still larger hall to accommodate their largely increased membership. The firm of Cook & Tracy had just erected an elegant block on Central street, and the society was fortunate enough to secure the upper floor, consisting of two anterooms and a large hall for their purposes, and thither they removed January 1, 1885.

Here the society had room to expand and develop, and before the close of 1885 they numbered over 400 members in good standing.

The detail of all the work performed by the society during its existence would be impossible within the limited space herein accorded. Suffice it to say that no public demonstration is considered complete without the presence of the Mathew Temperance Institute. While laboring earnestly for the objects for which they were organized, they have taken a lively interest in everything which was proposed for the benefit of the Catholic people of the city. Nor have their efforts even in temperance work been confined selfishly to themselves. In the Arch-Diocese, an A. A. union of Boston, the influence has been felt, their advice asked, their assistance welcomed, and their example followed. At home and in the immediate vicinity they have assisted in organizing various temperance societies, two of which own their own halls and are a credit to the city.

The presidents of the society since its organization have been: Florence J. O'Donoghue, 1882 (deceased); James H. Morrison, 1882; P. F. Sullivan, 1883; Michael J. Dowd, 1884-1885; Lawrence Cummings, 1885; Cornelius F. Callahan, 1886; Edward F. Slattery, 1887; John J. Loneragan, 1888; James J. Quinn, 1889 (deceased); Michael J. Lunn, 1890; Michael J. Lynch, 1890; John J. Ball, 1891; John B. McAlone, 1891-1892; James J. Quinn, 1892; Michael J. Manning, 1893; Walter T. Hickey, 1894; Daniel F. Reilly, 1895; William F. Thornton, 1896; J. F. Burns, 1896; John J. Gallagher, 1897-1898; John A. McKenna, 1899; John J. Lyons, 1900-1901; John J. Murphy, 1901-1902; Thomas H. Gallagher, 1902; Humphrey F. Sullivan, 1903; George L. Hunt, 1904; John V. McDonough, 1905-1906; Michael F. Lavin, 1906-1907; John J. Coyne, 1908; James J. Gallagher, present president.

The first spiritual director of the society was Rev. Thomas F. McManus, who was succeeded by Rev. W. George Martin, the present spiritual director, and very much of the progress of the organization can be traced to their paternal advice and kindly interest in its affairs.

In the year 1888 the idea of a building fund was broached and favorably received, and in the fall of that year the first bazaar was held for the purpose, and in 1891 another grand bazaar was held to help out the building fund.

In the summer of 1905 ground was broken in preparation for their new and magnificent building which now stands on Dutton street at a cost of nearly $20,000.

The grand opening of the new building took place on January 1, 1906, by a grand carnival of games, to help defray the expenses of the erection of the society's building. The structure, with its large hall and beautiful reception rooms, has been the scene of many delectable social functions. The hall is now used as a moving picture house, which is conducted by the society.

NOTES OF THE BALL
Quite a few former presidents of the society enjoyed the pleasures of the evening.

Work Weakens the Kidneys

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Work for People Who Work in Lowell.

Most Lowell people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding of jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious household work—lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying to do the same in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in back bones, Lowell cures prove it.

Peter Carpenter, living at 7 Rockdale avenue, Lowell, Mass., says: "My work necessitates a great deal of heavy lifting and this, together with a fall I received a short time ago, affected my kidneys. My back became very lame and aching for days at a time. I used everything I thought might bring the relief but to no avail. As my kidneys were not doing their work in a proper manner I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box from Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store. They soon banished the backache and I have had no trouble from that source since. My kidneys have also been greatly strengthened and I feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

STOMACH TROUBLE NEARLY KILLED A MICHIGAN WOMAN

Mrs. John Lease, a Highly Respected Woman of Eaton Rapids Tells of Terrible Suffering. She says:

"To say that my life was saved after I had used Mi-o-na is not putting the matter too strongly, as the doctors pronounced my case cancer of the stomach and when I commenced using Mi-o-na I was had on and too weak to last long."

Stomach complaint bothered me for over seven years, the cramps and pains were terrible, and were more acute in the forenoon, my digestive organs did not properly digest my food, and gas formed in the very best food, and very nervous and used to tremble and shake like an aspen leaf.

This nervousness ran me down steadily. At times the gas would make a pressure on my heart and I would think my hours were numbered. I consulted the very best physicians, but they seemed to be no help for me and they thought that I had a cancer of the stomach, and that it was only a matter of short duration before I would be no more.

During the evening were the result of the energetic work of James F. Bourke, one of the hustling members of the institute.

The busiest man in connection with the arrangements for an Easter Monday ball is the secretary of the committee. This year the work of the position fell to the lot of Walter E. Tucker, and he gave his time and labor unsparingly to make the event a success.

A striking coincidence of the ball was that seven years ago a brother of Flour Dyer Sullivan acted in the same capacity at the Easter Monday ball.

It was a typical Mathew crowd, the "old guard," so-called, that have attended the ball since its inception, being in attendance, represented by a big gathering of the younger set.

CAPTAIN COOK

Wants to Discover Trail of Mackerel

GLOUCESTER, April 13.—Captain Jerry Cook, a government expert, has sailed from here aboard the United States fish commission schooner Grampus, Captain Hainsen, on a voyage of exploration. The vessel will be gone eight months and Captain Cook hopes to discover the trail of mackerel from the time they strike in on the southern grounds of Cape Hatteras to the time they disappear somewhere after passing up the gulf of St. Lawrence in the early fall, and to keep track of them for the entire season.

Captain Cook who is an experienced mackerel fisher, has had much correspondence with the bureau of fisheries at Washington relative to his undertaking, and he has also conferred with all the big mackerel catchers here to get their views on the work.

The department is desirous of having anyone interested in the work receive by telegram such information of value as Captain Cook may have when ever the Grampus makes a port.

LAWYER MISSING POLICE SHOT BOY

Was Executor of Estate Who Ran From Supposed Murder

PORT JERVIS, April 13.—William A. Parshall, one of the leaders of the bar, political life and society in Ontario county, is missing from his home in this city. He has been absent since last Tuesday, and fear is felt for his welfare.

Yesterday he was to have appeared before Surrogate Sweetser in Goshen, the county seat, to give an accounting of a $30,000 estate, which was in his hands for settlement. But he did not go to the surrogate's court and it was learned from his family that his whereabouts were not known.

The Conkling estate is the one in question. There was an action by various heirs over a bequest of several thousand dollars to a Miss Elliott of Rutherford, N. J. Besides this, Parshall is executor for other estates, among them those of the late Gordon Adams and the late Hill Coyte of this city, both of whom left comfortable fortunes.

All sorts of wild rumors, most of which were found to be untrue, followed the news of the attorney's absence yesterday. One was that he had committed suicide in the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York.

The members of his family are shocked by his vanishment and the absence of news from him. His wife is a daughter of Louis Senger, former mayor of this city.

INJURED HIS BACK
Joseph Corfa sustained an injury to his back yesterday afternoon while at work at the Appleton mill. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

A LAMP EXPLODED
An alarm from box 7 at about 7:40 last night was for a fire in an alley off Market street. A lamp had exploded in a tenement house and somebody wrapped it in a blanket and threw it into the alley. One squirt of the chemical extinguished the blaze. No casualties.

POOL TOURNAMENT
A close and interesting game of pool between the Syrian Kid of Lawrence and the Lewiston Kid, of Lewiston, Me., was witnessed by a big crowd at the Middlesex street pool parlors, last evening. The Syrian Kid won by the score of 125 to 108. Both men gave fine exhibitions and were in fine condition. The Lewiston Kid had the better of the argument until the ninth inning. By his failure to name his shot in this inning, until after it had been played he lost the count and he gave the Syrian Kid the game. They are to play every night this week. Great interest is being taken in these games as the winner will challenge the champion of New England.

BAD BRUSH FIRE

Burned Over Twenty Acres of Land in Dracut

A brisk brush fire which was assuming dangerous proportions when aid was summoned from this city, broke out on the property of Oliver J. Coburn in Collinsville yesterday, and before it was extinguished between 15 and 20 acres of brush land had been burned over.

The fire started at a point nearly opposite the New Boston road, and was immediately sent to the Navy Yard department, but the members of that department were unable to cope with the fire and the fire fighters were reinforced by the apparatus from the Centre as well as some of the employees of the Beaver Brook mills in Collinsville.

Ignited by a brisk wind and fed by the dry undergrowth, the fire started to spread rapidly and word was sent to Chief Hosmer to render assistance. He immediately dispatched a chemical to the scene and after considerable difficulty the fire was extinguished.

There was considerable cord wood on the lot, but it is understood that with the exception of a few cords the wood was not damaged.

SNEAK THIEVES PRESIDENT TAFT

Are at Work in This City To Occupy a House in Beverly

The police have been notified that sneak thieves are trying to operate in this city and housekeepers had better be careful to have the doors of their houses locked during the day.

That some of the thieves have designs on the residence of Alfred D. Ware at 37 Fort Hill avenue is apparent for when Mr. Ware went home yesterday he found indications that led him to believe that a wax or soap impression had been taken of the lock on his front door.

He immediately notified the police and the patrolmen have been notified to be on the alert and keep their eyes on strangers.

In conversation with a representative of The Sun, Mr. Ware stated that several suspicious characters have been seen about the vicinity of Fort Hill avenue during the past few days.

Heavy Stone Fell on Rolla Carlin

Rolla Carlin, a well known resident of Tyngsboro, met with a bad accident while at work loading stone for his brother, Perley Carlin, at the railroad stone landing near Maloney's quarry, yesterday.

One of James Wotton's horses was being used and as it was being driven near the axle of the wagon struck a large edge stone, causing it to topple over, pinning down Mr. Carlin, who was standing beside the wagon, by the lower limbs.

The stone was removed and Mr. Carlin was removed to his home and Dr. Lambert of Tyngsboro was summoned. It was found that one leg was broken and the other badly crushed.

MAYOR FLETCHER

SOUNDS WARNING AGAINST PROPOSED MONOPOLY

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 12.—Suggesting that the city council take a positive stand against the passage of a bill now before the legislature, "an act to incorporate the Blackstone Valley Gas and Electric Co.," Mayor Henry Fletcher yesterday in a message said that if he is informed correctly the measure is "to acquire a monopoly of the gas and electric lighting, heating and power business of the city of Providence."

"Such a merger," continues the mayor, "would eliminate all competition. The inevitable result is watered stock and perhaps watered bonds."

Scenes Where Roosevelt Will Hunt

LONDON, April 13.—The sporting goods house in London that furnished the camp equipment for Theodore Roosevelt's hunting trip in Africa has received a cable from Mombasa saying that the outfit arrived there safely.

Colonel Roosevelt and his party are scheduled to reach Mombasa on April 21. R. J. Cunningham, the expert hunter, who is making the arrangements for the hunt, has engaged porters and has everything in readiness for the arrival of the party. Colonel Roosevelt will go at once to Nairobi, 327 miles up the Uganda railroad from Mombasa. Nairobi will be the base of supplies for the hunt. In that part of Africa there are two rainy seasons—one in the early spring and the other in the late fall. It is the intention of the Roosevelt party to hunt during the dry season of the summer and fall, proceeding to Port Florence in October.

These pictures show the station at Nairobi, where the hunters will enter the jungle; a scene in Mombasa, and an American built bridge on the Uganda railroad.

BOSTON COLLEGE SENATE REPORT

To be Made a Great University

BOSTON, April 13.—At Boston college yesterday the board of trustees have been considering the plans submitted for the architectural competition for designs of the new group of buildings to be erected on the new Boston college grounds in Newton, announced the winners.

There were 12 firms entered, and three prizes were awarded as follows:

First prize of $1000, awarded to Maginnis & Walsh of Boston for the best general plan of the group of buildings and arrangement of the land.

Second prize of $500 for the second best plan of general group, awarded to Edward T. P. Graham of Cambridge.

Third prize, awarded to Maginnis & Walsh for the best design of the recitation building, the first that will be erected.

For this design the winning firm will be allowed to erect the building.

The judges were Rev. Fr. Thomas L. Gasson, S. J., president of the college; Rev. David W. Harrin, S. J., vice president; Rev. Joseph F. Keating, S. J., Treasurer; Rev. J. H. Hayes, S. J., Arthur A. Sherrill, landscape architect, Charles W. Lange builder and William D. Austin, architect.

Work on the first building will be started this summer. A great garden party similar to that held last summer, will probably mark the beginning of the work of excavation.

The first building is expected to be finished by September, 1910, and the freshmen class of that year will enter there.

The plan is to make of Boston college a great Catholic university and the plans call for a group of 15 buildings, arranged to make one of the most perfect and classic groups of college buildings in America.

LAWRENCE MAYOR

Again Tried to Remove Inspector

LAWRENCE, April 12.—Mayor White tried to remove the police inspector with wooden blocks last night and was rebuffed. The mayor, who had passed an order to have the street with granite blocks laid in front of the police station, tried to remove the inspector from his office.

The mayor appointed Charles E. Smith as inspector of the police, but the city council failed to confirm the appointment.

When the mayor attempted to remove the inspector, a group of citizens, led by George A. Pitts and the citizens, surrounded the mayor's car and prevented him from entering the city hall.

The mayor's car was surrounded by a group of citizens, and the mayor was forced to leave the city hall.

Misery From Upset Stomach and Dyspepsia Will Vanish

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump, of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch Gas and Eructate sour, undigested food or have a feeling of Dizziness, Heartburn, Fullness, Nausea, Bad taste in mouth and Stomach headache—this is Indigestion.

A full case of Pepp's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from Stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50 cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all kinds must go, and why they usually relieve a sour stomach or indigestion in five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangule after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains powder sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the toilet with a healthy, healthy appetite, but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Bilioussness or Constipation.

This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach prescription, too, if you ever have Indigestion or Gas, or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangule of Diapiesin.

John J. Purtell Placed Under Arrest

BOSTON, April 13.—John J. Purtell of J. J. Purtell & Co., customhouse brokers, at 131 State st., was yesterday arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Hayes on the charge of defrauding the government out of several thousand dollars in import duties. He pleaded not guilty to a hearing was fixed for April 25.

Bail was fixed at $3000, and being unable to secure it he was committed to the Charles street jail.

Purtell's operations are alleged to cover a period of two or three years, during which it is claimed that while collecting the full amounts of duty upon the true value of shipments from the consignees, he presented bogus papers of the entries at the customhouse, misrepresenting the quantity of the invoices as well as falsely stating the points of shipment or export from the shore.

Collector Lyman had been suspicious for some time and after an investigation brought the matter to the attention of U. S. Dist. Atty. Frank O. Garfield. The latter secured a judgment for $2230.97 through the U. S. circuit court and afterward procured a warrant from Commissioner Hayes, for the arrest of Purtell. Deputy U. S. Marshall James Ruhl was unable to find Purtell yesterday. Purtell is about 35 years old and resides at 10 Oak View terrace, Jamaica Plain.

WEDDING-RING

RECOVERED FROM A WOMAN IN NASHUA.

NASHUA, N. H., April 13.—Through the expeditions work of the Nashua police last night a wedding ring belonging to Mrs. Melinda Langlais of Woonsocket, R. I., was recovered from Miss Eva Savagen of Woonsocket, when the latter was going through this city on a Canada-bound train.

Shortly before 8:30 Deputy George H. Campbell received a telephone message from Lieut. George of the Woonsocket police, informing him that Mrs. Langlais had lost her wedding ring and that Miss Savagen was suspected. He gave a description of Miss Savagen and stated that she had left Woonsocket for Nashua by way of Woonsocket, and would take the Canadian train here. It was then within three minutes of the leaving time of the Canadian train.

Deputy Campbell communicated with Patrolman Frank Fletcher, and by description he picked out the woman on the train. At first she pretended that she did not speak English, but when she did not speak English, but when she threatened with arrest gave up the ring, which will be sent to the Woonsocket police.

"Doctor's Daughter"

Talk on the Stomach

The stomach and digestive organs are many times the cause of some disease which might have been prevented if these organs had performed their natural functions, and the great variety of symptoms which arise from a disordered condition of the stomach and liver, cause many people to think that they have some awful disease, the consequence of which is, that they do nothing for their stomach, but doctor for some other trouble. A poor acting stomach and liver will cause headache, backache, nervous troubles, distress after eating, bloatedness, heartburn, loss of appetite, insomnia, loss of flesh, constipation and may other disagreeable feelings. If you are a sufferer of any trouble and your stomach or liver is out of order correct these troubles first, get the benefit of the food you eat, and your other troubles will many times correct themselves. Stomach-Rite, a combined stomach and liver remedy, has an unequalled record of many remarkable cures to its credit, and when you need a stomach remedy, get the best, a remedy that gives results, not promises, that's Stomach-Rite. One course and you will quickly convince you the true worth of this medicine. There is nothing just as good, insist on Stomach-Rite.

Very truly yours,

New England Full of Rheumatism

We find that New England is full of rheumatism. While most the people in different parts of the country, who call on our representative, have stomach and liver troubles, yet in New England we find that many who call on him, have rheumatism.

Various things cause rheumatism in various people. Here are some of the causes—failure to digest food in the stomach and intestines. The undigested food ferments and putrefies, generating poisons which get into the blood and are deposited at the joints and in the muscles, thus causing the pain which is known as rheumatism. Failure of the liver to secrete enough bile to counteract the effect of indigestion and other disorders. There must be enough bile to keep the system regular, else waste products will accumulate and become poison. Rheumatism is a matter of poison in the system. Failure of the kidneys to act properly. When the kidneys are healthy they remove this poison from the system. There are always a certain number of poisons being created in the system every day and they must be removed every day. The system must be cleaned internally every day, just as the body is washed every day, or it will become so dirty that disease will arrive. It is the work of the kidneys to so cleanse the system internally. Whenever for any reason or from any cause, these poisons are generated in the body and are not removed by the kidneys, rheumatism follows. Rheumatism is first merely twinges of pain, dull aches and rather sharp, piercing pains and stiffness of the joints. As rheumatism advances it is accompanied often by general nervous backache, dizziness and general morbid complexion, sores that will not heal, sick headaches, extreme nervousness, and other symptoms of a system crying out against the poisons which are hurting it.

Kickapoo Sagwa does three things at a time in connection with rheumatism. It gradually expels the poisons which are causing the rheumatic pains, it cures the indigestion and torpidity of the liver which are causing the poisons to be generated. Thirdly, it builds up and strengthens the digestive organs and the liver, and acts as such a tonic and corrective upon the kidneys, that these three organs are restored to health and activity.

"I have great faith," writes Mrs. Charles A. Golding of 77 Cleveland Ave., Everett, Mass. "in Kickapoo medicine as also did my father. He was in such a position that he could not walk without crutches on account of rheumatism. He took twelve bottles of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and once more felt and was able to act like a young man. In my home I use Kickapoo Oil. It acts quickly and consequently, I always depend upon it. I suffer a great deal with neuralgia and headache, and always find a sure relief in using Kickapoo Oil. My daughter has always suffered from pains in the ankles and elbows to such an extent that she could not sleep at night. Her ankles were swollen to twice their normal size. We had doctors but without relief. I finally thought of Kickapoo Oil and was surprised to find how soon my child went to sleep. After using two bottles of Kickapoo Oil she was well enough to go skating. I shall always praise Kickapoo Oil and Kickapoo Sagwa, and shall never think of keeping house without it."

Kickapoo Remedies are for sale at all druggists. If you wish to test Sagwa before you purchase, we will gladly send you a free trial bottle by mail.

EASTER WEDDINGS

Double Wedding in Woodbury St. Last Evening—Many Happy Nuptial Events

Following closely after the triumphant music of the Easter festival, the strains of the stately wedding march are heard for the post-Lenten nuptial season opened most auspiciously in Lowell and will continue for the next few months. Thus the last train for Boston last evening contained several merry parties, while evidences of showers of rice and confetti were noted about the depot this morning.

A Double Wedding

An unusual and a beautiful nuptial event took place last evening at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Bradley, 10 Woodbury street, last evening when her two daughters, the Misses Mary E. and Annie V., were united in marriage to Messrs. J. Edward Mullen and Daniel F. Carville respectively. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. McHugh at the parochial residence of St. Patrick's church. Both brides were beautifully gowned. Miss Mary wore gray tulle veiling over tulle silk trimmed with point d'esprit lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Annie wore an empire gown of champagne colored messaline silk trimmed with folds of silk and lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. The brides were escorted by Mr. and Mrs. Mullen and Mr. and Mrs. Carville. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Mullen and Misses Mary E. and Annie V. Carville. The groomsmen were Messrs. J. Edward Mullen and Daniel F. Carville. The ceremony was attended by a large number of guests. The reception was held at the home of Mrs. Bradley. The wedding breakfast was served at 11 o'clock. The guests were entertained by the bridesmaids. The ceremony was a most beautiful and happy event.

while Mr. and Mrs. Carville will enjoy their honeymoon in New York.

KENNEY-CARTER

Mr. Edward Kenney of Reading and Miss Ruth Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Carter, were united in marriage last evening at the home of the bride, 635 Westford street. The ceremony was performed at seven o'clock by Rev. Charles T. Billings of the Unitarian church. Hibbard's orchestra played the chorus from Lohengrin as the bride party entered, and the ceremony was performed in a room adorned with Easter lilies and yellow daffodils. The bride, who was gowned in liberty satin, trimmed with princess lace, and carried a shower bouquet of lilies-of-the-valley, was attended by her sister, Miss Edith Carter, who was gowned in yellow satin and carried yellow marguerites. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Frank Carter of Reading. The ushers were Messrs. Theodore Guild, Rodney Brown, Joseph Carter and Dr. Harold Boyle, all of Reading.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a reception was held and the young couple was assisted in receiving by Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Carter, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown of Reading, the latter a sister of the bridegroom. About 200 of the younger friends of Mr. and Mrs. Kenney attended the reception, a special car bringing a large party from Reading and Haverhill. A number of rich and beautiful gifts were received by the young couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenney are to live in Reading, where a residence has just been built for them.

LORRAIN-VERRIER

The wedding of Mr. George Lorrain and Miss Leola Verrier took place yesterday in the private chapel of St. Joseph's rectory. Rev. Fr. Amyot, O. M. I., officiated. Mr. Wilfred Lorrain, the bridegroom's father, and Mr. Joseph Verrier, the bride's father, attended the young people. Mr. John A. Lorrain, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man and Miss Emma Lorrain served as bridesmaid. The bride wore a becoming gown of white peau de soie, with veil and wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of white lilies. The bridesmaid wore white silk and carried a bouquet of white lilies. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Lorrain, 25 Parker street, where a reception also took place at night. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Amadeo Verrier of Milford, N. H. Mr. and Mrs. Lorrain will leave today on a wedding trip to New York and Connecticut. They will live at 46 New Fletcher street upon their return.

LAVOIE-COSSETTE

Mr. Napoleon Lavoie and Miss Cordelia Cossette were married yesterday morning at St. Joseph's rectory, where the ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. Amyot, O. M. I. Messrs. Joseph Gregoire and Adolphe Cossette were the witnesses.

GUILBEAULT-SANTIER

Mr. Guilebert Guilbeault and Miss Alina Santier were married yesterday afternoon by Rev. Fr. Amyot, O. M. I. Messrs. Alfred and Arthur Guilbeault served as witnesses.

VITO-CARVER

Chiefdom M. Vito, of Nictaux Falls, Nova Scotia, and Miss Winnifred G. Carver of this city were united in marriage Monday at the residence of Rev. A. R. Tothmore, 405 Westford street. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Carver, who was attired in a blue China silk, trimmed with Irish point lace and fashioned in the latest director style, and carried pink roses. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. John Potter, who gave her in marriage. She was prettily gowned in a dress of white China silk, trimmed with pearl and silk, and carried a bouquet of white lilies of the valley and caught in the front with her diamond engagement ring; she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom's party was led down the opposite aisle by the Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the church, who performed the ceremony, followed by Mr. David R. Cuddeh and Mr. J. Edgar Colby, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, as ushers. Mr. J. William Harrison, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and accompanied the bridegroom to the altar rail, where they met the bride party. The single ring ceremony was used.

LEITH-POTTER

Mr. J. Edward Leith, proprietor of the Crown studio and organist of the Gorham Street Methodist church, was united in marriage with Miss Margaret J. Potter at the Gorham Street Methodist church yesterday afternoon. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Potter, who was attired in a blue China silk, trimmed with Irish point lace and fashioned in the latest director style, and carried pink roses. The bride entered leaning on the arm of her father, Mr. John Potter, who gave her in marriage. She was prettily gowned in a dress of white China silk, trimmed with pearl and silk, and carried a bouquet of white lilies of the valley and caught in the front with her diamond engagement ring; she carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridegroom's party was led down the opposite aisle by the Rev. N. W. Matthews, pastor of the church, who performed the ceremony, followed by Mr. David R. Cuddeh and Mr. J. Edgar Colby, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, as ushers. Mr. J. William Harrison, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and accompanied the bridegroom to the altar rail, where they met the bride party. The single ring ceremony was used.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Potter, 91 Wood Street, where a reception to friends and relatives was held. The ushers at the house and church were Messrs. Fred Potter, master of ceremonies, and Messrs. George and Harry Potter as flower girls. The bridesmaids were Misses Mary and Joseph E. Potter, brothers of the bride, and Mr. J. Edgar Colby and Mr. David R. Cuddeh, Jr. A wedding supper was served after the reception. Messrs. Grace Reading, Amy Howard, May Phillips, Miss Whelan, Zuldee Mills, Sarah Hawthorn, Ada Ogley, and Mrs. John S. Needham, friends of the bride, served.

The matrons were Mrs. James M. Leith, Mrs. Thomas G. Leith, Mrs. Thomas Higginbottom, Mrs. George Stacombe and Miss Ella Reading. Numerous guests were present from Waltham, Somerville, Roxbury, East Walpole and East Boston. Mr. and Mrs. Leith were the recipients of many costly and beautiful presents, among which was a parlor room set from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston and family. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was an oval ring, and the bridegroom's gift to the bride was a pair of diamond links.

The couple left on the 10:30 train for a honeymoon trip to New York and Boston. They will be at home to friends and relatives at 100 Central street, Boston, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Augustine Hebert.

An anniversary solemn mass will be celebrated in the New Church, St. Louis, on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, for the repose of the soul of Mrs. Augustine Hebert.

THE POLICE BILL

Meeting Strong Opposition in the House

A bill that is causing much discussion throughout the state and which has a member of the Lowell delegation, Rep. Barlow, as one of its principal opponents, is Senate bill 135 as follows:

An act to extend the jurisdiction of police, district and municipal courts in criminal cases.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives in general court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

Section 1—Police, district and municipal courts, including the municipal court of the city of Boston, shall have original jurisdiction, concurrent with the superior court, of felonies punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not more than five years, and also of the crimes mentioned in sections 18 and 19 of chapter 208 of the Revised Laws, and they may impose the same penalties as the superior court in like cases, except imprisonment in the state prison.

Section 2—This act shall take effect on the first day of July in the year nineteen hundred and nine.

This bill was drafted by Warren Spalding, secretary of the Massachusetts Prison association, an organization formed for the purpose of assisting released prisoners. It is not an organization of authority, but merely a charitable organization. The bill proposes to give the police court jurisdiction over 50 additional offenses that at present are disposed of by the superior court only.

The judges and clerks of the superior court and the probation officers, including Probation Officer James P. Ramsay of this city, are opposed to the bill, and it was through Mr. Ramsay that Rep. Barlow became interested in it. It is believed that such a bill would interfere with the present probation system, which in this state and particularly in Middlesex county has been developed to an extent that is attracting the attention and favorable comment of the entire country. In the time between the arrest of a prisoner and the hearing of his case in superior court the probation officer has an opportunity to look into the record and antecedents of the accused with the result that many are taken on probation while others are given a more severe sentence than would be imposed were they sentenced directly in the police court. Dist. Atty. John J. Higgins is strongly opposed to the bill.

The bill was reported by the committee on judiciary and passed the senate, and will now go to the house. While it has passed the senate there are men who voted for it, not knowing fully its import. Senator Ross, the well known labor leader, voted for the bill, but was not aware of what it meant until informed by Rep. Barlow. Rev. Robert Walker, chaplain of the East Cambridge jail, is an opponent of the bill.

ELECTED NEW PRESIDENT

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla., April 13.—The directors of the Florida East Coast railway in annual meeting yesterday, elected J. R. Parrott, president, to succeed H. M. Flagler, who retains the position of chairman of the board of directors. Mr. Parrott has been first vice president and has had general charge and supervision of the Key West Extension. He will continue as general manager.

J. P. Beckwith was promoted to first vice president, made vacant by the promotion of Mr. Parrott.

E. Ingram was promoted to have charge of lands and industries.

100 PASSENGERS THE AERIAL FLIGHTS

Held up as Black Hand Suspects

BOSTON, April 13.—An unusually rigid inspection was made of the second cabin and stowage passengers of the steamer Domade, when she made Boston yesterday from Naples, Italy, with the result that the government officials detained four stowaways and over 100 passengers, who will be examined as black hand suspects. The officials are not sure that any of those detained are of the criminal class, but all will be closely questioned as to their former lives and their intentions in this country.

ESQUIMAUX BOY

WRITES HE IS ON HIS WAY HOME

NEW YORK, April 13.—Mene, the Esquimaux boy brought here in 1898 from the region of the Humboldt glacier in Greenland, by Commander Peary, who recently disappeared from this city, has written to Chester Bercroft announcing his intention to return to his people.

"When this reaches you," the letter reads, "I will be well on my way as I will not be mailed for three days. Never mind where I am. I am just working north. I am homesick and disgusted and when Commander Peary told me he had no room for me on his ship I lost hope. Then when professor Humpus of the Museum of Natural History refused to give me my father's body so that I could bury it, or give me my sled and gun, I gave up believing that your Christian belief, which you taught me, was meant for a poor Esquimaux boy. After all my own people are more human and kind and I am going home. Your civilization has done nothing but harm for me and my people. Good bye."

SPEAKER CANNON

Is Taken to Task by Women

CHICAGO, April 13.—Several senators and congressmen are going to receive letters of commendation for the consideration with which they treated the Chicago delegation of women who have just returned from bearing the tariff protest to Washington, and several are going to receive missives of an entirely different character.

Four displeased women are disseminating word throughout the city today that congress in general is not conversant with the book of Washington etiquette appertaining to the rules of "How to treat a woman when she comes to present a petition."

"They ducked when they saw us coming—that describes their official movements—they ducked," so Mrs. E. H. Henderson describes the deportment of the members when the women wandered through the capital in search of some one whom they might address. She went on to say:

"Chairman Payne of the ways and means committee gave orders. 'When these women come here from Chicago tell them I am out.' That is the way we were to be received by him. But I happened when we were going past the door of the committee room Congressman Payne himself came running out on his way to the elevator."

"He saw us coming with Congressman Flower as he tried to take to the tail that is, he was too late. He ducked to me and he had to stand by."

"Speaker Cannon when we saw him ducked and ran about the price of the hats we had on and about the fact that we were wearing hats. That is the way we were to be received by him. I saw him ducking and running. How can you argue things like that?"

"Play Ball" Now the Slogan. Major League Season at Hand. General Outlook of the Teams.

THE arrival of the baseball season has made the fans forget all their troubles of the last few months. Frosted ears, chilblains and roaring northwest winds are now things of the past for six or seven more months at least, and humanity has a chance to get into the warm sunlight to "whoop 'er up" for the home team.

It is interesting at this stage of the campaign to glance over the playing list of the various major league teams to note what men the clubs are depending on in the new makeup.

It is only by considering the abilities of the individual players that the strength and prospects of a team can be ascertained. It won't do to take too seriously the dictum of managers and captains, each of whom has a championship combination at the beginning of the season, at least in his own mind. The fan who determines to disburse a few brilliant remarks about championship possibilities must ferret out his own theories until the time arrives when the percentage of the teams in the record table tells the tale.

The New York Giants appear to be stronger than any other team in the league at present, and, based upon the hot fight they made last year with a crippled pitching staff, it must be admitted that they have a pretty strong look-in. On the other hand, close followers of baseball are expecting a break in the Chicago Cubs' long winning streak. It was only by the hardest kind of a finish that the world's champions pulled through last season, only with the aid of a blunder by Merkle of New York.

The Chicago management, however, has not been idle during the winter, and it has made some changes which are expected to strengthen the team where it was growing weak. If the Cubs get any kind of a good start which they did not have last year, they will be just as hard to beat out this year as ever. But New York and Philadelphia proved stumbling blocks to Chicago last year, and as both teams have been considerably strengthened for this year's battle Chicago should have a fight from start to finish. Pittsburgh's chances of improving its position in the race this year depends upon whether Manager Clarke has discovered an unknown phenom in the list of untried material he has on hand. The Pirates can always be expected to put up a hard fight, and they will very likely be somewhere near the front when the season ends.

Despite the known quality of the Chicago team and the boasted strength of the New Yorks, the Phillies still stand out as a team which deserves to be given serious consideration when trying to pick a winner. Last year the Phillies played a most important part in deciding the championship in the National league. They knocked Pittsburgh and Chicago out of first place when these teams were fighting their hardest to hold the lead, and then, through the sensational pitching of Coveleski, who won three games in five days from the Giants, they robbed New York of what looked to be a sure victory in the pennant race.

All ball teams look like winners to their followers about this time of the year, and it is reasonable to expect that the fans in Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Boston and St. Louis are giving their teams a chance for the pennant. These teams will enter the race under almost identical conditions, each of the four being under the leadership of new managers, all of whom have been stars of the diamond in the past.

It looks like a close race among Bowman, Lummie, Griffith and Bresnahan for the four positions of the second division. This lets Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia in as the most likely candidates for first division positions, and from present conditions it looks as if the National league race this year will be a harder and more interesting one than last. If it does the fans will have plenty to keep them interested.

American League.

In the junior organization it looks like another four cornered fight among the Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis teams, with Cleveland the favorite and Detroit a close second. But two changes have been made in the makeup of last year's pennant winners.

Most likely takes the place of the veteran Bill Coughlin at third base, and Owen Bush, the Indianapolis wonder, is to cover short position in place of O'Leary. Bush put up a splendid game the last few weeks of the 1908 season.

The backstopping department is stronger this year than last. With the two recruits, Easterly and Land, to help out Bemis and Clarke, the Naps have an excellent chance to capture the banner.

The Chicago Americans without their great leader, Fielder Jones, appear to be weak. While the Sox may be able to get every bit as good a manager as Jones was, they will find it a hard matter to get a man to fill his place as a player.

There never was anything sensational about Jones' playing. He never made any circus catches or drove the ball farther than it had been driven before. He had the faculty always to

Time will show Jones' value to the team. Without him they may not be as great a factor in the race as they were last season, and yet they may get as good a manager as he was.

Admirers of the St. Louis Browns are worried and alarmed over the fact that Jimmy Williams is suffering with rheumatism, and it is decidedly questionable whether he will be able to do his part this season. With Williams out of the game, Manager McAleer will find it tough sledding this year. Williams' work last season, or the greater part of it at least, was nothing short of sensational, and it will not be an easy matter to fill his shoes.

should be forced to remain idle. It will make a big difference in the team's showing this year.

Of the other four teams Washington looks the strongest. It is the first time since Washington has been represented in the American league that its team attracted so much attention from the other clubs as this year. The managers of the seven other clubs look upon Cammiller's aggregation as a tough proposition to beat and one which may prove a dark horse in the coming race.

Connie Mack may yet spring a big surprise with his Athletics, as may Lake of Boston. The New York Americans have a great collection of

Kipling's "Vampire" Dramatized. Hilliard In the Leading Part. "An Englishman's Home" Fails.

The season starts in full blast on April 14, when all sixteen teams are scheduled to play. The games on this date are as follows:
American league—Chicago at De-

(From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.)

A FOOL THERE WAS, with Robert Hilliard in the chief role, has opened at the Liberty theater, and the production as well as the performance has many points of merit.

By Porter Emerson Browne, the play is a broad dramatic version of "The Vampire" by Rudyard Kipling. Spots here and there are but slightly reinforced by the dramatist and exhibit weakness, but they are of minor importance, quite overshadowed by the undoubted excellence of the play in the main.

The cast is one of splendid ability. Mr. Hilliard shines prominently in the lead and is aided by William Courtleigh, Nanette Comstock, Edna Conroy, S. K. Walker, Katherine Kaelred and the wee little Emily Wurster.

Hilliard excels in real character work in the last act by his well retained but profoundly impressive acting as the palsied, drunk crazed victim of the vampire. It is a performance of unique interest and elevates the actor to a higher artistic plane than he has yet occupied.

The faults of the play are that it leaves to the imagination things that ought to be visualized and forestalls and makes ultra obvious things that may be imagined.

The play is given decided strength also by Miss Kaelred as the woman in the case and by Mr. Courtleigh as the loyal friend bent on saving the moral delinquent from the last abyss.

"An Englishman's Home" Fails.

How it was that Mr. Charles Frohman came to produce "An Englishman's Home" in this country is an alitiduous mystery, a puzzle as deep as the age of Ann or as the identity of the man who struck Billy Patterson. At the Criterion theater this wondrous tract has been portrayed, and the ushers have had little else to do than match pennies in the deserted aisles. The Frohman staff of "critters" surely was not deceived by the "play" prior to staging it here, and consequently there must be some mystifying reason of state or a matter of policy that dictated its production.

A Bit of Drama's "Inside."

Sometimes a big manager will produce a poor play by a good author because he thus wins the favor of the author, who will probably give the manager "first call" on his next play, which may prove to be a fortune maker. Mr. J. M. Barrie gave Mr. Frohman first call on "Peter Pan" because Mr. Frohman had lost $30,000 on one of Mr. Barrie's plays previously. And the Frohman interests made many times the money with "Peter Pan" than they lost in the failure mentioned. Oh, wise are the ways of wise managers who can afford to exercise wisdom of the aforesaid nature!

But it is improbable that "An Englishman's Home" was produced by Mr. Frohman for any such reason as that described, for Major du Maurier, the author, shows no promise of producing a drama especially valuable for American purposes. Of course there is the contingency that the major was wealthy enough to afford the little luxury of a production at his own expense and agile enough to gain the shelter of the magic name of Frohman for his venture.

The Glory of the Taproom.

It isn't every Englishman of the near author brigade who, even though adorned at least by the title of major, can sit among the backless bench of a London taproom and boast of "av-ing Mr. Charles Frohman put on one o' muh dra-a-a-mas."

You can bally well bet a B. and S. on that, fellah.

"An Englishman's Home" has an amusing scene satirizing the English national guard and a clever representation of a bombardment. Inherently it is not drama at all, but a theatricalized brochure pointing out to Englishmen the phantom of a German military invasion, the manner of which Major du Maurier has not deemed it necessary to explain.

It is well staged and well played, with William Hawtree, J. H. Benrime and Nellie Thorne in the cast.

Roy McCardell's Play.

Roy McCardell, the humorist, whose famous stories are still the feature in a New York evening newspaper and which have been read the world over, has turned author and has written a play entitled "The Gay Life" founded on his theatrical stories which describe the adventures of Dopey McKnight and Mama de Branscombe and others of their set in the bohemian colony of New York city.

Harrison Grey Flske has accepted "The Gay Life" for production at a Broadway theater. Thomas Thorne has been engaged for the leading role of Dopey McKnight. Consuelo Bailey will play the role of Lulu.

Billie Burke's Return to London.

Although Billie Burke is about to leave these shores to play Jacqueline in "Love Watches" before the male and female army of idolaters that she long ago mustered around her in London, Miss Burke is due to return to America and resume her western tour.

Her return to the British capital as a full fledged star at the head of her own company in the charming "Love Watches" is already the topic of lively speculation. Miss Burke will return "home" with practically the same company that has supported her during her tour this season.

Miss Maude Adams on Tour.

It has been definitely decided that next season Miss Adams will go on a tour over the country in "What Every Woman Knows" instead of as originally intended, repertory at the Empire theater in New York city.

He and Willy Olsen, the associate director, will bring the Dresden aggregation to America in April for a tour of the principal cities of the United States, opening their tour at the Metropolitan Opera House on April 11.

These singers will accompany the orchestra on tour and will alternate. Other soloists will accompany the orchestra, which will include Albert Spalding, violinist; Germaine Schmitzer, the pianist; Lawson, tenor; Lechard, bass; Hastings, baritone. Caruso and Fremstad are also to give concerts in conjunction with this orchestra, having been engaged by R. E. Johnston as a special feature for some of the cities.

A NEW BUILDING

Y. M. C. A. Starts Movement for a New Structure

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held last evening a committee was appointed to look up plans for a new building campaign and report back to the board of directors. This was the first official act of the association toward securing a new home. During the discussion that led to the appointment of the committee it was pointed out that the present building is sadly in need of repairs that will cost considerable. It is still nothing but an old building and the growth of the association demands attention. A fine gymnasium is essential and present plans are that the building shall include several suites of dormitories.

As a nucleus to the building fund the association has $500 on hand, $2500 of this is the Tibbette request. The new building will be erected on the land now owned by the association and will cost somewhere in the vicinity of $75,000 or $100,000. Nearly all of the old officers were re-elected at last night's meeting. The important change is the addition of the name of John J. Rogers to the board of directors, which consists of the following men: E. J. Neale, Craven, Mingley, W. H. Hoyt, M. D. Clay, and John J. Rogers. They are to serve for three years. A. D. Carter and S. Thompson were elected trustees for five years, and W. H. G. Wright was elected clerk of the corporation. The report of the treasurer shows that all bills have been paid and there is a balance of $210 in the treasury.

14 YEAR OLD BOY THE RAILROADS

Says He Ran Away Said to Have Lost With Actress $330,000,000

BOSTON, April 13.—A 14-year-old boy who ran away from his home because of infatuation for an actress, spent most of the day Monday in police station 2, dejected but not repentant.

Richard Malouin, the 14-year-old boy who has been missing from his home in Essex since Saturday, March 12, told the following story to a reporter: "I met Miss May Sheldon while she was playing in Gloucester and promised her that I would come to Boston and see her. I have got $5 and left Essex Saturday night, March 13, and came to Boston."

"Arriving in Boston I took a room at 30 Howard street, paying $1.50 for it, and paying also $1.00 for my meals for the week. Here I met Miss Sheldon and had a great time seeing her and taking in the shows at the vaudeville theatres."

"I did not like to stay in the theatres all the time, so I went down to the wharf on Atlantic avenue, and asked the cook of the schooner Conqueror to take me as galley boy on the trip that they were about to make. He took me and paid me $20 for the trip to the George Banks Fishing Grounds. I was sick most all of the two weeks that this trip covered, and was looked after by the cook, who treated me just as good as my father and mother could have done."

"When I came back to Boston, I put $15 of the $20 in a bank, which one I do not remember, and gave the book-keeper to a girl friend, Louise Stevens, but I do not know where she is now. Miss Sheldon and I then went to Washington, D. C., where she had to play at the Olympia theatre, and we stayed there three days."

"When I came back from Washington I went to Hotel Rexford to live, and spent the days in the Nicholson museum on Hanover street, where Miss Sheldon is now playing. Oliver Jones, the special policeman at this museum, turned my name of Conqueror into the newspapers, and after a lot of arguing with the girls who did not want to let him take me away, he took me to the station here, where the officers treated me nicely and let me go out and have dinner in a restaurant."

"I am sorry to have to leave all the girls, because they treated me well, especially Miss Sheldon, who told me that she was going to make me the manager of a new theatre that she said they were building for her in Jamaica Plain. But I shall be very glad to see my father and mother when I have not seen for a month. I am sorry for Oliver Jones, who took me here, because the manager said he was going to discharge him for interfering with the girls."

BOLD ATTEMPT TO LOOT THE POSTOFFICE AT ARCTIC, R. I.

ARCTIC, R. I., April 12.—An attempt to loot the postoffice safe here during the night proved unsuccessful, the robbers evidently having been frightened away before they had an opportunity to blow off the safe door. The men had made elaborate preparations for the expedition. The doors leading to the compartments above were fastened with wires. Two barrels filled with black powder were found together with a number of tools. The door of the safe had been battered.

WHEAT PLUNGER

Made Big Thing in Chicago Market

CHICAGO, April 12.—It is estimated that James A. Patten, the Chicago grain operator, cleared a profit of $5,000,000 in the first five days of his big wheat campaign. Patten was able to sell about 6,000,000 bushels of May wheat at $1.20 to $1.25 which cost him $1.04 a few months ago.

WRESTLING BOUT

Gotch and Mahomet to Meet Wednesday Night

CHICAGO, April 12.—There will be no moving pictures of the championship wrestling tomorrow night between Gotch and Mahomet. Gotch has not only refused to accept $2000 for his and of the prize, but has said that it will not permit pictures to be taken at all. He claims that the intense heat under the mercury lights causes a terrible strain on the men who have to grapple beneath them. Wrestlers and followers of the game are arriving from other cities. Dr. Roller of the Pacific coast who has already met Gotch will be at the ringside to challenge the winner. Ernest Siegrist, "The German oak" will be presented by Martin Julian. He also wants to take on the victor.

"Americus" as Gus Schoenlein is known, also is here. Doc Hottum of Memphis is one of the promoters who will be on the scene. Horace Lovell, former manager of Gotch, got in town and said that a big delegation was coming from Buffalo, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and St. Paul. Parties have made heavy reservations and Cloyd Johnson and W. Seville are bringing a party of nearly three hundred from Kansas City.

Yesterday's real sale exceeded the $10,000 mark. George E. Smith has explained several points in the necessity of avoiding rough work in wrestling which will be barred by the police hereafter. Just as if the game was prize-fighting. This decision has followed the recent bout between Leo Pardo and Galloni, who showed a desire to mix things, and came to blows three times in rapid succession. The referee was able to drag them apart but the authorities noticed the infraction of rules and have acted accordingly.

CUNARD LINE HAS DECIDED TO PASS 1908 DIVIDENDS.

LONDON, April 11.—The Cunard Steamship company, like the German steamship lines, has suffered heavily from the depression in the shipping trade, and will be unable to pay a dividend. The company's report, which has just been issued, shows a profit of $1,475,150, which, however, is not sufficient to meet the depreciation in ships and properties, necessitating the company's drawing on the reserve fund for expenses.

The report explains that the financial disturbance in the United States completely disorganized westbound third-class traffic, the number of third-class passengers landed in the United States in 1908 being only 1,000, as compared with 1,116,000 in 1907. After taking $250,000 from the insurance fund and $250,000 from the reserve fund to pay the interest on debentures and other obligations, the small balance of $17,810 was carried to the credit of the 1909 account.

The report announces that the Louisiana and Maurelania amply fulfilled the obligations to the government, and that the company carried out its liability to the government by the payment of $650,000 to the redemption fund. A tentative agreement has been concluded with the three engaged in Mediterranean third-class traffic, which, it is hoped, will place this business on a more profitable basis.

ONE DEAD AS RESULT OF SEVERE SEASON IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—One dead and a number seriously injured are the results of a severe wind in this city and vicinity today. The property loss will amount to thousands of dollars. At 1 o'clock the velocity of the wind was 52 miles an hour.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Graustark," or "A Love Behind a Throne," a dramatization of George McCutcheon's novel of the same name, was the attraction last evening at the Opera House. The performance last night was the opening of a three days' engagement and judging from the manner in which it was received by the audience the remaining productions will be well patronized and appreciated.

The cast of characters, which was quite capable, follows:

Grenfall Lorry.....Geo. D. Baker
Baron Anguish.....Morton Nobles, Jr.
Baron Douglas.....Alfred Lawrence
Gabriel, Prince of Dawsberg.....Selma Romoine
Bolaroz, Prince of Asphah.....John Renmark
Prince Lorenza.....Harry Kennedy
Sitsky.....Chas. E. Howson
Ostrow.....Frank McGuirk
Dannox.....Frank Melan
Alloide.....Clyde F. McCabe
Bassos.....J. McGinnis
Yeddos.....Archie Dowling
Gaspou.....Robert Wier
Feel.....Lena Arland
Countess Yvonne.....Mildred Claire
Countess Yvonne.....Grace Campbell
Theresa.....Lena Arland
Yette.....Viola Fortesque

The piece tells the story of an ideal American, "Grenfall Lorry," who met Princess Yette" of Graustark on her visit to America and fell in love with her. He was ignorant of her rank, thinking she was but an ordinary woman. She decided to follow her to the end of the world. He goes to Graustark, finds her and after several exciting experiences he eventually wins out. He plays his part in a clever manner. Another character which deserves special mention is that of "Baron Anguish," which is played capably by Mr. Anguish. The play is of great romantic interest and is sure to please all lovers of romance. It will be repeated tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

"MR. HAMLET OF BROADWAY"

See Eddie Foy and laugh! It is pretty well known by this time that these two propositions are indissolubly linked. Probably one of the best exemplifications of Mr. Foy's popularity and fun-making ability is that a great many comedians, so-called, on the stage today make a very bad living out of imitating him, or to be absolutely correct, by calling what they do imitations. While it is a truism that imitation is the sincerest flattery, that sort of thing doesn't do very well when it comes to entertaining an audience; and so, as there is only one Eddie Foy, it may be said with equal truth that there is no comedian with his unconscious and mirth-compelling proclivities on the American stage today.

There probably never was a comedian who didn't think a tragedy was his forte. It is said of Edwin Forrest that he had many unhappy moments because he was not allowed to be a clown, so it is not at all strange that Foy aspires to play Hamlet, and in "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway," which the Messrs. Shubert bring to the Opera House, Thursday, April 15, Mr. Foy is given an opportunity to at least show that he can play Hamlet, even if he does not play it in the manner in which the immortal bard intended it should be played.

"THE WITCHING HOUR"

"The Witching Hour," Augustus Thomas' beautiful drama of telepathy, direct from its run of more than a year at the Hebe theatre, New York, is a forthcoming local attraction. There are several "The Witching Hour" companies on tour—John Mason's remarkable New York run in the play making an immediate demand for the attraction in all parts of the country—but Messrs. Shubert assure us the company that has been secured for the Opera House, Mr. Mason's original "Witching Hour" support, and Mr. Mason himself will play his original part.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD"

Denham Thompson's "The Old Homestead" is certainly a potent drawing card as an attraction, and is offered in the theatrical dock, and the popularity of this personal favorite seems greater, if possible, this season than ever.

"FATHER AND THE BOYS"

On April 12 at the opera house, Charles Froeman will present W. H. Crane in George Ade's comedy, entitled "Father and the Boys," a piece which has undoubtedly brought to its chief interpreter and his entire great deal of popularity. It was a big success last season, and it bids fair to appeal to large audiences for seasons to come. Among its records is a four months run at the Empire theatre, New York, and it comes here direct from Broadway house, the Park theatre, Boston, and the Grand opera house, New York.

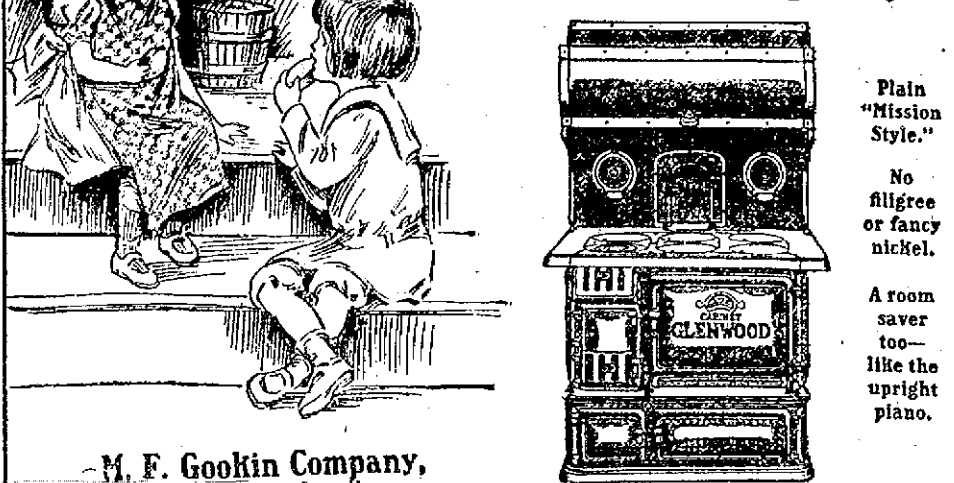

Capitally organized and in it, fully up to the dedicated part he presented "David Harum," while Mr. Ade in his dialogue and topical strings has surpassed "The College Widow." The "College Widow" and all his other efforts, Mr. Froeman's art ought to have an excellent company to assist in his fun making. The production of "Father and the Boys" is every respect with "The College Widow" for four months at the Empire theatre, New York.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

You can look the whole world in the face and say a good word for the show at Hathaway's theatre this week. Wally Patzer and his troupe of seven performers are at the head of the list and they belong there. They are acrobatic performers, but they have a style of their own that puts them in a class by themselves. Part of, of course, is the "main sequence" but he has two

MISS HUIDOBRO

WELL KNOWN LECTURER AND WRITER DEAD

NEW YORK, April 12.—Miss Carolina Holman Huidobro, the well known lecturer and writer on South American subjects, died here of heart disease today in her apartments at the Hotel Clarendon. She was 42 years old and the daughter of Mrs. Marion Holman of Boston, widow of a United States consular agent, who was in Valparaiso, Chile, when Miss Holman was born. She chose the name Huidobro as a baptismal name and went to Boston to complete her education when 17. When her education was completed she returned to Valparaiso and stayed there until 15 years ago. She traveled extensively through South America and Panama, and is said to have explored regions in which no Caucasian woman had ever set foot.

COUNTLESS PLEADS FOR FRIEND OF HER HUSBAND

COUNT TOLSTOY

PARIS, April 12.—Taking from the shoulders of her aged husband the burden of the Countess Sofia Tolstoy, wife of Leo Tolstoy, has started a campaign to prevent the expulsion from Russia of Vladimir Achertoff, her husband's literary representative, friend and follower. This is the first time that the Countess has appeared in public affairs, although for years she has assisted her husband in his literary work in addition to running her household. The public has known her only as a good wife and the mother of thirteen children; but now that Countess Tolstoy is growing very old, she has taken up her work with vigor.

SHILOH LEADER

The message conveyed the information that all on board were well and happy.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

In accordance with the unusual fineness of all Easter celebrations, the Academy of Music, this week, are especially strong and will be well worth seeing as they always are. The programs will consist of four reels of new moving pictures, pictures that have just been released by the film manufacturer and which are shown on the screen at the Academy for the first time in Lowell. These have been previously inspected by the management and are the choice out of a large selection. Only the best are to be seen at the Academy. That's the rule without variation. Interspersed with the pictures are two illustrated songs rendered by two talented soloists also to the Academy stage and a new series of views of the world. There is nothing old or nothing second hand in an Academy program. The price of admission is but five cents and that includes a good seat and there are plenty of good seats, for the Academy has the largest seating capacity of any moving picture theatre in this city. There are few reserved seats at five cents extra. The shows run from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10:30 with a continuous performance on Saturday from 2 to 10:30.

STAR THEATRE

It is the biggest and best show in Lowell for five cents at all times at the Star theatre, but this week's show is of unusual excellence. A great baseball song, "Fan, Fan, Fan," is being rendered by the singing orchestra, to which a cornet player has been added. The orchestra now consists of four pieces, which no other picture house in the city can boast of. "The Poor Musician" is the talking picture. Hear the violin. There are new songs and new motion pictures.

Amateurs are slated to appear tonight. It is expected that there will be a large number. The admission entitles patrons to seats.

THEATRE VOYONS

Yesterday's new program at the Theatre Voyons pleased everybody for it was perfect in quality and variety. The best western picture for some time, "A Tale of the West," has suited those who prefer their thrilling and sensational pictures. The story is interesting, quite plausible and well staged and acted. On the Brink of the "Panic of '37" is a charming romance of the Alps and tells it well. The best American comedian now under engagement of the Biograph company is the principal feature of "Smiler's Anti-Noise Crusade," and he makes many laughs. "Inviting the Boss to Dinner," is a clever and interesting comedy, while both the songs are pleasing.

TO WED JAPANESE

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—The engagement is announced of Miss Kate Goodman, an American mission worker among Japanese women and children in and around this city, and Rev. Joseph Inazawa, pastor of the Japanese Presbyterian mission. Inazawa is well educated and Americanized. For more than twenty years he has been engaged in missionary work on the Pacific coast with headquarters in San Francisco. Miss Goodman for many years has been a worker among the Japanese and has studied their language with the intention of going to Japan as a missionary. She is well educated and highly connected. Each is about 45 years of age.

GEO. LOUCRAFT

Meets Hall at Gladstone Club Tonight

The Gladstone club has a boxing fest on at its regular meeting tonight that should satisfy all the fans to the king's taste. The principal bout will be of 12 rounds between George Loucraft, Billerica welterweight, and Henry Hall, the tough colored boxer from the Armory club, Boston. They meet at 154 pounds. Loucraft has never been defeated and is looked upon as the coming welterweight or middleweight in this section. He has been training hard at his farm in Billerica and is in excellent shape. He cancelled a date in Portland for last Saturday with Tommy Sawyer in order to be in the best of condition for tonight's fight. He wants to show his Lowell friends what he can do. In Hall he is meeting a hard proposition and if he defeats him he will establish himself among the leaders in his class. A large delegation of Loucraft's friends will be on hand to see him go with Hall as will those who have seen Hall at the Armory club. The semi-final will also be a corker, the contestants being Young Donahue and Billy Murphy, both of this city who are two clever youngsters. There will be two preliminaries both of which are well matched affairs.

Big Wrestling Bout

The most important wrestling match that has been held in Lowell in a long time will take place at the Gladstone club on Saturday night when Chris Jordan (Young Prokos) will meet Arthur Pons, the champion middleweight of Germany and France, in a catch as catch can match, best two falls in three for $50 a side and gate receipts. The match was made in Boston recently and the Gladstone club was agreed upon as the place for the match. For preliminaries there will be a match between Kid Pappas and Young Veras, two members of the Greek colony for the bantam championship of the city. There will also be another preliminary and the bouts promise to be first class throughout.

DIAMOND NOTES.

Last winter when Barney Dreyfuss sold stock in the Philadelphia National league club to the manager of the team, William J. Murray, for $30,000 there was much speculation as to Murray's financial back. Murray wouldn't tell and questioners grew weary. It has come out that Murray, when he took the Philadelphia stock, acted for Bob Davis, the well known Jersey City politician, who is the chief owner of the Jersey City Eastern league club. When Murray was the manager of the Jersey City team two years ago he formed a close friendship with Davis. As a result Murray will probably turn over the best of the surplus players now held by the Philadelphia club to Jersey City and will otherwise do his best to help Davis get a winning team at West Side Park.

Manager Stallings will carry more players in his line to the team than ever before. There will be thirty on the payroll up to May 15, when he will be dropped. Stallings says he will keep twenty-five men under salary all season, which means that the club will have to pay out about $70,000 in return for players' services either in active play on the field or in idleness on the bench.

Proposals for Coal and Wood for the Town of Chelmsford.

Sealed proposals addressed to the School Committee and endorsed "Proposals for Coal and Wood," will be received by said committee at selectmen's room, Chelmsford Centre, until Tuesday, April 23, 1930, at 1 o'clock p. m. for the supply of coal and wood as described below, and at that time will be publicly opened and read. All coal to be of the following brands, or coal of equal quality: Philadelphia, Reading, Wilkesbarre, Susquehanna or Lehigh Valley.

35 tons, more or less, of Egg coal delivered and put in to the W. Chelmsford school house.

55 tons, more or less, broken coal delivered and put in to N. Chelmsford school house.

15 tons, more or less, stove coal delivered and put in to Centre school house.

5 tons, more or less, stove coal delivered and put in to Centre school house.

15 tons, more or less, broken coal delivered and put in to E. Chelmsford school house.

10 tons, more or less, Egg coal delivered and put in to Golden Cove school house.

Also price per cord for first quality sawed hard wood, saved pine wood, and saved oak wood, delivered at the respective schoolhouses in cord and half cord lots as wanted.

All coal must be weighed and wood measured by sworn surveyor of the town of Chelmsford. A bill of each load must be presented as delivered, also original bill of lading if any work is intended to be done.

The committee reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Quinn, Wilson, Wardrop, Doyle, Klenow, Blair, Sweeney, Chase, Hall, Elberfeld, Knight, Austin, Ward, Gardner, Cree, Demott, Engle, Henshall and Keeler. Stallings will be cleverly fortified against accidents with this bunch.

The fickleness of the fans was illustrated at the Polo grounds on Saturday when two heavyweights who were teasing John McGraw before the game for trading Roger Bresnahan to the St. Louis Cardinals, were among the first to jump into the field in the last inning in a wild scramble to shake the grip of Big Chief Myers, the new Indian catcher, whose big bat knocked out two home runs.

But the heavyweights on the way downtown cooled off and were soon telling their neighbors in the car that there was a big difference in quality between pitching served up by the Yale boys and that handed out by such artists in the National league as Mathewson, Brown, Overall, Willis, Karger, Cowleski and a few others; also that when Big Chief Myers has knocked out four batters with real pitching sailing up to him, it will be the time enough to crown him with laurel.

BOXING BOUT
INTERESTING CONTESTS SEEN IN BOSTON

BOSTON, April 13.—M. J. Carroll of New York, the national amateur champion, defeated K. Rodman of Nashua, N. H., in the 115 pound class of the trial boxing bouts of the annual national amateur championships, held on the ground that they are not a true test because of the uncertain weather and the unwillingness of veteran players to unlimber so early.

Philadelphia is the only city to have inter-league games this spring between the Nationals and Americans. As the Nationals have won the series easily it may be the last played in Philadelphia, as these games are not favored generally by the managers in other cities on the ground that they are not a true test because of the uncertain weather and the unwillingness of veteran players to unlimber so early.

The closest fight of the night was between Phil Schlossberg of the U. S. S. New Jersey and Andrew Morris of Boston in the heavy weight class. Schlossberg received the decision after four rounds of hard fighting.

There were no bouts held in the 125 and 145 pound classes.

The summaries:

Trial bouts 105 pound class, A. Souza, Cambridge, defeated C. O'Neil, Boston, three rounds.

R. Allen, Cambridge, defeated F. Graham, Boston, three rounds.

M. J. Carroll, New York, defeated K. Rodman, Nashua, N. H., three rounds.

125 pound class, J. Morris, Boston, defeated F. Ah Chung, Salem, three rounds.

J. Brady, Boston, defeated F. Forbes, Boston, two rounds.

G. Reeves, New York, defeated D. Steyers, Quincy, two rounds.

T. Conroy, Boston, defeated P. Mallean, Cambridge, two rounds.

Second round—W. Sullivan, U. S. S. New Jersey, defeated T. Conroy, Boston, two rounds.

Heavy weight class, P. Schlossberg, U. S. S. New Jersey (165 lbs.) defeated A. Morris (165 lbs.), Boston, four rounds.

WON SEASIDE TROPHY

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 13.—The Seaside trophy for amateurs was won yesterday by Wilson of Frenchtown, N. J., with a score of 153 out of a possible 200, at the annual Easter Monday handicap shoot of the Atlantic City Gun club. J. T. Skelly of Wilmington, Del., was high gun among the professionals with a score of 133. W. B. Daction of Portland, Me., made 179.

GAME OF FOOTBALL TO BE CONTINUED

CAMBRIDGE, April 13.—An assurance that football is to continue at Harvard was given last night in a statement issued by W. L. Garcelon, graduate manager of athletics of Harvard, in which it was announced that the Harvard athletic committee had voted to accept the proposition of the class of 1919 to co-operate in the work of the completion of the Harvard stadium.

The work of completion will consist of building a cement roof over the promenade at the top of the stadium, supported by a wall at the back, and with doric columns in front, according to the original plans.

The athletic committee is to share the expense with the class of 1919, whose original subscription of $100,000 made the stadium, which was opened in 1900, possible.

The Harvard athletic committee will borrow money to meet its share of the expense, which will be paid off in five year installments, Garcelon said.

"While there is no definite statement that the Harvard corporation will allow the game to continue there is every reason to believe that the athletic committee would never consent to assume a debt payable in five year installments unless it was reasonably sure that its chief income would continue."

THE AMERICANS

WERE QUITE EASY FOR THE AVONS

The Americans and Avons of the Minor league met on the alleys last night and the former team felt easy victims to the Avons, the latter team winning all three points.

Durault of the winning team was high man with a triple of 301, while Gill of the same team with 115 carried off the honors for the best single string. The score:

Americans—J. Campbell 250, Meaney 219, Delahanty 239, Dorris 251, Martin 250, totals 1455.

Avons—Durault 301, Walski 292, Gill 295, F. Buckley 272, Langley 239, total 1449.

"IRISH GIANT" WON

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 13.—In a ju jitsu wrestling match last night Leo McLagen, the "Irish giant" successfully defended his title of world's champion, against Yamagata, a Japanese wrestler. McLagen took the first fall in 36 minutes and the second in 20 minutes.

MANAGER CLARKE OF PITTSBURG

PITTSBURG, April 13.—Manager Fred Clarke and his perennial pursuers, the Pittsburgh Pirates, are in splendid condition for the opening of the baseball season. Last season the Pirates started out without two of their star players, Wagner and Beach, and the absence of these two men cost the team many victories and probably the pennant. Manager Clarke declared many things last season that in Pittsburgh had got a better start the banner would fly at Exhibition park in place of in Chicago. As it was, the Pirates tied the Chicago for second place in last year's race. First base, last season's weak corner, has been strengthened. Bill Abstein, a finished ball player of mature years and wide experience, is slated to hold down the initial sack for the season of 1930. The probable makeup of the team for the opening game with Cincinnati April 14 is as follows: Catcher, Gibson; pitcher, Madrox; first base, Abstein; second base, Abbatichio; short, Wagner; third, Leach; left field, Clarke; center, Thomas; right, Moeller.

This personal property is in good condition and will be sold to the highest bidder for cash.
MR. H. E. HULL

cars, Miss Brown has received also from her parents, a chest containing all the flat silver and all the household linen, beautifully embroidered.

Other gifts include the following: From Mrs. William L. James, the bride's aunt, two handsome repousse silver vegetable dishes; from Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, a silver breakfast service; from Mrs. Armstrong Smith, of London, two heavy silver meat platters; from Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lehr, a gold and pink enameled belt buckle; from Rosa Whims, a large gold bag; and from Mr. and Mrs. Livingston Beckman of New York, two hair pins of diamonds and enamel.

A friend of Mr. Teller in New York has sent a chain of diamonds nearly a yard in length and containing over 250 picked stones. One of the most beautiful presents is a small dressing table, clock of gold and pink enamel, the face surrounded with diamonds.

There are also a massive silver service from New York, and an exquisite set for the writing table of scarlet leather mounted with gold from Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Teller, of New York. A superb gold and silver inkstand has been sent by a friend from New York to go with this set.

Miss Brown has also received a pin of sapphires and diamonds and several electric touch bells of enamel and jewels. A dozen gold plates, a dozen gold dessert spoons, a large gold loving cup, beautifully wrought, lamps of gold design, tall silver vases, picture frames of gold and silver, several antique mirrors, a number of fine prints and engravings help to make up the several hundred presents.

The wedding will take place in the afternoon at the Brown mansion, Cathedral and Madison streets. An altar and arch of flowers will be constructed in the ballroom. General Brown will give his daughter away. Her sister, Mrs. B. Howell Griswold, Jr., will be matron of honor. Edward de Peyster Livingston, of New York, will attend Mr. Teller, and George J. Gould will be one of the ushers.

Mr. Gould's yacht is lying at anchor here, ready to take the bridal couple on a southern cruise. They will have as luxurious a home aboard as they could find ashore anywhere in the world.

Miss Brown will wear an exquisite gown of soft white satin, trimmed with point lace, worn by her grandmother, and her lace veil, also an heirloom, will be held in place by orange blossoms. Instead of dowry, from which will carry a white prayerbook from which will fall a single shower of lilacs of the valley.

The bride's ornaments will be a diamond necklace and another costly jewel, the gift of the bridegroom. This is kept for a surprise. Her only attendant will be her sister, Mrs. B. Howell Griswold, Jr., as matron of honor, who will wear an empire gown of pale yellow satin and chiffon, richly embroidered, and a large picture hat.

About 200 guests will witness the ceremony, while 500 invitations have been issued for the buffet luncheon which will follow the ceremony.

SIR DONALD CURRIE DEAD

SPECIAL LECTURE FOR FRENCH HOUSEKEEPERS

Our French ladies of Lowell have in several cases inquired when Miss Webster was to visit their end of the city and where she was to give her cooking demonstration lecture. It is arranged for her to demonstrate on next Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Boston Hall, corner Central and West Sixth streets. Our French citizens are progressive, appreciative of the best there is, eager to learn the best way of doing, and knowing Miss Webster's reputation will therefore appreciate this special opportunity arranged and provided by the Lowell Gas Light Co. It will of course be understood that all are welcome and that admission is free. The following interesting menu will be offered:

Cream of Pea Soup
Imperial Sticks
Boiled Steak a la Henriette
Henriette Sauce
Baked Potatoes
Tomato Sauce
Potato Puff
Nottingham Punch Shottake
Every detail will be carefully looked after, and an interpreter will be present. Every French lady of our city, with some responsibilities, should be present.

PICKETING BILL

Was Defeated in the House by Vote of 104 to 92

BOSTON, April 13.—The lower branch of the legislature yesterday afternoon passed to engrossment, without division or further debate the so-called Hilsen anti-discrimination bill.

Debate was resumed on the motion made last Friday by Representative Carnody of Worcester to substitute for the adverse committee report the bill to permit peaceful picketing. The bill was favored by Representative Parks of Fall River, Levin of New Bedford, Dineen of Waltham and Dickson of Pittsfield. It was opposed by Representatives Eastman of Milford, Elmore of Cambridge, Hardy of Pittsburg, Bishop of Newton and Willcutt of Boston.

On a roll-call the house refused to substitute the bill, 92 to 104. The adverse committee report was then accepted in concurrence with the senate.

The house then took up the bill prohibiting the granting of liquor licenses of the fourth and fifth class to be exercised on premises where licenses of the first three classes have been granted. This bill had been reported by a majority of the committee on liquor law, but in framing the amendment to the present law they tacked it on the special provisions in the statute applying solely to the city of Boston. The petitioner before the committee had asked for general legislation. A special bill cannot be reported on a general petition and Representative Grady of Boston last week raised this point of order against the bill.

Speaker Walker decided in favor of the point and ruled the bill out. Representative Cutting of Western then moved the suspension of rule 5 of the joint rules that the matter might be recommitted. Representative Mellen of Worcester raised the point of order that the speaker could not entertain such a motion, the bill having been ruled out. Speaker Walker, however, ruled against Mr. Mellen's point and entertained the motion to recommit.

It required two-thirds of the members voting to carry such a motion, and the supporters of it failed to get the required number. On a rising vote the motion to recommit was lost, 111 to 61. On a roll-call there was still lacking the necessary two-thirds, the vote being 135 to 59. The bill and petition are therefore laid aside.

Reps. Meehan and Conley of Lowell voted in favor of the measure and Reps. Barlow and Varnum against Reps. Greenwood and Kitteridge not recorded.

AL KAUFMAN

TO MEET TONY ROSS IN NEW YORK TONIGHT

NEW YORK, April 12.—The sporting public will have an opportunity to size up Al Kaufman of California as a heavyweight pugilist tonight at the Fairmont club. Al has been on Jack Johnson's trail and recognizes that if he bowls over Tony before the limit he will have to be given consideration by Johnson. Tony has the build of Jeff and has been in sleep such heaves as Marvin Hart and Jim Barry. Kaufman has planned a trip to England this summer and the British sports may see him in an argument there with Jack Johnson or Sam Langford. The Californian is in tip-top shape, having been in training on Staten Island for some time.

SUBSIDY BILLS

CONGRESS WILL HAVE MANY TO SELECT FROM

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Congress will have many ship subsidy bills to select from if it concludes to act on that kind of legislation during the 61st congress. Rep. Sulzer of New York is the latest member to introduce a bill on the subject. His bill provides for a graduated system of tonnage taxes in favor of American built shipping and against foreign ships.

"It follows closely the policy of the early statesmen," said Mr. Sulzer, explaining the bill. "During the continuance of the old law the United States had the finest deep sea carrying fleet in the world."

MACHINERY DISABLED

NEW YORK, April 13.—The scout cruiser Birmingham arrived here early today with her machinery disabled, having withdrawn last night from the 24 hour race with the Chester and the Salem. It is expected the Birmingham will put into the Brooklyn navy yard for repairs. She had completed less than twelve hours of the high speed run when she was forced to withdraw from the contest.

EXTRA SUPREME COURT

Reserves for Consideration the Bill Against Mayor White

BOSTON, April 13.—The bill of information to remove Mayor White, of Lawrence, from office on the ground that he pleaded guilty to accepting a bribe was reserved for consideration by the full bench of the supreme court after a brief hearing today by Justice Bralley of that court. Justice Bralley in making the decision drew a sharp distinction between the old law under which Mayor White pleaded guilty and the new one which makes conviction by a jury a prominent feature.

GIRL WAS RESCUED

WHEELING, W. Va., April 13.—Said to have been disappointed in his suit for marriage Joseph White, 25 years of age of this city, is alleged to have gone to the room of Magdalena Fortuna, 15 years of age, of Pittsburgh, today and attempted to burn the girl to death.

It is alleged White carried a can of gasoline to the girl's room, saturating her clothing and the contents of the room. It is said he then threw a match over her and set fire to the place. The girl's screams brought help and the flames were extinguished.

GREAT ADVANCE OPERATORS WAIT

In the New York Wheat No Shutdown Before
Market April 23

NEW YORK, April 13.—Excitement in foreign markets with a big advance in Liverpool after the holidays caused an upsurge and new high records in the local wheat market today. May jumped two cents to $1.24 1/2 and July to $1.21 1/2, or 1/2 cent over last night. Heavy buying by commission houses and foreigners was a feature. Later the market broke 1/2 cent a bushel under heavy realizing and reports that the Chicago bulls were selling late months on the improved weather.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The anthracite operators met yesterday in the rooms of the Trunk Line association, 115 Liberty street, to outline a policy now that the mine workers have refused to sign a three year renewal of the agreement under the award of the anthracite strike commission. It was the largest meeting of operators held since the negotiations began, about 30 being in attendance.

IN BANKRUPTCY

Petition Filed Against
New York Firm

NEW YORK, April 13.—An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the U. S. district court today against the brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani, members of the Consolidated stock exchange and the Chicago board of trade. The liabilities are alleged in the petition to be $1,500,000 and the assets $400,000. Lindsay Russell was appointed receiver.

HAD BOSTON OFFICE

BOSTON, April 13.—The brokerage firm of Ennis & Stoppani, which was petitioned into bankruptcy in New York today, has maintained a branch office at 50 Congress street, this city, for the past nine years and also has branches in eight or ten other New England cities, including Brockton. The firm has no membership on the Boston exchange. The local office was well filled with customers today; they expressed considerable surprise at the news of the firm's bankruptcy. The local managers would make no statement.

Following the appointment of the receiver in the bankruptcy proceedings it was announced that Ennis & Stoppani had made a general assignment to "Treadwell Cleveland, assignee. The creditors in the bankruptcy proceedings were Charles Sincere with claims of $25,000; Ethel B. Newton with claims of $250; and Fred Rigby $250. It is alleged in the petition that the firm committed an act in bankruptcy in paying over certain amounts to certain creditors and that property valued at $50,000 had been illegally transferred. The firm's offices here are at 25 Broad street, and its members are Thomas Ennis and Charles P. Stoppani. Judge Holt fixed the bond of Receiver Russell at $50,000.

SUPREME COURT

Issues Mandate in the Oil Case

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The mandate of the supreme court of the United States in the Waters-Petro Oil Co. cases was issued today. It is addressed to the attorney general of the state of Texas and upon its arrival will be authority for the collection of $1,500,000 fine imposed by the state courts on that company. About two-thirds of the sum will be distributed among the lawyers who presented the cases while the remainder will go to the state.

WORK IS RESUMED

READING, Pa., April 13.—The members of the Reading Coal & Iron Co. resumed operations today after an absence of three days. In some sections of the Schuylkill region work was expressed as to when work would start and if the usual amount of coal would be mined.

JOHNNY EVERS IS EXPECTED TO REPORT BY JUNE 1.

CHICAGO, April 13.—President Murphy of the National League team declares he knows nothing of Johnny Evers' intention to lay off for a year and says the star second baseman is expected back with the champions by June 1. President Murphy asserts he has not reached an agreement with Evers and has not had any recent communication with him on the subject.

Heavy Loss Caused by Fires in Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 13.—At 1:30 this afternoon fires are raging in two sections of Rochester apparently uncontrollable and unless the gale which is now blowing at thirty or more miles an hour subsides, the damage will be incalculable. Every piece of fire apparatus is on the scene and appeals have been sent to Syracuse and Buffalo for assistance. Both cities have replied that they are sending aid on fast trains.

At this time it is estimated that the loss is easily $1,000,000. The fire broke out in the Schlen building at the corner of Gibbs and Main streets. That building is in ruins. The flames leaped to St. Peter's church in Grove street and then to the Jewish synagogue, the Berth Kodesh temple. St. Peter's was saved but the temple is gutted. Apartment houses on Grove street valued at $100,000 were next swept away and then the flames attacked a score or more of residences on that and adjoining streets and are now spreading to others. Fully 150 families have moved out from the path of the flames. Numerous houses are burning without a single stream of water to check the progress of the fire. About the same time fire broke out in the First Reformed church in another section of the city and about one mile removed. Only one fire company could be spared for this fire and the church soon felt a prey to the flames which spread to residences and are now sweeping the streets, the residents moving out as fast as the flames approach.

The militia has been ordered out by Mayor Edgerton to police the burning district. A woman on Nassau street went violently insane from fear as her home was sent to a hospital. It has been decided to dynamite some buildings on Stinson street in an effort to control the fire. The gale is raging unabated.

FOUND MURDERED

Body of Wealthy Greek Merchant Found in Cellar

CARLSBAD, Pa., April 13.—With four bullet wounds in the body and one in the head, John Pishotta, a wealthy Greek merchant, was found murdered today in the cellar of his home in this city. His wife and her brother, Angelis Pormatore, were arrested charged with the crime. The authorities say the killing probably was the result of a family quarrel. The police found the merchant's body in the cellar buried under stones and lumber. After arresting the wife and her brother, the authorities searched the trunk of the latter and found a revolver covered with blood and several Black Hand letters, the contents of which were not made public. Several years ago after a quarrel, Mrs. Pishotta informed the police that her husband was a fugitive from justice in Pittsburgh where he was wanted on a charge of bribing a juror. He was arrested and taken back to Pittsburgh where he was convicted and served a term in the western penitentiary. He returned recently to his home here and it is believed the old quarrel was renewed.

In the Estate of Late Dr. Burnham in Tyler Street

A lively blaze was discovered in a house belonging to the estate of the late Dr. Burnham, in Tyler street, this afternoon shortly before one o'clock, and the rear of the building was seriously damaged before the fire was extinguished.

The cause of the fire is not known, but Chief Hosmer is of the opinion that it had its inception on the flat roof of the ell of the building and worked its way in through the partitions before being discovered.

When the department arrived on the scene a sheet of flame was streaming through the rear of the main building. A couple of lines of hose were laid and after about twenty minutes time the blaze was under control.

Dangerous Grass Fire

A grass fire broke out on the land in the rear of the Textile school about 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and burned over a large area before placed under control. When the fire was discovered word was telephoned to the Pawtucket village engine company and the members of that company went to the scene, but owing to the fact that the fire was being fanned by a strong wind and was getting beyond their control an alarm was sent in from box 173 at the corner of Riverside and New York streets, summoning several other pieces of apparatus to the scene.

When the reinforcements arrived the blaze was burning fiercely and it was only after a vigorous battle with the hose that it was extinguished.

Another Grass Fire

DIV. 8, A. O. H.

Wants State Parade in Lowell

The great state parade of the A. O. H. may be held in Lowell next year. Division 8, A. O. H., took the initiative at its meeting last evening when it voted unanimously to join forces with the other divisions of the order in this city. In an effort to have the great demonstration held in this city. The parade will be a grand feature of the convention week and there will be at least 15,000 men in line. The meeting last evening was attended by a great number of members and twenty-two propositions for membership were received. It is proposed to have a class initiation on April 26 when the great work will be performed by the team from Wallham which has made such a favorable impression throughout the county board held in Stoughton.

A report of the meeting of April 4 was submitted by the president, John C. Rourke, and a report was also received from the dance committee which had in charge the social on Feb. 22. Remarks for the good and welfare of the order were made by P. Mahoney, John Barrett, Daniel E. Reilly, Michael Rogers and President John C. Rourke.

IS NOT INSANE

Doctors Refuse to Commit Woman

Ella E. Barry, aged 58 years, of Salem, who came to this city recently for the purpose of escaping the possibility of being adjudged insane and committed to an asylum, was arrested Saturday night at a lodging house in Elliot street by Constable Bernard P. Gately, who was armed with a process issued by the local court.

After being examined as to her sanity by Drs. Hiram H. Benson and Leonard G. Huntress, the doctors refused to sign certificates to the effect that she was insane and she was released.

John H. Barry, a brother of the woman, came to Lowell last week, and stated that while doctors were making an examination of the woman in Salem and he thought she was employed in one of the local mills.

As is customary in such cases where a complaint is made a process against the alleged insane person is issued. A search of the mills failed to locate the woman, but she was finally located in Elliot street.

The doctor seemed to be very anxious to have the woman committed, but the physicians could not find sufficient evidence of insanity to detain the woman.

FRENCH SHELL

DESTRUCTIVE QUALITIES CAN-NOT BE RESISTED

TOULON, April 13.—Speaking today before a commission of inquiry an official of the army made some sensational statements regarding the power of a French shell known as the "P." He said no existing armor was able to resist the destructive qualities of this explosive and cited the case of a battleship and coming out below the water line. The speaker declared the fact that the French navy had not yet been furnished with these shells, although the tests had been started with them eight years ago.

A DISASTROUS FIRE

Was Started by an Explosion in Hope Valley, R. I.

HOPE VALLEY, R. I., April 13.—An explosion followed by a fire this afternoon leveled to the ground the Nichols & Longworth machine shop, burned two houses nearby and at 7 o'clock was sweeping along the main street of the village. There was no means of fighting the fire, the mill pumps having become useless. The village has no fire company. Fifty houses were in the path of the flames and as soon as the situation became serious the families began to move their furniture and clothing out. So far as known no one is injured. The explosion occurred in the engine room of the machine shop where a gas engine is located. The shop is a three story structure, but a majority of the people employed there work on the first floor. The wind was from the southwest, and fanned the flames which swept along to the dwellings with lightning rapidity.

POLICE BOARD

Reading

The seventh session of the police board hearing opened at 10:10 this forenoon in the council chamber at city hall. The respondents were not present. No spectators.

Council for prosecution proceeded to read reports of observations of officers at hotels in January 1909. It was noted that to the Sunday menu, of which the sandwich was the piece de resistance, there was added on the opening menu of the current year, in at least one hotel, a new morsel—shrimp salad. While it is barely possible that the report for the prosecution will finish with the reading of the "observations of officers" today, there will still remain an avalanche of reports—read reports, reports of superior officers, reports of hotel keepers, and the report of the hierarchy case, so that if the prosecution continues to read, without variation, the "dry bones" process will occupy the greater part of the week.

A slight departure was made this forenoon when counsel for the prosecution asked Clerk Flaherty to read the report of a meeting of the police board on Jan. 5, or that portion of the report having to do with a discussion relative to what was said in Mayor Brown's inaugural pertaining to the police department.

All the report said was that what the mayor had said had been discussed and that the matter had been postponed for further consideration. The records, however, did not show that the matter had been taken up again.

After a recess of ten minutes one of the reports that had been read was taken up, and the following comment on the line of the report said to have been written by the chairman of the board was read: "A satisfactory improvement."

Mr. Bent objected to the comment being admitted, contending that it was no part of the record or report but a minute taken up by the chairman.

Counsel for the defense said he wanted it admitted because that later he would argue that the comment "satisfactory improvement" showed that when the chairman noted an improvement it necessarily meant that condition had been bad.

The comment was admitted, Mr. Bent saying, exception and noting in the records that the words "satisfactory improvement" were written in lead pencil.

The notice of the police board to the hotel keepers instructing them to serve drinks with food on Sundays only in regular dining rooms, and to such persons as any reasonable person would be satisfied resorted there for food. The date of the communication was Jan. 14, 1909.

The reports of the officers' observations after this order had been issued were practically all to the effect that the hotels were practically all out. Almost every report read "dining room vacant."

Two reports had to do with investigations relative to complaints of sales of liquor in drug stores, gaming and sale of liquor to men who carried it in bottles in their pockets.

At 11:45 counsel for the prosecution struck a snag in the sandwich line, and it afforded Major Bent an opportunity to qualify as an expert on swiftness.

Afternoon Session

The hearing was resumed at 2:20 and counsel for the prosecution proceeded to read more observations on the part of the officers. Not a single break occurred in the reading of the reports until the last one, dated March 14, was reached. A slash of relief went up when being read was reached. It seemed almost as good as a fresh sandwich and second glass of beer.

CLIFFORD BLOCK

Burglars

LENOX, April 13.—A theory that the Clifford block where the fatal fire of last Sunday started may have been set on fire to cover the traces of burglars who had rifled the Klipp jewelry store on the ground floor was advanced today and an investigation along that line was begun by State Officer Blahnik and State Fire Marshal James Anderson. The principal basis for the theory lies in the fact that a woman, or a man disguised as a woman, carrying a heavy satchel and a bundle, was met by the firemen from Lenox on their way to this town to assist in fighting the flames. This individual was met at a point about two miles from Lenox, about three quarters of an hour after the fire was discovered and when asked by the firemen where the fire was, replied that it was in the Clifford building. The Eddy building which was one of those destroyed, adjoined the Clifford block. The authorities are making every effort to find some further trace of this mysterious individual.

The workers in the ruins today bent their energies to dislodging the Klipp safe from the debris to determine whether it was rifled before the fire. A high bone was found today near the spot where the engagement ring of Miss Mary Sparks was discovered yesterday, and it is believed that the remainder of her body was entirely consumed. The bodies of the three members of the Ventres family were sent to Paris, Mo., today.

A DUST STORM

PREVAILED IN THIS CITY DURING THE DAY

A regular dust storm prevailed in this city today and Mayor Brown was roundly scored by men and women alike. The dust today was more offensive than on any other day this season and one had great difficulty in keeping his eyes free from the real estate that was swept about by the high winds.

TO END STRIKE

PITTSFIELD, April 13.—With the object of settling the strike of 100 core makers at the Pittsfield works of the General Electric Co., commonly known as the Stanley plant, a conference between representatives of the company and the moulters' union was arranged for late today. Cummings Chesney, manager of the company, and Daniel Leary of Cincinnati and H. M. Donnelly of Providence, respectively third vice president and business agent of the International Moulders' union will discuss the strike which has existed since Saturday. The core makers demand $2.00 for a working day of nine hours, owing to the absence from the city of Manager Chesney an earlier conference was impossible.

MRS. CLAUDIA HAINS EASTER MONDAY BALL

Has Agreed to Testify Against Her Husband

NEW YORK, April 12.—Mrs. Claudia Hains will be a witness against her husband, Captain Peter C. Hains, when he is placed on trial in the murder of William B. Annis at the Bay-side Yacht club. Her mother, Mrs. Charles Libby, of Boston, will also be a witness.

District Attorney Frederick C. De Witt, who will prosecute the young army officer, announced this yesterday upon his return from Boston where he interviewed Mrs. Hains and her mother.

"I talked to the women for two hours in the presence of their attorneys, and they consented to come down here next week ready to take the witness stand whenever I chose to call them," Mr. De Witt said. "I cannot say what they will be called upon to testify."

Mr. De Witt admitted that Mrs. Hains said she was eager to secure her divorce from this captain, and therefore declined to testify against him. She was assured that she would not be asked anything which might jeopardize her chances of getting the divorce.

The defense undoubtedly will endeavor to show Mrs. Hains' relations with her husband, but, of course, it will not be allowed to inquire into any subjects which are not laid open in the state's direct examination.

Mrs. Hains will not be allowed by the law, however, to testify anything that might put her husband's life in jeopardy. His wife may not do that. There are many interesting things she might tell as to the alleged confession she made about her marriage relations with Annis, but it is not believed likely that she will voluntarily go into that.

Mr. De Witt, as a matter of fact, does not know what he will ask her, he said yesterday. His trip to Boston chiefly was for the purpose of finding out if he could get her here in case he needed her.

The young woman appeared most eager to recover custody of her children, the district attorney said. They are at present in charge of General and Mrs. Hains, Captain Hains' parents.

Mr. De Witt was very busy yesterday preparing for the case. He consulted with a great number of witnesses, among them nearly all of those who were called in the trial which resulted in Thornton Jenkins Hains, the captain's brother, being found not guilty of complicity in the killing of Annis.

The county officials were busy too. A special panel of 150 talesmen was drawn, in addition to the usual 48. Curiously, one of the names drawn was that of Thomas Walsh of Astoria, who was juror No. 3 in the Thornton Jenkins Hains trial. He probably will be excused from duty. Also, two brothers-in-law of Alexander Jardine, the Indian, who was juror No. 7, in the previous trial, were drawn. They are Frank and Otto Gropper.

Mr. De Witt will be aided in his prosecution by Assistant District Attorney John Hetherington and by a special attorney to be engaged by the county. Despite the failure to convict Thornton Hains, every effort will be made to send the captain to the chair.

LAWYER MISSING POLICE SHOT BOY

Was Executor of Estate Who Ran From Supposed Murder

PORT JERVIS, April 12.—William A. Parrish, one of the leaders of the bar, political life and society in Orange county, is missing from his home in this city. He has been away since last Tuesday, and fear is felt for his welfare.

Yesterday he was to have appeared before Surrogate Sweetser in Goshen, the county seat, to give an accounting of a $30,000 estate, which was in his hands for settlement. But he did not go to the surrogate's court and it was learned from his family that his whereabouts were not known.

The Conklin estate is the one in question. There was an action by various heirs over a bequest of several thousand dollars to a Miss Elliott of Rutherford, N. J. Besides this, Parrish is executor for other estates, among them those of the late Gordon Adams and the late Hil Coyne of this city, both of whom left comfortable fortunes.

All sorts of wild rumors, most of which were found to be untrue, followed the news of the attorney's absence yesterday. One was that he had committed suicide in the Hotel Knickerbocker, New York.

The members of his family are shocked by his disappearance and the absence of news from him. His wife is a daughter of Louis Senger, former mayor of this city.

INJURED HIS BACK

Joseph Corfa sustained an injury to his back yesterday afternoon while at work at the Appleton mill. The ambulance was summoned and he was taken to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

Annual Affair Conducted by the Mathews a Grand Success

The Easter Monday concert and ball, which annually marks the opening of the post-Lenten social season and is one of the successes of the year, was held last night in Associate Hall under the auspices of the Mathews Temperance Institute.

The hall was a bower of greenery and artistic decorations, the music was of the general high order and the attendance very large.

The ball is in many respects a grand reunion, for once a person attends one of the affairs conducted by the Mathews he is sure to attend each succeeding one.

The committee in charge of the general arrangements spared neither money nor pains in an attempt to make last night's party the stellar event of the social circle of Lowell.

The interior of the hall was very artistically and attractively decorated, the predominating colors being green and white, while greenery added to the general beauty of the surroundings.

The stage presented a very pretty spectacle. The background was of white while the sides, bottom and top of the front were hidden from view by graceful folds of green and white bunting. The orchestra occupied a position behind a bank of greenery, while about the windows were lace curtains caught up in waving folds.

The front of the gallery and stairs leading from the floor to the gallery were dressed in soft colored bunting, while staircases of alternate colors caught in a graceful cluster over the chandelier in the center of the hall were strung to all parts of the gallery.

During the early part of the evening an excellently rendered concert program was given out by Kittredge's orchestra, Stephen Perry leader. The first number on the program was a march "Ideal," by D. W. Reeves, which was followed by a serenade duet for violin and flute by A. E. Till, after which the following numbers were heard:

Irish Overture—"Boys of Erin," F. Beyer
Picollo Solo—Selected, F. Beyer
Overture—"Z. I. Bissonette
Overture—"Easter Morn," Paul A. Sullivan
Finale—"The Aviator," James M. Fulton

The feature of the evening, however, was the grand march led by Timothy J. Sullivan, floor director, and Miss Catherine Corey. Miss Corey was attractively attired in white silk with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of red roses. They were followed by Dr. T. J. Cullinan and Miss Jennie McGuire, the latter wearing black and carrying lilies.

Among the others who participated in the march were: Miss Mary Holden; Mr. and Mrs. James J. Gallagher; George R. O'Neill and Miss Anna M. O'Neill; William J. Gargan and Miss Alice Bowman; Dennis J. Sullivan and Miss Gertrude Donoghue; M. J. Boyle and Miss Eva Landry; Dr. Napoleon Grover and Miss Catherine Rowe; Joseph A. Cassidy and Miss Catherine V. Usher; W. C. MacBryne and Miss Catherine Donoghue; Frank J. Collins

A close and interesting game of pool between the Syrian Kid, of Lawrence and the Lewiston Kid, of Lewiston, Me., was witnessed by a big crowd at the Middlesex street pool parlors, last evening. The Syrian Kid won by the score of 125 to 105. Heavy money fine exhibitions and were in fine condition. The Lewiston Kid had the better of the argument until the ninth inning. By his failure to name his shot in this inning, until after it had been played he lost the count and gave the Syrian Kid the game. They are to play every night this week. Great interest is being taken in these games as the winner will challenge the champion of New England.

SPRING ARRIVALS

With warmer weather comes the awakening of bugs that have lain dormant during the winter. This never happens where Howard's Dead Easy is used. When housecleaning sprinkle it in corners, about edges of carpets, in closets or chests where you store woodens or furs, in fact on anything susceptible to moths or other insects, and your goods are safe. Will not stain or injure any fabric. Leaves no unpleasant odor. In sprinkler-top bottles, 25c. At drug stores or of the maker, Howard, the druggist, 197 Central St.

and Miss Elizabeth Donoghue; Joseph McVey and Miss Millie E. McMahon; Patrick J. Fitzgerald and Miss Helena A. Cullen; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Embley; Thomas F. Glynn and Miss Pearl M. Brady; James M. Fagan and Miss Alice M. Dillon; George Brigham and Miss Alice Cox; James F. Riley and Miss Katherine F. Smith; John L. McDonough and Miss Mary Hammeley, and many others.

At the conclusion of the march general dancing was commenced and continued till midnight with an intermission for supper, which was served at the Merrimack hotel.

General manager, James J. Gallagher; floor marshal, Timothy J. Sullivan; assistants, Dr. T. J. Cullinan; George R. O'Neill; chief aids, William Gargan, marshal of the society, Dennis J. Sullivan; aids, James Quirk, J. J. Dwyer, James Gallagher, Dennis Hattery, Michael J. Boyle, Walter T. Powers, John Neher, P. J. Begley, John L. McDonough, Joseph McVey, John Shea, William Carey, William J. Smith, James F. Rourke, John Downs, Arthur Clancy, P. J. Fallon, John Kelley, John W. Sharkey, David Hart, John Harrington, Chris. Mooney, John Fagan, Edward Leher, Henry MacLaughlin, Luke Quenan, George Brigham, Daniel McKenna, Walter E. Tucker, James Shannon, J. J. Guthrie, John H. Dwyer, James Durgin, Edward Williams, F. J. Collins, Robert Spence, William J. Conway, J. Maloney, William Higgins, John P. Sheehan, Charles J. Byrne, William Sadler, Dr. N. O. Provencer, Edward Bushnell, Dennis F. Halliday.

Sketch of Society

Beautiful souvenirs containing the photographs of the officers of the party as well as a short history of the institute, were distributed during the evening. The sketch of the institute was as follows:

During the past 25 or 30 years a large number of societies (fraternal, beneficial, temperance, literary and social) have been organized in the city of Lowell. Some have flourished for a time. Others, founded perhaps under less flattering auspices, have in the face of many discouragements, attained success beyond the fondest hopes of their projectors.

Among the societies which may be mentioned under the latter head may be the Mathews Temperance Institute.

In the fall of 1881 a number of young men, most of whom were engaged in the various mills of the city, observing with dismay the prevalence and growth of drinking habits among the people, and recognizing the imperative need of a temperance society which should be conducted upon somewhat different plans than were the societies at that time existing, determined to found a society which should be attractive to the young. Accordingly a few of the young men principally interested in the matter, most prominent among whom were Florence J. O'Donoghue and P. F. Sullivan, extended invitations to many of the young men of St. Patrick's parish to meet at the hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic union, in January, 1882.

In response to these invitations about forty young men assembled and then they organized the Mathews Temperance Institute.

The first officers elected were: President, Florence J. O'Donoghue; vice president, Patrick H. Ryan; recording secretary, Patrick H. Ryan; financial secretary, Cornelius F. Hart; treasurer, Martin J. Courtney.

The society engaged a small room in Urban hall, which was used at first only as a reading and recreation room. Their business meetings being held in the hall of the St. Patrick's Catholic union. In the spring of 1883, the society had grown to such an extent that larger rooms were imperatively needed, and a hall was secured in Wyman's Exchange, to which the society removed. Their good fortune followed them to their new quarters, and in the fall of 1884 they required a still larger hall to accommodate their largely increased membership. The firm of Cook & Taylor had just erected a elegant block on Central street, and the society was fortunate enough to secure the upper floor, consisting of two ante-rooms and a large hall for their purposes, and thither they removed January 1, 1885.

Here the society had room to expand and develop, and before the close of 1885 they numbered over 100 members in good standing.

The detail all the work performed by the society during its existence would be impossible within the limited space herein accorded. Suffice it to say that no public demonstration is considered complete without the presence of the Mathews Temperance Institute. While laboring earnestly for the objects for which they were organized, they have taken a lively interest in everything which was proposed for the benefit of the Catholic people of the city. Nor have their efforts even in temperance work been confined selfishly to themselves. In the Arch-Diocese of Boston, their influence has been felt, their advice asked, their assistance welcomed, and their example followed. At home and in the immediate vicinity they have assisted in organizing various temperance societies, two of which own their own halls and are a credit to themselves and a source of pride to the temperance work carried on by all temperance societies, the Mathews Temperance Institute has laid special stress upon the literary improvement of its members.

The presidents of the society since its organization have been: Florence J. O'Donoghue, 1882 (deceased); James H. Morrison, 1882; P. F. Sullivan, 1883; Michael J. Dowd, 1884-5; Lawrence Cummings, 1885; Cornelius F. Callahan, 1886; Edward F. Slattery, 1887; John J. Loneragan, 1888; James J. Dowd, 1889 (deceased); Michael J. Dowd, 1890; Michael J. Lynch, 1890; John J. Fallon, 1891; John E. McAlone, 1891-2; James J. Quinn, 1892; Michael J. Manning, 1893; Walter V. Hickey, 1894; Daniel F. Rilly, 1895; William P. Thornton, 1896; J. F. Burns, 1896; John J. Gallagher, 1897-8; James A. McKenna, 1899; John J. Lyons, 1900-1901; John J. Murphy, 1901-2; Thomas H. Gallagher, 1902; Humphrey F. Sullivan, 1903; George L. Hunt, 1904; John V. Donoghue, 1905-6; Michael F. Lawin, 1906-7; John J. Coyne, 1908; James J. Gallagher, present president.

The first spiritual director of the society was Rev. Thomas P. McManus, succeeded by Rev. W. George Mullin, the present spiritual director, and very much of the progress of the organization can be traced to their paternal advice and kindly interest in its affairs.

In the year 1888 the idea of a building fund was broached and favorably received, and in the fall of that year the first bazaar was held for that purpose, and in 1891 another grand bazaar was held to help out the building fund.

In the summer of 1905 ground was broken in preparation for their new and magnificent building which now stands on Dutton street at a cost of near $10,000.

The grand opening of the new building took place on January 1, 1906, by a grand carnival of seasons, to help defray the expenses of the erection of the society's building. The structure, with large hall and beautiful reception room has been the scene of many delightful social functions. The ball is now used as a moving picture house, which is conducted by the society.

NOTES OF THE BALL

Work Weakens the Kidneys

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Lowell.

Most Lowell people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting cars or cars—doing laborious household lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind from the work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Lowell citizens prove it.

Peter Carpenter, living at 4 Beekdale avenue, Lowell, Mass., says: "My work necessitates a great deal of heavy lifting and this, together with a fall I received a short time ago, affected my kidneys. My back became very lame and arched for days at a time. I used everything I thought might bring me relief but to no avail. As my kidneys were not doing their work in a proper manner I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box from Edmund & Co.'s drug store. They soon banished the backache and I have had no trouble from that source since. My kidneys have also been greatly strengthened and I feel better in every way."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-McMunn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

STOMACH TROUBLE NEARLY KILLED A MICHIGAN WOMAN

Mrs. John Lease, a Highly Respected Woman of Eaton Rapids Tells of Terrible Suffering. She says:

"To say that my life was saved after I had used Mi-o-na is not putting the matter too strongly, as the doctors pronounced my case cancer of the stomach and when I commenced using Mi-o-na I was bad off and too weak to last long."

Stomach complaint bothered me for over seven years, the cramps and pains were terrible, and were more acute in the forenoon, my digestive organs did not properly digest my food, and I was forced to eat very bland, bland and very nervous, and used to tremble and shake like an aspen leaf.

This nervousness ran me down steadily. At times the gas would make a pressure on my heart and I would think my heart was numbered. I do not care to tell the story too fully, but there seemed to be no help for me and they thought that I had a cancer of the stomach, and that it was only a matter of short duration before I would be no more.

during the evening were the result of the energetic work of James F. Hickey, one of the bustling members of the institute.

The busiest man in connection with the arrangements for an Easter Monday ball to the secretary of the committee. This state of affairs was the position held to the lot of Walter E. Tucker, and he gave his time and labors unsparringly to make the event a success.

A striking coincidence of the ball was that seven years ago a brother of Floor Director Sullivan acted in the same capacity at the Easter Monday ball.

It was a typical Mathew crowd, the "guard" so-called, that have attended the long line of preceding years, being in attendance, augmented by a big gathering of the younger set.

INSURANCE CASE Assigned for Trial Here Tomorrow

The case of Wilder vs. Fellman which was begun in the superior court yesterday took up today's session. The case of John J. Kelly vs. Christopher J. Kelly, p. a. of this city vs. Mutual insurance company has been especially assigned for trial tomorrow. The case is an action of contract to collect $1900 on two life insurance policies. J. Joseph O'Connor of this city appears for the plaintiffs.

WANT MORE PAY PAINTERS AND PAPERHANGERS ON STRIKE.

LAWRENCE, April 12.—Most of the painters and paperhangers struck yesterday because of the refusal of the master painters to grant their demands of an increase in salary.

The painters wanted an advance from $2.50 to $3.50 and the paperhangers from $2.75 to $3.50. It is said that the master painters, proposed continuing on the present schedule until May 1, but this was not acceptable to the journeymen.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

MADRID, April 12.—The cabinet has decided definitely that the Spanish fleet be reconstructed. The work will be entrusted to British firms.

CAPTAIN COOK

Wants to Discover Trail of Mackerel

GLoucester, April 13.—Captain Jerry Cook as government expert has sailed from here aboard the United States fish commission schooner Grampus, Captain Hanson, on a voyage of exploration. The vessel will be gone eight months and Captain Cook hopes to discover the trail of mackerel from the time they strike in on the southern grounds off Cape Hatteras to the time they disappear somewhere after passing up the gulf of St. Lawrence in the early fall, and to keep track of them for the entire season.

Captain Cook who is an experienced mackerel fisher, has had much correspondence with the bureau of fisheries at Washington relative to the taking, and he has also conferred with all the big mackerel catchers here to get their views on the work.

The department is desirous of having anyone interested in the work receive by telegram such information of value as Captain Cook may have when ever the Grampus makes a port.

COAL OPERATORS

Willing to Renew the Agreement of 1906

NEW YORK, April 12.—The anthracite coal operators who held a conference in this city yesterday to determine a policy toward the miners, made public a statement today declaring that there was absolutely no friction between them in reaching a decision to appoint a committee to report on April 22. The operators' statement continued: "The operators are still willing to renew the agreement entered into in 1906. The operators were not willing to make a contract with an organization controlled by men engaged in bituminous mining, a competitive industry. It should not be understood that the operators oppose organization among their employees. The attitude of the operators toward this question is the same as that in which they were upheld by the strike commission of 1902."

He is Charged With Larceny of a Watch

Napoleon Jalbert, a Moody street jeweler and watch repairer, was arrested last night by Patrolman Samuel Bigelow on a warrant charging him with the larceny of a clock, the property of Vernon A. French, the claim being that the clock was taken to Jalbert's for repair and later sold by him. The arrest of Jalbert recalls an incident which occurred a couple of months ago when upon complaint of Jalbert, Mayor Brown started an investigation of the police department for the purpose of showing up alleged lax methods in the detection of crime, but the investigation proved to be a very short one for it came to an abrupt ending when the mayor learned that the police were attending strictly to duty. A woman brought a watch to Jalbert's store to be repaired and later when she called for it found that the watch had either been sold or given by mistake to a person other than its owner. Jalbert reported the matter to the police and claimed that a young man, whose name was also given to the police, had the watch and refused to give it up. The police visited the home of the young man, whom it was alleged had the watch, and learned that he knew nothing of it. This did not satisfy Jalbert and he attempted to get a warrant for the arrest of the young man. Being unable to get the warrant he reported the matter to Mayor Brown and the latter summoned Inspector Charles Ladd and Deputy Supt. Welch to appear before him. The latter explained the case to the mayor. Later the woman who owned the watch had Jalbert arrested for larceny and when the case was heard in police court the young man, whom Jalbert claimed stole the watch, was one of the witnesses and was thoroughly exonerated by the court. Judge Hadley went so far as to state that a gross injustice had been done by even intimating that the young man in question had anything to do with the disappearance of the watch. The case was called in police court this morning and continued till April 17.

A STRONG PROTEST

Made Against the Abolition of Railroad Differentials

BOSTON, April 12.—An earnest protest against the abolition of railroad differentials was made and the New England board of transportation was established at a meeting of representatives of boards of trade and other organizations from nearly every large city in New England at the chamber of commerce today. In addition to the local organization, delegations were present from Brockton, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lowell, New Bedford, Springfield, New Haven, New London and Bangor. The situation regarding the differentials and the efforts of the trunk line association in New York to abolish them, was discussed. The fact that an important case bearing on freight rates to the west is pending in the United States court was brought out and the evidence was quoted to show that western senators were of the opinion that changes suggested would give Atlantic seaboard cities an undue advantage. The suggestion that New England business organizations unite in the formation of a New England board of transportation was favorably received and formally adopted, and the board was directed to send representatives of its jobbing and manufacturing interests to New York to appear in behalf of New England at the hearing on freight rates there. The meeting also recommended its firm opposition to any advance in freight rates from New England unless it can be shown that the proposed advance is reasonable and that considerable advances are made in the south, midwest and other competing territories.

THE WHEAT MARKET

High Prices Were Again the Rule in Chicago Today

CHICAGO, April 12.—Wheat for delivery in May, July and September established new high record marks at the opening of the board of trade today. May wheat closed at 1.17, July at 1.23, and September at 1.17, all in advance over yesterday's closing. The Liverpool market furnished the bull news of the hour and other European markets advanced sympathetically. The real inducement, however, was a general belief that there is a world wide shortage of wheat. Reports of favorable weather for the growing crop in the winter wheat belt were scanty. The opening wheat in May was due to the clearing out of the May contracts of Buss & Steppani, the brokers against whom an involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in New York today. The amount involved here is said not to have been large.

HOME RUN BAT

First Base Ball Fan Heard From

More of the members of the Lowell baseball team arrived at Washington park today and put on their uniforms without delay. Today was a much better day for practice than yesterday and the boys moved briskly in practice. Manager Fleming was quite enthusiastic over the first day's appearance of his team and he is of the opinion that Lowell will make them all go some this year. He is confident that the men he engaged himself will make good and is hopeful of the others. He states that his contract with Owner Winn is such that it is to his financial advantage to have the team finish in the first division and for that reason he is going to exert every effort to make the team a winner. The first enthusiastic fan to be heard from is Edward F. Brady of Liberty square, who for the past several seasons has divided the honors with Alderman John Turner as the champion rooter of the city. Mr. Brady recently sent off to Louisville, Ky., to the factory where the bats of all the great batsmen of the country are turned out and ordered the best bat that the concern manufactures. It has arrived and is a beauty. Mr. Brady will have it on exhibition in his place of business until some member of the Lowell team wins it by knocking a home run inside of the grounds. Practice game honors will not count until the first Lowell bat is driven a home run within the grounds after the league starts will get the bat.

CHICAGO SUFFRAGETTES

CHICAGO, April 12.—Two hundred suffragettes of Chicago and other Illinois cities began their first invasion of the legislature today when they left here for Springfield. Speeches will be made at Springfield and trial towns by members of the delegation which includes Mrs. Ellen Henrotten, well known as a club woman, Mrs. James Adams, the settlement worker, and Katherine McCullough, Chicago's only woman justice of the peace.

MAX JOHNSTON

FOREMAN OF ENGLISH FACTORY WAS MURDERED

ST. PETERSBURG, April 12.—Max Johnston, the foreman of a big English factory in St. Petersburg, was murdered yesterday by men in his employ. The workmen were dissatisfied with the gratuities given them by Johnston. They pinned him to the ground with a heavy hobbin and beat him to death with ropes.

JUDGE ADAMS

OCCUPIED NEARLY ENTIRE DAY IN ARGUMENT SAVANNAH, Ga., April 12.—Former Judge Adams, attorney for the defense, occupied the entire day's session in the circuit court today with an argument on the demurrer in the case of the United States against the officials of the naval stores, the so-called turpentine trust, indicted for alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust act. The attorney attacked the Sherman act and quoted former President Roosevelt, President Taft and the late Senator Hoar in the defense of his position.

SENT TO PRISON

Man Guilty of Smuggling Chinese

BOSTON, April 12.—That the schooner Bonita landed 35 Chinamen from Nova Scotia at Marblehead so quietly one summer evening three years ago that the inhabitants of the old fishing town thought the visitors had been on a picnic, was admitted by Goodman Phillips of this city in court today when he pleaded guilty to the charge of smuggling and was sentenced to one year in prison.

MISS O'BRIEN'S RECITAL

The dramatic recital by Miss Lillian O'Brien in Colonial hall, Friday evening, April 16, promises to be the treat of the season. Miss O'Brien is a talented young woman and as a reader has few equals. A most entertaining program has been arranged and undoubtedly Miss O'Brien's friends will be out in large numbers to greet the young reader and enjoy a fine evening's entertainment.

A ROUGH TRIP

PENSACOLA, Fla., April 12.—Unless E. H. Hartman's yacht, Sultan, put into some port as a harbor of refuge, the prominent railroad official's party spent an uncomfortable night and are encountering rough seas in the Gulf. The vessel, bound from Tampa was due in Pensacola last night.

DEATHS

WHALEN.—Mrs. Bridget Whalen, an old resident of Centerville and an esteemed member of St. Michael's parish, died today at the home of her son, St. Colum street. She is survived by her son, P. J. Whalen, and one daughter, Miss Elizabeth Whalen. The funeral will take place Thursday morning from the home of her son at 8.15 o'clock and there will be a high mass of requiem at St. Michael's church at 9 o'clock. Funeral in charge of Undertaker James W. McKenna.

SENATE REPORT

Places New England's Pet Tariff Features In Jeopardy

WASHINGTON, April 12.—The tariff bill as reported to the senate by the finance committee is not entirely satisfactory to members of the New England delegation in congress. Representative McCall before seeing the bill, expressed the strong hope that the senate would not change what he regards as the three best features of the Payne bill. "These features," said Mr. McCall, "are the provision for free hides, free coal and free iron ore." But Mr. McCall now knows that a duty of 25 cents per ton on iron ore is recommended by the finance committee. Free hides, free coal and free wood pulp are questions which the committee left open for the senate. This does not satisfy the New England people. The finance committee would not support these schedules of the Payne bill there is not much chance that they will be adopted by the senate. They merely afford opportunity for senators to trade votes. Representative Threlk and the Maine congressmen say the finance committee should have recommended increased rates of duty on wood pulp and paper, instead of letting the house bill rates go by default. The lumber schedule remains practically the same as when the bill left the house, except that cabinet woods are placed on the free list. It is reported that Senator Hoar of Maine will offer an amendment increasing the duty on

INJURY FATAL

MAN WAS SHOT NEARLY ONE MONTH AGO

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 12.—A bullet fired into his head nearly a month ago during a church row, caused the death last night at the Rhode Island hospital of Nelson Morgan, senior deacon of the Olney Street Baptist church, this city. The shooting on March 16 was the culmination of a long continued hostility between rival factions of the church. Morgan had gone into the church to prepare against an invasion by the minister and opposing faction. Sexton Robert Russell, a member of the faction supporting the minister, tried to get into the church but could not. After arming himself, Russell returned to the church and ordered the door opened. The order was complied with in which two shots were fired by Russell, one of which took effect in Morgan's head, over the left eye.

TEXTILE SCHOOL NEWS

The instructors of the weaving department of the Textile school were ordered to leave the night of the home of Prof. Umpley in Mt. Vernon street. A musical program was carried out during the evening and refreshments were served. Among these present were Prof. and Mrs. Umpley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wainwright, Miss Elsie Umpley, Miss Alice Wilcox and Mr. Alma Wainwright. The National Laundry Machine Co. has presented the school one of its new devices by means of which a bleaching solution is prepared electrically from a solution of common salt.

BOTH RESCUED

BLIND MAN AND AGED WOMAN WERE IN DANGER

BOSTON, April 12.—The lives of more than a dozen persons were endangered by a stubborn fire in the dwelling house, 120 Tremont street, shortly before 2 yesterday morning and several heroic rescues were made by John Dorelli and L. J. who, after assisting his blind father to safety, returned and aided the remainder of the family to escape, and by James Wildes, who with much difficulty got his aged mother to the street.

The fire started from some unknown cause in a restaurant on the ground floor and ate its way through the ceiling to the second floor, where it was above. The damage is estimated at between $500 and $1000. The restaurant is owned by Peter Nikasian.

A full case of Pape's Diapiesin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure the worst case of Dyspepsia, and leave sufficient about the house in case someone else in the family may suffer from Stomach trouble or Indigestion. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these 50 cent cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble, of all you ever have Indigestion or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapiesin. In five minutes. Get a case now and eat one Triangle after your next meal. They are harmless and taste like candy, though each contains powder sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to bed with a hearty, healthy appetite, but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your Stomach and Intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for Bilioousness or Constipation. This city will have many Diapiesin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranks about this splendid stomach prescription, for if you ever have Indigestion or any other Stomach misery, and eat just one Triangle of Diapiesin.

BOSTON COLLEGE FRAUD CHARGED

To be Made a Great John J. Purtell Placed Under Arrest

BOSTON, April 12.—At Boston college yesterday the board of judges who have been considering the plans submitted in the architectural competition for designs of the new group of buildings to be erected on the new Boston college grounds in Newton, announced the winners. There were 12 firms entered, and three prizes were awarded as follows: First prize of $1000, awarded to Magnus & Walsh of Boston for the most general plan of the group of buildings and arrangement of the land. Second prize of $500 for the second best plan of general group, awarded to Edward T. P. Graham of Cambridge. Third prize, awarded to Magnus & Walsh for the best design of the rectory building, the first that was to be erected. For this design the winning firm will be allowed to erect the building.

The judges were Rev. Fr. Thomas J. Gasson S. J., president of the college; Rev. David W. Hearn S. J., vice-pres.; Rev. Joseph T. Keating S. J., Treas.; Rev. J. Havens Richard S. J., Arthur A. Shortell, landscape architect, Charles W. Lodge builder and William D. Austin, architect.

Again Tried to Remove Inspector

LAWRENCE, April 12.—Mayor White vetoed the order to pave Essex street with wooden blocks last night and was sustained unanimously by the aldermen, who then passed an order to pave the street with granite blocks laid in cement. The order will go to the common council for concurrent action. The mayor appointed Charles S. Hall chief engineer of the fire department to succeed Charles G. Rutter, but the aldermen failed to confirm the appointment. Three more attempts were made to oust Building Inspector J. J. Carey. Mayor White appointed George A. Olin and the aldermen confirmed the appointment. The common council, however, failed to confirm. The mayor appointed Michael S. O'Brien. He was confirmed by the aldermen, but rejected in the common council. The mayor then appointed Jeremiah T. Harrigan, who was also confirmed by the aldermen, but was not confirmed in the lower chamber.

RECOVERED FROM A WOMAN IN NASHUA

NASHUA, N. H., April 12.—Through the expeditionary work of the Nashua police last night a wedding ring, belonging to Mrs. Melinda Langlais of Woonsocket, R. I., was recovered from Miss Eva Savagen of Woonsocket, when the latter was going through this city on a Canada-bound train. Shortly before 8.30 Deputy George H. Campbell received a telephone message from Lieut. George of the Woonsocket police, informing him that Mrs. Langlais had lost her wedding ring and that Miss Savagen was suspected. He gave a description of Miss Savagen and stated that she had left Woonsocket for Nashua by way of Worcester, and would take the Canadian train here. It was then within three minutes of the leaving time of the Canadian train.

Deputy Campbell communicated with Patrolman Frank Fletcher, and by description he picked out the woman on the train. At first she pretended that she did not speak English, but when threatened with arrest gave up the ring, which will be sent to the Woonsocket police.

DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER

Talk on the Stomach

The stomach and digestive organs are many times the cause of some disease which might have been prevented if these organs had performed their natural functions, and the great variety of symptoms which arise from a disordered condition of the stomach and liver, cause many people to think that they have some awful disease, the consequence of which is, that they do nothing for their stomach, but doctor for some other trouble. A poor acting stomach and liver will cause headache, backache, nervous troubles, dizziness, eating, bloating, sour stomach, heart pressure, insomnia, loss of flesh, constipation and may other disagreeable feelings. If you are a sufferer of any trouble and your stomach or liver is out of order correct these troubles first, get the benefit of the food you eat, and your other troubles will many times correct themselves. Stomach-Rite, the combined stomach and liver remedy has an unequalled record of many remarkable cures to its credit, and when you need a stomach remedy, get the best, a remedy that gives results, not a remedy that is generated. Thirdly, 50 cent box will quickly convince you the true worth of this medicine. There is nothing just as good, insist on Stomach-Rite. Very truly yours, DOCTOR'S DAUGHTER.

New England Full of Rheumatism

We find that New England is full of rheumatism. While most the people in different parts of the country, who call on our representative, have stomach and liver troubles, yet in New England we find that many who call on him, have rheumatism. Various things cause rheumatism in various people. Here are some of the causes—failure to digest food in the stomach and intestines. The undigested food ferments and putrefies; generating poisons which get into the blood and are deposited at the joints and in the muscles, thus causing the pain which is known as rheumatism. Failure of the liver to secrete enough bile to counteract the effect of indigestion and other disorders. There must be enough bile to keep the system regular, else waste products will accumulate and become poison. Rheumatism is a matter of poison in the system. Failure of the kidneys to act properly. When the kidneys are healthy they remove this poison from the system. There are always a certain number of poisons being created in the system every day and they must be removed every day. The system must be cleansed internally every day just as the body is washed every day, or it will become so dirty that disease will arrive. It is the work of the kidneys to cleanse the system. Whenever for any reason or from any cause, these poisons are generated in the body and are not removed by the kidneys, rheumatism follows. Rheumatism is first merely twinges of pain, dull aches and rather sharp, piercing pains and stiffness of the joints. As rheumatism advances it is accompanied often by neuralgia, severe backache, dropsy and lameness, muddy complexion, sores that will not heal, sick headaches, extreme nervousness, and other symptoms of a system crying out against the poisons which are hurting it.

Kickapoo Sagwa does three things at a time in connection with rheumatism. It gradually expels the poisons which are causing the rheumatic pains, it cures the indigestion and torpidity of the liver which are causing the poisons to be generated. Thirdly, it builds up and strengthens the digestive organs and the liver, and acts as such a tonic and corrective upon the kidneys, that these three organs are restored to health and activity. "I have great faith," writes Mrs. Charles A. Golding of 77 Cleveland Ave., Everett, Mass., in Kickapoo medicine as also did my father. He was in such a position that he could not walk without crutches on account of rheumatism. He took twelve bottles of Kickapoo Indian Sagwa and once more felt and was able to act like a young man. In my home I use Kickapoo Oil. It acts quickly and consequently I have been able to get on my feet. I suffer a great deal with neuralgia and headache, and always find a sure relief in using Kickapoo Oil. My daughter has always suffered from pains in the ankles and elbows to such an extent that she could not sleep at night. Her ankles were swollen to twice their natural size. We had doctors but without relief. I finally thought of Kickapoo Oil and was surprised to find how soon my child went to sleep. After using two bottles of Kickapoo Oil she was well enough to go skating. I shall always praise Kickapoo Oil and Kickapoo Sagwa, and shall be ever thank of keeping house without it. Kickapoo Remedies are for sale at all druggists. If you wish to test Sagwa before purchasing, we will gladly send you a free trial bottle by mail. # "Play Ball" Now the Slogan. Major League Season at Hand. General Outlook of the Teams.

THE arrival of the baseball season has made the fans forget all their troubles of the last few months. Frosted ears, chilblains and roaring northwest winds are now things of the past for six or seven more months at least, and humanity has a chance to get into the warm sunlight to "whoop 'er up" for the home team.

It is interesting at this stage of the campaign to glance over the playing list of the various major league teams to note what men the clubs are depending on in the new makeup.

It is only by considering the abilities of the individual players that the strength and prospects of a team can be ascertained. It won't do to take too seriously the dictum of managers and captains, each of whom has a championship combination at the beginning of the season, at least in his own mind. The fan who determines to disburse a few brilliant remarks about championship possibilities must ferret out his own theories until the time arrives when the percentage of the teams in the record table tells the tale.

The New York Giants appear to be stronger than any other team in the league at present, and based upon the hot fight they made last year with a crippled pitching staff, it must be admitted that they have a pretty strong look-in. On the other hand, close followers of baseball are expecting a break in the Chicago Cubs' long winning streak. It was only by the hardest kind of a finish that the world's champions pulled through last season, only with the aid of a blunder by Merkle of New York.

The Chicago management, however, has not been idle during the winter, and it has made some changes which are expected to strengthen the team where it was growing weak. It the Cubs get any kind of a good start which they did not have last year, they will be just as hard to beat out this year as ever. But New York and Philadelphia proved stumbling blocks to Chicago last year, and as both teams have been considerably strengthened for this year's battle Chicago should have a fight from start to finish. Pittsburgh's chances of improving its position in the race this year depends upon whether Manager Clarke has discovered an unknown phenom in the list of untried material he has on hand. The Pirates can always be expected to put up a hard fight, and they will very likely be somewhere near the front when the season ends.

Despite the known quality of the Chicago team and the boasted strength of the New Yorks, the Phillies still stand out as a team which deserves to be given serious consideration when trying to pick a winner. Last year the Phillies played a most important part in deciding the championship in the National league. They knocked Pittsburgh and Chicago out of first place when these teams were fighting their hardest to hold the lead, and then, through the sensational pitching of Coveleskie, who won three games in five days from the Giants, they robbed New York of what looked to be a sure victory in the pennant race.

All ball teams look like winners to their followers about this time of the year, and it is reasonable to expect that the fans in Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Boston and St. Louis are giving their teams a chance for the pennant. These teams will enter the race under almost identical conditions, each of the four being under the leadership of new managers, all of whom have been stars of the diamond in the past.

It looks like a close race among Bowserman, Lumley, Griffith and Bresnahan for the four positions of the second division.

This lets Chicago, New York, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia in as the most likely candidates for first division positions, and from present conditions it looks as if the National league race this year will be a harder and more interesting one than last. If it does the fans will have plenty to keep them interested.

American League.

In the junior organization it looks like another four cornered fight among the Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago and St. Louis teams, with Cleveland the favorite and Detroit a close second. But two changes have been made in the makeup of last year's pennant winners.

Morlarity takes the place of the veteran Bill Coughlan at third base, and Owen Bush, the Indianapolis wonder, is to cover short position in place of O'Leary. Bush put up a splendid game the last few weeks of the 1908

The backstopping department is stronger this year than last. With the two recruits, Easterly and Land, to help out Bemis and Clarke, the Naps have an excellent chance to capture the banner.

The Chicago Americans without their great leader, Fielder Jones, appear to be weak. While the Sox may be able to get every bit as good a manager as Jones was, they will find it a hard matter to get a man to fill his place as a player.

There never was anything sensational about Jones' playing. He never made any circus catches or drove the ball farther than it had been driven before. He had the faculty always to

Time will show Jones' value to the team. Without him they may not be as great a factor in the race as they were last season, and yet they may get as good a manager as he was.

Admirers of the St. Louis Browns are worried and alarmed over the fact that Jimmy Williams is suffering with rheumatism, and it is decidedly questionable whether he will be able to do his part this season. With Williams out of the game, Manager McAleer will find it tough sledding this year. Williams' work last season, or the greater part of it at least, was nothing short of sensational, and it will not be an easy matter to fill his shoes.

should be forced to remain till it will make a big difference in the team's showing this year.

Of the other four teams Washington looks the strongest. It is the first time since Washington has been represented in the American league that its team attracted so much attention from the other clubs as this year. The managers of the seven other clubs look upon Cantillon's aggregation as a tough proposition to beat and one which may prove a dark horse in the coming race.

Kipling's "Vampire" Dramatized. Hilliard In the Leading Part. "An Englishman's Home" Fails.

The season starts in full blast on April 14, when all sixteen teams are scheduled to play. The games on this date are as follows:
American league—Chicago at De-

(From Our New York Dramatic Correspondent.)
A FOOL THERE WAS, with Robert Hilliard in the chief role, has opened at the Liberty theater, and the production as well as the performance has many points of merit.

By Porter Emerson Browne, the play is a broad dramatic version of "The Vampire" by Rudyard Kipling. Spots here and there are but slightly re-enforced by the dramatist and exhibit weakness, but they are of minor importance, quite overshadowed by the undoubted excellence of the play in the main.

The cast is one of splendid ability. Mr. Hilliard shines prominently in the lead and is aided by William Courtleigh, Nanette Comstock, Edna Conroy, S. K. Walker, Katherine Kaelred and the wee little Emily Wurster.

Hilliard excels in real character work in the last act by his well related but profoundly impressive acting as the pained, drunk crazed victim of the vampire. It is a performance of unique interest and elevates the actor to a higher artistic plane than he has yet occupied.

The faults of the play are that it leaves to the imagination things that ought to be visualized and forestalls and makes ultra obvious things that may be imagined.

The play is given decided strength also by Miss Kaelred as the woman in the case and by Mr. Courtleigh as the loyal friend bent on saving the moral derelict from the last abyss.

"An Englishman's Home" Fails.

How it was that Mr. Charles Frohman came to produce "An Englishman's Home" in this country is an altitudinous mystery, a puzzle as deep as the age of Ann or as the identity of the man who struck Billy Patterson. At the Criterion theater this wondrous tract has been portrayed, and the ushers have had little else to do than match pennies in the deserted aisles. The Frohman staff of "critters" surely was not deceived by the "play" prior to staging it here, and consequently there must be some mystifying reason of state or a matter of policy that dictated its production.

A Bit of Drama's "Inside."

Sometimes a big manager will produce a poor play by a good author because he thus wins the favor of the author, who will probably give the manager "first call" on his next play, which may prove to be a fortune maker. Mr. J. M. Barrie gave Mr. Frohman first call on "Peter Pan" because Mr. Frohman had lost $30,000 on one of Mr. Barrie's plays previously. And the Frohman interests made many times the money with "Peter Pan" than they lost in the failure mentioned. Oh, wise are the ways of wise managers who can afford to exercise wisdom of the aforesaid nature!

But it is improbable that "An Englishman's Home" was produced by Mr. Frohman for any such reason as that described, for Major du Maurier, the author, shows no promise of producing a drama especially valuable for American purposes. Of course there is the contingency that the major was wealthy enough to afford the little luxury of a production at his own expense and agile enough to gain the shelter of the magic name of Frohman for his venture.

The Glory of the Taproom.

It isn't every Englishman of the near author brigade who, even though adorned at least by the title of major, can sit among the backless benches of a London taproom and boast of "av'ring Mr. Chawles Frohman put on one o' muh dra-a-a-mas."

You can bally well bet a B. and S. on that, fellah.

"An Englishman's Home" has an amusing scene satirizing the English national guard and a clever representation of a bombardment. Inherently it is not drama at all, but a theatricalized brochure pointing out to Englishmen the phantom of a German military invasion, the manner of which Major du Maurier has not deemed it necessary to explain.

It is well staged and well played, with William Hawtrev, J. H. Benrims and Nellie Thorne in the cast.

Roy McCordell's Play.

Roy McCordell, the humorist, whose famous stories are still the feature in a New York evening newspaper and which have been read the world over, has turned author and has written a play entitled "The Gay Life," founded on his theatrical stories which describe the adventures of Dopey McKnight and Mama de Brancome and others of their set in the bohemian colony of New York city.

Harrison Grey Flske has accepted "The Gay Life" for production at a Broadway theater. Thomas Thorne has been engaged for the leading role of Dopey McKnight. Consuelo Bailey will play the role of Lulu.

Billie Burke's Return to London.

Although Billie Burke is about to leave these shores to play Jacqueline in "Love Watches" before the male and female army of idolaters that she long ago mustered around her in London, Miss Burke is due to return to America and resume her western tour.

Her return to the British capital as a full fledged star at the head of her own company in the charming "Love Watches" is already the topic of lively speculation. Miss Burke will return "home" with practically the same company that has supported her during her tour this season.

Miss Maude Adams on Tour.

It has been definitely decided that next season Miss Adams will go on a tour over the country in "What Every Woman Knows" instead of as originally intended, reopening at the Empire theater in New York city.

The Dresden Philharmonic orchestra, which was once directed by the great composers Schumann and Wagner, is now conducted by an American, Victor I. Clark, a young musician of great talent, from Indiana. He and Willy Olsen, the associate director with Victor Clark, will bring the Dresden aggregation to America in April for a tour of the principal cities of the United States, opening their tour at the Metropolitan Opera House on April 11. These singers will accompany the orchestra on tour and will alternate. Other soloists will accompany the orchestra, which will include Albert Spalding, violinist; Germaine Schmitzer, the pianist; Lawson, tenor; Lechard, basso; Hastings, baritone. Caruso and Fremstad are also to give concerts in conjunction with this orchestra, having been engaged by R. E. Johnston as a special feature for some of the cities.

A NEW BUILDING

Y. M. C. A. Starts Movement for a New Structure

At the annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. held last evening a committee was appointed to look up plans for a new building campaign and report back to the board of directors. This was the first official act of the association toward securing a new home.

During the discussion that had to do with the needs of the association it was pointed out that the present building is sadly in need of repairs that will cost considerable. If the repairs are made the association has still nothing but an old building and the growth of the association demands attention. A fine gymnasium is essential and present plans are that the building shall include several suites of dormitories.

As a nucleus to the building fund the association has $3000 on hand, $2500 of this is the Tibbets bequest. The new building will be erected on the land now owned by the association and will cost somewhere in the vicinity of $75,000 or $100,000.

Nearly all of the old officers were re-elected at last night's meeting. The most important change is the addition of the name of John J. Rogers to the board of directors, which consists of the following: W. H. Neale, Craven, W. H. Hoyt, M. J. Clay, and John J. Rogers. They are to serve for three years. A. D. Carter and S. H. Thompson were elected trustees for five years, and W. H. G. Wright was elected clerk of the corporation.

The report of the treasurer shows that all bills have been paid, and there is a balance of $240 in the treasury.

The association holds $10,000 in trust funds.

The report of the gymnasium committee shows that there have been 583 classes held during the year, with a total attendance of 2364 men. Outside of these classes, 2201 have used the gymnasium. There have been 3941 men taken during the year.

Eleven civil service classes for firemen and policemen have been held during the year, with a total attendance of 93. Forty examinations have been taken, for which special work has been prescribed. The association has held 24 basketball games, with a total attendance of 1900. Three athletic meets have been held, and one great track meet on the South common, with 40 entries.

The report of the committee on religious work shows a very successful campaign, conducted at the Hathaway theatre, each Sunday from Nov. 15, 1908 to March 21, 1909. Many good speakers have been present as well as other attractions, and the average attendance at the meetings has been 730. The course has cost $1102.43, and the collections have amounted to $559.03. Owing to the generosity of friends, however, the general treasury has been called upon for less than $350. The committee states that this work has been most profitable, and that it is doing an immense amount of good.

The report of the boys' work as submitted by T. R. Williams is a very interesting one. All of the reports were very satisfactory to the directors and the outlook for the future is quite rosy.

WRESTLING BOUT

Gotch and Mahomet to Meet Wednesday Night

CHICAGO, April 13.—There will be no moving pictures of the championship wrestling tomorrow night between Gotch and Mahomet. Gotch has not only refused to accept $2000 for his end of the privilege, but has said that he will not permit pictures to be taken at all.

He claims that the intense heat under the mercury lights causes a terrible strain on the men who have to grapple beneath them. Wrestlers and followers of the game are arriving from the Pacific coast who have already met Gotch will be at the ringside to challenge the winner. Ernest Siegrist, "the German oak" will be presented by Martin Julian. He also wants to take on the victor.

"American" Gus Schoenlein is known, also is here.

Doc Hottum of Memphis is one of the promoters who will be on the scene. Horace Lorch, former manager of Gotch, got in town and said that a big delegation was coming from Buffalo, Minneapolis, Milwaukee and St. Paul. Parties have made heavy reservations and Cland Johnson and W. Scoville are bringing a party of nearly three hundred from Kansas City.

Yesterday's seat sale exceeded the $10,000 mark. Referee Ed. Smith has explained several points in the rules to the principals, dwelling on the necessity of avoiding rough work in wrestling which will be barred by the police hereafter, just as if the game was prize-fighting. This decision has followed the recent bout between Lepardello and Galloni, who showed a desire to "mix things" and came to blows three times in rapid succession. The referee was a draw, then then sent but the authorities noticed the infraction of rules and have acted accordingly.

The report explains that the financial disturbance in the United States completely disorganized western third-class traffic, the number of third-class passengers landed in the United States in 1908 being only 33,500, as compared with 1,116,000 in 1907.

After taking $500,000 from the insurance fund and $250,000 from the reserve fund to pay the interest on debentures and other obligations, the small balance of $17,910 was carried to the credit of the 1909 accounts.

The report announces that the Lusitania and Mauretania amply fulfilled the obligations to the government, and that the company carried out its liability to the government by the payment of $650,000 to the redemption fund. A tentative agreement has been concluded with the lines engaged in Mediterranean third-class traffic, which it is hoped, will place this business on a more profitable basis.

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

"Graustark" or "A Love Behind a Throne," a dramatization of George McCutcheon's novel of the same name, was the attraction last evening at the Opera House. The performance last night was the opening one of a three days' engagement and judging from the manner in which it was received by the audience the remaining productions will be well patronized and appreciated.

The cast of characters, which is quite capable, follows:

Grenfell Lorry..... Geo. D. Baker
Harry Anguish..... Milton Nobles, Jr.
Baron Bangs..... Frank McLean
Gabriel, Prince of Danesbergen, Ariadne Lohrenz, Prince of Asphain.
Seltzer Romoine
John Renmark
Prince Lorenzo..... Harry Kennedy
Sitsky..... Chas. E. Howson
Ostrum..... Fred McGuirk
Darius..... Frank McLean
Albino..... Greta F. McGuire
Bassano..... J. McGinnis
Yerdos..... Archie Dowling
Gaspard..... Robert Wier
Teel..... Lena Arland
Countess Yvonne..... Mildred Claire
Countess Dagmar..... Grace Campbell
Thelma..... Ariadne Lohrenz
Yelive..... Niola Fortescue

The piece tells the story of an ideal American "Grenfell Lorry," who met Princess Yelive of Graustark on her visit to America and fell in love with her. He was ignorant of her rank, thinking she was but an ordinary woman. She departed from this country and he decided to follow her to the end of the world. He goes to Graustark, finds her and after several exciting experiences he eventually wins out. He plays his part in a clever manner. Another character which deserves special mention is that of "Baron Bangs," which is played capably by Atkins Lawrence. The play is of great romantic interest and is sure to please all lovers of romance. It will be repeated tonight and tomorrow afternoon and evening.

"MR. HAMLET OF BROADWAY"
See Eddie Foy and laugh! It is pretty well known by this time that these two propositions are indissolubly linked. Probably one of the best exemplifications of Mr. Foy's popularity and fun-making ability is that a great many comedians, so-called, on the stage today make a very good living out of imitating him, or to be absolutely correct, by calling what they do imitations. While it is a truism that imitation is the sincerest flattery, that sort of thing doesn't do very well when it comes to entertaining an audience, and so, as there is only one Eddie Foy, it may be said with equal truth that there is no comedian with his unctuousness and mirth-compelling possibilities on the American stage today.

There probably never was a comedian who didn't think a tragedy was his forte. It is said of Edwin Forrest that he had many unhappy moments because he was not fitted to be a clown, so it is not at all strange that Foy aspires to play Hamlet, and in "Mr. Hamlet of Broadway," which the Messrs. Schubert bring to the opera house, Thursday, April 15, Mr. Foy is given an opportunity to at least show that he can look Hamlet, even if he does not play it in the manner in which the universal bard intended it should be played.

"THE WITCHING HOUR"
"The Witching Hour," Augustus Thompson's beautiful drama of telepathy, direct from its run of more than a year at the Haymarket theatre, New York, is a forthcoming local attraction. There are adopted sons, one hailing from South Africa and the other from Kentucky, who do some very pretty and very risky tumbling the kind that makes you hold your breath and wonder how they do it and delights you after it is done. The act includes a pretty Persian Angora cat that has a little something to do and does it well.

Of course the patrons of this cozy playhouse who go there afterwards to see week have something on those who attend in the evening. There are ten children from the Dorothea Dix Hall, Boston, who perform during the afternoon and they are just as clever as they can be.

Mae Melville and Robert Higgins are here again. Just little fun and as entertainers they don't have to take a back seat for anybody. Mae Melville has a funny little way of her own and what she says about the leanness and the thinness of her partner may be a bit personal, but it's rich just the same. Higgins is about as thin as is spoken of in the book of Genesis and when he looks narrower than ever. But let it be known right here and now that Robert Higgins supplies his share of the fun. They're a clever pair.

O'Brien and Havel, with their familiar "Ticks and Clicks," will create plenty of laughter. Miss Bessie Kay, strong and will be well worth seeing as they always are. The programs will consist of four reels of new moving pictures, pictures that have just been released by the film manufacturer and which are thrown on the screen at the Academy for the first time in public. These have been previously inspected by the management and are the choice out of a large selection. Only the best are to be seen at the Academy. That's the rule without variation. Interpersed with the pictures are two illustrated songs rendered by two talented soloists also new to the Academy stage and new to the eyes of the world. There is nothing old or nothing second hand in an Academy program. The price of admission is but five cents and that includes a good seat and there are plenty of good seats for the Academy has the largest seating capacity of any moving picture theatre in this city. There are few reserved seats at five cents extra. The shows run from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10:30 with a continuous performance on Saturday from 2 to 10:30.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC
In accordance with the unusual fineness of all Easter celebrations, the Academy of Music, which is especially strong and will be well worth seeing as they always are. The programs will consist of four reels of new moving pictures, pictures that have just been released by the film manufacturer and which are thrown on the screen at the Academy for the first time in public. These have been previously inspected by the management and are the choice out of a large selection. Only the best are to be seen at the Academy. That's the rule without variation. There are few reserved seats at five cents extra. The shows run from 2 to 5 and 7 to 10:30 with a continuous performance on Saturday from 2 to 10:30.

STAR THEATRE
It is the biggest and best show in Lowell for five cents at all times at the Star theatre, but this week's show is of unusual excellence. A great baseball song, "Fan, Fan, Fan," is being rendered by the singing orchestra, to which a cornet player has been added. The orchestra now consists of four pieces, which no other picture house in the city can boast of. "The Poor Musician" is the talking picture. Hear the violin. There are new songs and new motion pictures.

Amateurs are slated to appear tonight. It is expected that there will be a large number. The admission entitles patrons to seats.

THEATRE VOYONS
Yesterday's new program at the Theatre Voyons pleased extremely. It was perfect in quality and variety. The best western picture, for some time, "A Tale of the West," has suited those who prefer these kind of sensational pictures. Its story is interesting, quite plausible and well staged and acted. "On the Banks of the River," tells a charming romance of the Alps and tells it well. The best American comedian now under engagement of the Biograph company is the principal feature of "Kiddie's Anti-Noise Crusade," and he makes many laughs. "Inviting the Boss to Dinner," is a clever and interesting comedy, while both the songs are pleasing.

TO WED JAPANESE
LOS ANGELES, April 13.—The engagement is announced of Miss Kate Goodman, an American mission worker among Japanese women and children in and around this city, and Rev. Joseph Inazawa, pastor of the Japanese Presbyterian mission.

Inazawa is well educated and Americanized. For more than twenty years he has been engaged in missionary work on the Pacific coast with headquarters in San Francisco. Miss Goodman for many years has been a worker among the Japanese and has studied their language with the intention of going to Japan as a missionary. She is well educated and highly connected. Each is about 45 years of age.

HATHAWAY THEATRE
You can look the whole world in the face and say a good word for the show at Hathaway's theatre this week. Willy Davis and his troupe of four performers are at the head of the list and they belong there. They are acrobatic performers, but they have a style of their own that puts them in a class by themselves. Panzer, of course, is the "main squeeze" but he has two several "The Witching Hour" companies on tour—John Mason's remarkable New York run in the play making an immediate demand for the attraction in all parts of the country—but the Messrs. Schubert assure us the company to be seen here is composed of Mr. Mason's original Haymarket theatre support, and Mr. Mason himself will play his original part.

"THE OLD HOMESTEAD"
Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" is certainly as potent a drawing card as any that could be offered in the theatre world and the popularity of this perennial favorite seems greater, if possible, this season than ever.

"FATHER AND THE BOYS"
On April 21st at the opera house Charles Frohman will present W. H. Crane in George Ade's comedy entitled "Father and the Boys," a piece which has undoubtedly brought to its chief interpreter and its author a great deal of popularity. It was a big success last season, is duplicating that success the present season, and it bids fair to appeal to large audiences for seasons to come. Among its records is a four months' run at the Empire theatre, New York, and it comes here direct from crowded houses at the Park theatre, Boston. Mr. Crane has a capital congenial role in it, fully up to the delicate part he presented in "David Harum" while Mr. Ade in his dialogue and comic situations, has surpassed "The College Widow," "The Country Chairman," and all his other efforts. Mr. Crane's part, it ought to be said, is not the whole play, and he will have an excellent company to assist in his fun making. The production in this city will be identical in every respect with that given by Mr. Crane for four months at the Empire theatre, New York.

14 YEAR OLD BOY THE RAILROADS

Says He Ran Away Said to Have Lost $330,000,000

BOSTON, April 13.—A 14-year-old boy who ran away from his home because of infatuation for an actress, spent most of the day Monday in police station 2, dejected but not repentant.

Richard Malenon, the 14-year-old boy who has been missing from his home in Essex since Saturday, March 12, told the following story to a reporter.

"I met Miss May Sheldon while she was playing in Gloucester, and promised her that I would come to Boston and see her. I have up $5 and left Essex Saturday night, March 13, and came to Boston.

"Arriving in Boston I took a room at 39 Howard street paying $1.50 for it, and paying also $1.10 for my meals for the week. Here I met Miss Sheldon and had a great time seeing Boston and taking in the shows at the vaudeville theatres.

"I did not like to play in the theatres all the time, so I went down to the wharf on Atlantic avenue, and asked the cook of the schooner Conqueror to take me as galley boy on the trip that they were about to make. He took me and paid me $20 for the trip to the Georges Banks Fishing Grounds. I was sick most all of the two weeks that this trip covered, and was looked after by the cook, who treated me just as good as my father and mother could have done.

"When I came back to Boston, I put $15 of the $20 in a bank, which one I do not remember, and gave the bank-book to a girl friend, Louise Stevens, but I do not know where she is now. Miss Sheldon and I then went to Washington, D. C., where she had to play at the Olympia theatre, and we stayed there three days.

"When I came back from Washington I went to Hotel Rexford to live, and spent the days in the Nickleodeon museum on Hanover street, where Miss Sheldon is now playing. Officer Jones, the special policeman at this museum, learned my name and recognized me through some photographs published in the newspapers, and after a lot of arguing with the girls who did not want to let him take me away, he took me to the station here, where the officers treated me nicely and let me go out and have dinner in a restaurant.

"I am sorry to have to leave all the girls, because they treated me well and gave me all the money I wanted, especially Miss Sheldon, who told me that she was going to make me the manager of a new theatre that she said they were building for her in Jamaica Plain. But I shall be very glad to see my father and mother, whom I have not seen for a month. I am sorry for Officer Jones, who took me here, because the manager said he was going to discharge him for interfering with the girls."

BOLD ATTEMPT TO LOOT THE POSTOFFICE AT ARCTIC, R. I.

ARCTIC, R. I., April 13.—An attempt to loot the postoffice safe during the night proved unsuccessful, the robbers evidently having been frightened away before they had an opportunity to blow off the safe door. The men had made elaborate preparations for the explosion. The doors leading to the compartments above were fastened with wires. Two barrels filled with blankets were found together with a number of tools. The door of the safe had been battered.

MANILA, April 13.—The partly recently sent out by the government to investigate the circumstances connected with the murder by Iliongote tribesmen of Dr. William Jones, the anthropologist connected with the Columbian museum in Chicago, has recovered the valuable collection made by the scientist during his two years' stay among the wild men of the interior. The specimens will be sent to the institution in Chicago.

It appears that Dr. Jones had been warned of danger and had started to leave the country where he had been studying the natives at close range. He returned to the headquarters of the Cayagan river to obtain boats in which to carry his collection down the river and unwittingly crossed the deadline that had been established by hostile Iliongotes. He was met by a party of warriors who offered him a dish of fish as a token of defiance in accordance with the tribal custom. Not suspecting that he was accepting their challenge by so doing, he ate the fish and was attacked immediately. The warriors wounded him many times with their spears, but he managed to fight them off with his revolver until he reached a boat in which he escaped. Mr. Jones was seriously wounded, however, that he died nine hours later and his body was rescued from the river by friendly Iliongotes. A native servant also was attacked at the same time, but escaped unhurt, saving the scientist's revolver.

WELL KNOWN LECTURER AND WRITER DEAD
NEW YORK, April 13.—Miss Carolina Holman Huidobro, the well known lecturer and writer on South American subjects, died here of heart disease today in her apartments at the Hotel Clarendon. She was 42 years old and the daughter of Mrs. Marion Holman of Boston, widow of a United States consular agent, who was in Valparaiso, Chile, when Miss Holman was born. She chose the name Huidobro as a baptismal name and went to Boston to complete her education when 17. When her education was completed she returned to Valparaiso and stayed there until 15 years ago. She traveled extensively through South America, and Panama, and is said to have explored regions in which no Caucasian woman had ever set foot.

COUNTESS PLEADS FOR FRIEND OF HER HUSBAND COUNT TOLSTOY
PARIS, April 13.—Taking from the shoulders of her aged husband the burden of her aged husband, the Countess Tolstoy, wife of Leo Tolstoy, has started a campaign to prevent the expulsion from Russia of Vladimir Achertoff, her husband's literary representative, friend and follower.

STORM WARNING
BOSTON, April 13.—The local weather bureau today issued the following storm warning: Southwest warnings, Portsmouth to New Haven, are continued.
